Resolved, That copies of this resolution be furnished to the Senators representing the Mother Lode section for such publication as they may see fit, and that the resolution be printed in the Journal.

Resolution read and adopted.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT AFFECTING COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

On motion of Senator Slater the following decision of the Supreme Court was ordered printed in the Journal:

S. F. No. 10513. In Bank. March 21, 1923.

CHARLES L. WINES, Petitioner, vs. E. F. GARRISON, as Auditor of the County of Alameda, Respondent.

Application for writ of mandate prayed to be directed to respondent, as Auditor of Alameda County, requiring him to audit demand of petitioner, as Deputy Superintendent of Schools. Writ denied.

For Petitioner—Fitzgerald, Abbott & Beardsley.

For Respondent—Ezra W. Decoto, Frank Mitchell, Jr.

This is an original application for a writ of mandamus. Charles L. Wines, the petitioner, is a deputy in the office of the superintendent of schools of Alameda County. When the superintendent of schools began his term on January 6, 1919, he was allowed an assistant, a chief deputy and an additional deputy, but in 1921 the Legislature allowed the superintendent of schools an additional deputy. The petitioner fills the position thus created for the first time by the Legislature of 1921, his petition, he says, "involves the right of the Legislature to increase the number of deputies allowed to a county officer, who at the commencement of his term has a fixed salary and deputies paid by the county."

This question was determined adversely to the contention of the petitioner in the recent case of Forward vs. County of San Diego, 64 Cal. Dec. 362, 269 Pac. 993. The decision was by the court in bank and a petition for rehearing was denied, after due consideration.

The petitioner seeks to have us overrule this decision, claiming that we have therein given an erroneous construction to section 4290 of the Political Code. He also contends that the matter is of very great importance to counties and county officers, and for that reason prays a careful reconsideration of the matter.

We have therefore again considered the question which is presented by the petitioner. The respondent makes no argument and presents no brief.

We will not undertake to follow the argument of the petitioner in detail. Suffice it to say that the petitioner contends that the question involved here is not one of constitutional law but primarily one of statutory interpretation, and that section 4290 of the Political Code in the light of its legislative history beginning with the enactment of the first County Government Act in 1883 down to date shows that the provisions of section 4290, Political Code, do not apply to Alameda County wherein the Legislature has provided for deputies to be paid directly from the county treasury. This legislation originally was in the form of a separate act known as the County Government Act and in 1907 was for the first time incorporated in the Political Code, sections 4000 to 4235, inclusive (Stats. 1907, pp. 354-558). We will, therefore, use the expression "County Government Act" and "Political Code" indifferently throughout this opinion in referring to the provisions of the statute controlling the salaries of county officers. The first clause of section 4290, Political Code, reads as follows: "The salaries and fees provided in this title shall be in full compensation for all services of every kind and description rendered by the officers named in this title either as officers or ex officio officers, their deputies and assistants, unless in this title otherwise provided, and all deputies employed shall be paid by their principals out of the salaries provided in this title, unless in this title otherwise provided * * *"

As we construed this section in Forward vs. County of San Diego, supra, the phrase "unless in this title otherwise provided" referred to the provisions made for the payment of deputies in the County Government Act and we held that where assistants were appointed who were not specifically provided for in the County Government Act, they could not be paid from the county treasury, but must be paid by the officer, if paid at all. Consequently, it followed under numerous prior decisions of this court that where the Legislature relieved the officer of that necessity by making the salary of the deputy payable by the county, it, to that extent, ipso facto increased his salary.

The argument now advanced to support a different conclusion is substantially as follows: The phrase "unless in this title otherwise provided" in section 4290, Political Code, in the light of the history of the section applies to those counties such as Alameda County, wherein provision is made for the payment of deputies by the county instead of by the county officers. Consequently, it is urged that where under the code a county officer is allowed any deputy payable from the county treasury, in his case it is "otherwise provided" in the title and consequently the requirement in the section that the officer must pay such deputy does not apply and therefore the Legislature may provide for an additional deputy who may also be paid from the county treasury without increasing the compensation of the officer.

It is true in one sense that this is a question of statutory construction, but it is also true that every statute must be construed in the light of the constitutional restrictions upon the power of the Legislature so that it is necessary to consider those constitutional provisions in arriving at the proper interpretation of the statute.

Petitioner's argument proceeds somewhat in this fashion. Section 164 of the County Government Act of 1883 (Stats. 1883, p. 361) provided as follows:

"The salaries and fees provided for in this act shall be in full compensation for all services of every kind and description rendered by the officers therein named, their deputies, and assistants; and all deputies employed shall be paid by their principals, out of the salaries hereinbefore provided: * * *" Subdivision 15 of this act, page 239, in providing for salaries of the seventh class provided that a limited number of deputies should be paid salaries from the county. It is pointed out that this provision in section 164 is inconsistent with the one providing for the payment of deputies by the county itself and, therefore, the argument is that section 164 was intended to apply only to counties in which a lump sum was fixed as the salary of the officer, and not to counties where the county pays the deputies directly.

The petitioner's argument proceeds upon the theory that there are two classes of counties in the County Government Act, one in which the county officers are paid a lump sum and the other in which the deputies are paid directly by the county and presumptively the amount allowed to the county officer is for his own personal services. This position cannot be maintained under the previous decisions of this court. The County Government Act never has used the phrase "a lump sum" and this nomenclature was introduced into our legal literature in connection with the alleged unconstitutionality of the County Government Act in providing in some counties for deputies to be paid by the county and in others that all deputies should be paid by the principal, it being contended that this differentiation destroyed the uniformity of county government required by the constitution (Tulare County vs. Man, 118 Cal. 303).

The question involved in the case at bar was decided against the petitioner, in principle at least, in 1892 in the case of Dougherty vs. Austin, 94 Cal. 601.

Section 164 of the County Government Act of 1883 (Stats. 1883, p. 361) was renumbered as section 211 (Stats. 1885, p. 194) and was amended in 1887 (Stats. 1887, p. 207). By this amendment a proviso was inserted after the above quoted language as follows: "and provided further, that whenever, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, the salary of any county officer in the third, fourth, fifth, twelfth, thirteenth, fifteenth, twentieth, twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-sixth, twenty-ninth, thirty-second, thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth and forty-first classes, as fixed and provided in this act, is insufficient to pay a reasonable compensation for the services required to be performed, the said board shall allow such officer a deputy, or such number of deputies, as in their judgment may be required to do the business of such office, in connection with the principal, at a salary not to exceed one hundred dollars per month, to be paid at the times and in the manner that said principal is paid; * * *

The effect of these provisions was considered in the case of Dougherty vs. Austin, 94 Cal. 601, decided in May, 1892. Upon the original hearing it was held that this provision of the law violated article XI, section 9 of the constitution prohibiting an increase of salary during the term of office. Owing to the importance of the matter a rehearing was granted, the same was carefully considered and the court reaffirmed its original conclusion. In the original opinion it was said (page 611):

"The sum allowed to any given officer being a lump sum out of which he must pay for the services of all deputies and assistants necessary for the prompt and faithful discharge of all the duties of the office, it is evident that his own compensation consists of the residue remaining after payment of such deputies and assistants; and it is equally evident that just so far as the county assumes the payment of such deputies and assistants, such residue is enlarged and the compensation increased."

It was thus early established that the allowance of additional deputies to be paid by the county to an officer who was receiving a lump sum under the County Government Act, and who was by the provisions of section 211 of the County Government Act required to pay all deputies and assistants from such salary, was unconstitutional because it increased the salary of the officer. This view has ever since been consistently adhered to by this court and in the late case of County of Santa Barbara vs. Janssens, 177 Cal. 114, decided December 31, 1917, although the legislature by enacting a new section of the Penal Code (sec. 1616) required the sheriff of every county to appoint a matron for the women's department of the county jail, it was held that the sheriff was required to pay such matron (Humiston vs. Shaffer, 145 Cal. 195).

In Welsh vs. Bramlet, 98 Cal. 219, it was held that an allowance of an assistant district attorney to the district attorney of Fresno County after his election to office was unconstitutional as being a violation of article XI, section 9, prohibiting an increase of salary to an officer during his term of office. It was also held that the provision of the statute authorizing the district attorney to appoint an assistant to be paid by Fresno County, when the district attorneys of other counties could not do so, was a violation of the constitutional provision requiring uniformity in county governments. The decision on this latter point was followed in Walser vs. Austin, 104 Cal. 128 (decided September, 1894), and in Farnum vs. Warner, 104 Cal. 677.

The serious consequences of these last three decisions resulted from the fact that if the law was not uniform, the entire County Government Act, at least as to salaries, was void. Indeed, it was claimed to be void in Pulare County vs. May, 118 Cal. 303 (decided September, 1897). The court there declined to follow and overruled the prior decision in Welsh vs. Bramlet, supra, and Walser vs. Austin, supra, and also the decision in Farnum vs. Warner, supra, to the effect that there were two systems provided for in the County Government Act for the payment of deputies, and that it was therefore void for lack of uniformity. The court there held that a scheme of county government by which in some counties or classes of counties the deputies were paid directly from the county treasury, where in others they were not so paid, was nevertheless a uniform system of county government and for that reason did not violate the provisions of article I, section 11, or article IV, section 25, subdivision 28 of the constitution, requiring such uniformity.

It is important to the point under consideration, however, to recognize the basis upon which the court overruled Welsh vs. Bramlet, supra, Walser vs. Austin, supra, Farnum vs. Warner, supra, and held that the County Government Act with these two distinct systems of paying deputies was a uniform system and complied with article XI, sections 4 and 5 of the constitution with reference to the duty of the Legislature in the establishment of county governments. In order to appreciate the force of this decision it will be necessary to quote from it extensively:

"To allow county officers to appoint deputies whose fixed salaries are to be paid out of the county treasury is, of course, unobjectionable so far as the mere power to appoint deputies is concerned, for by section 61 (Stats. 1893, p. 367) these same officers are authorized to appoint as many deputies as a prompt discharge of the duties of their respective offices may require, and this general authorization embraces all of the special authority conferred by the clauses of section 173 above quoted. [Sec. 173 is the section fixing the compensation of officers in counties of the eleventh class and allowing certain deputies to be paid from the county treasury.] That is to say, these officers may, under section 61, appoint the same deputies that they are allowed to appoint under section 173, and they are not obliged under either section to appoint any more deputies than a prompt discharge of the duties of the office may require. These sections do not destroy the uniformity of the law, nor do they introduce any special regulation in counties of the eleventh class. So far as the power to appoint deputies is concerned the rule is general and uniform throughout the State, and that rule is that such county officers as are allowed to act by deputy may everywhere appoint as many deputies as a prompt discharge of their official duties demands. But this, as I am fully aware, does not meet the objection of appellant, which is that in this instance the officers are allowed to appoint deputies whose salaries are to be paid out of the county treasury. This objection would be more serious, it seems to me, if the law contemplated the payment of salaries of deputies from any other source. But it does not.

"There are two rules for the compensation of deputies in the different counties of the State. In most of the classes a lump sum is allowed to the principal, out of which he is required to pay his deputies; in a smaller number of classes—including the eleventh—the principal is allowed a fixed salary, and certain deputies are allowed fixed salaries, but in both cases the salaries of all are by the express terms of the statute, to be paid out of the county treasury. The whole question, therefore, resolves itself into this: Can the Legislature establish one rule of compensation of deputies in one class of counties, and a different rule in another class of counties? I can see no constitutional objection to such an exercise of power. Under either rule a compensation proportionate to duties may be secured; and for the purpose of securing such compensation a division of counties into classes is expressly authorized, and, when a statute or a provision of a statute has no other object or effect than to regulate compensation of officers, the provision or statute is uniform and general if it applies equally to all the counties of any class, no matter which of the two rules above referred to is followed."

The argument of the court in sustaining the uniformity of the County Government Act is substantially this: In all counties all deputies are in effect paid from the county treasury. It does not destroy the uniformity of the County Government Act to pay some of these deputies directly from the county treasury, while in other counties the money passes through the hands of the officer to the deputy. It is obvious that this argument leads to the conclusion that in both counties additional deputies are to be paid by the officer from his own compensation. Otherwise, we at once have the uniformity of the system destroyed because we have two different classes of counties, in one the Legislature may from time to time give additional deputies to the officers without violating the constitutional inhibition and without increase of compensation, while in others it cannot. We called attention to this situation in Forward vs. County of San Diego, supra.

In San Francisco vs. Broderick, 125 Cal. 188, the Supreme Court had under consideration the question of the payment of deputies by the county clerk of the city and county of San Francisco. It was contended that certain deputies appointed by the county clerk should be paid under the provisions of certain acts of the Legislature applicable to the county of San Francisco alone. In that case the court pointed out the fact that there are two plans or schemes provided in the County Government Act for the payment of the deputies. It cited section 216 (Stats. 1893, p. 507; Stats. 1897, p. 215) which corresponds to section 164 of the County Government Act of 1893 and section 211 of the amendments of 1897 and section 4290 of the Political Code. In answer to the contention that the county clerk of the city and county of San Francisco could appoint deputies whose salaries would be a charge upon the county government under the provisions of the act of 1880 (Stats. 1880, p. 5, and Stats. 1891, p. 5) the court said: "The county clerk of the city and county of San Francisco by the act of February 13, 1880 (Stats. 1880, p. 5), is given a fixed salary, and is allowed a fixed number of deputies and assistants, whose compensation is a charge upon the treasury. He has the power under section 61 of the County Government Act to appoint additional deputies and assistants if the needs of his office so require, but in the present condition of the law the compensation of these extra assistants and deputies must be paid for by himself."

As we understand this decision it holds that notwithstanding the fact that the city and county of San Francisco was of a class in which the principal officer was allowed certain deputies, that he was required under the provisions of section 216 of the County Government Act of 1893 to pay any additional deputies and assistants himself. This is a complete answer to the contention of the petitioner that section 216 or its successor (Pol. Code, Sec. 4290) does not apply to counties of the class in which a county officer is allowed paid deputies. If in such counties the county officer was required to pay all deputies in addition to those provided by law, it follows that any statutory scheme by which he is relieved of that responsibility is to that extent an increase of his salary within the meaning of the constitution. This squarely brings such counties within the rule announced in Welsh vs. Bramlet, supra, and Dougherty vs. Austin, supra.

In County of Calaveras vs. Poe, 167 Cal. 519, it was held to be the fixed and settled law of this State that the allowance of a deputy to an officer who had theretofore received a gross sum to cover his compensation and the expenses of his office was a violation of the constitution if made during his term of office (citing Dougherty vs. Austin, supra; Hamiston vs. Shaffer, 145 Cal. 195; Elder vs. Garry, 19 Cal. App. 776; Hanson vs. Underhill, 12 Cal. App. 546, and Appelstall vs. Garry, 18 Cal. App. 387). This was the only point involved in the case, for in that instance the officer was allowed a gross sum. The court proceeded, however, to say:

"Where the statute provides a fixed salary for an officer and fixed salaries for deputies, all payable out of the county treasury, a subsequent law increasing the compensation of the deputies or their number will take effect at once. (Tulare County vs. May, 118 Cal. 304 [50 Pac. 427]; Newman vs. Lester, 11 Cal. App. 577

[105 Pac. 785.] " This statement was obiter dicta and is not supported by Tulare County vs. May, supra, and is clearly incorrect for the reasons we have hereinbefore stated, namely, that in every county all assistants and deputies not specifically provided for by an award of compensation in the statute are to be paid by the officer himself and, therefore, to pay them from the county treasury would be an increase of compensation in violation of the constitution where such allowance is made during his term of office.

We have thus far dealt with the proposition advanced by the petitioner that section 4290 of the Political Code did not justify the conclusion that its language was applicable to counties in which deputies were provided and authorized to be paid directly from the treasury by the County Government Act. But other considerations lead to the same conclusion. In order that public funds may be expended it is essential that such expenditure be authorized by law, as was said by this court in Irwin vs. County of Yuba, 119 Cal. 686, 690: " * * * whenever the courts have been appealed to in these cases, they have uniformly held to the only safe rule—that public officers and municipal boards must keep within the limits of their power as prescribed by law; * * * Nothing is better settled than that a person who accepts an office with compensation fixed by law is bound to perform the duties for the compensation. Mr. Dillon in his Municipal Corporations, section 233, speaking of this rule, says: 'The rule is of importance to the public. To allow changes and additions in the duties properly belonging or which may properly be attached to an office to lay the foundation for extra compensation, would soon introduce intolerable mischief. The rule, too, should be very rigidly enforced. The statutes of the Legislature and the ordinances of our municipal corporations seldom prescribe with much detail and particularly the duties annexed to public offices; and it requires but little ingenuity to run nice distinctions between what duties may, and what may not, be considered strictly official; and if these distinctions are much favored by the courts of justice it may lead to great abuse.' Again, the same author says (section 234): 'Not only has an officer, under such circumstances no legal claim for extra compensation, but a promise to pay him an extra fee or sum, beyond that fixed by law, is not binding, though he renders services and exercises a degree of diligence greater than could legally have been expected of him.' " Hence, unless the statute expressly authorizes the payment of deputies from the county treasury they can not be so paid. By section 59 of the County Government Act, above quoted, and the corresponding section of the Political Code (Sec. 4024) the officer has the authority to appoint as many deputies and assistants as may be necessary to enable him to perform the duties of his office. This would be the rule without any statutory authority. (Taylor vs. Brown, 4 Cal. 188; Jobson vs. Fennell, 35 Cal. 711.) These deputies, however, can not be paid from the public treasury unless some express provision is made for such payment.

If it is conceded, as it must be under the authorities above quoted, that to prevent the inevitable decrease of the officer's salary due to payments necessary to be made by such officer to a necessary deputy by authorizing the county to pay such deputy, is an increase of the salary of the officer within the meaning of the constitutional inhibition against increasing the salary of an officer during his term of office, then it must follow that without the express statutory declaration in section 4290 of the Political Code, requiring the officer to pay all additional deputies not otherwise provided for, that a statute passed during his term of office authorizing the payment of such additional deputy from the county treasury is an increase of salary within the meaning of the constitutional provision, no matter whether the officer was originally paid a lump sum, or was, in addition to his own compensation, allowed a certain number of deputies paid by the county. If there is an error in this process of reasoning it arises from the conclusion long ago arrived at by this court that to prevent an inevitable decrease of salary is an increase of compensation within the meaning of the constitution. This question has been too long settled in this State to justify its reconsideration.

The petition is denied.

"Section nine of an act entitled 'An act to define real estate brokers and salesmen; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to create a state real estate department and the office of real estate commissioner; to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled 'An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner; and making an appropriation therefor,' approved June 1, 1917, and all acts or parts inconsistent with the provisions of this act,' approved May, 27, 1919, as amended,' is hereby amended to read as follows, to wit:

Application for license as real estate broker shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, which application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of the county in which such applicant resides or has his place of business, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation, and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. If the applicant shall have resided, or shall have engaged in business for less than one year in the county from which the application is made, the same shall also be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of each of the counties where he has formerly resided or engaged in business during said period of one year prior to the filing of said application, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. Where the applicant for a real estate broker's license maintains more than one place of business within the state he shall be required to apply for and procure a duplicate license for each branch office so maintained by him. Such duplicate license shall be issued without additional charge. Every such application shall state the name of the person, copartnership or corporation, and the location of the place or places of business for which such license is desired.

Application for license as real estate salesman shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, signed by the applicant, setting forth the period of time during which he has been engaged in the business, stating the name of his last employer and the name and place of business of the person, copartnership or corporation then employing him, or in whose employ he is to enter. The application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of his employer, if employed, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation, and recommending that the license be granted to the applicant.

The real estate commissioner may require such other proof as he may deem advisable of the honesty, truthfulness and good reputation of any applicant for a license, or of the officers of any corporation, or of the members of any copartnership making such application before authorizing the issuance of a license. In addition to proof of honesty, truthfulness and good reputation, the real estate commissioner may also require proof that the applicant has a fair knowledge of the English language, including reading, writing, spelling, elementary arithmetic, a fair understanding of the rudimentary principles of real estate conveyancing, the general purposes and general legal effect of deeds, mortgages, land contracts of sale, and leases, and a general and fair understanding of the obligations between principal and agent as well as of the provisions of the California Real Estate Act."

Amendment adopted.

REQUEST FOR INTRODUCTION OF BILL.

The following request for permission to introduce a bill was presented:

By Senator Carr:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, March 28, 1923.

MR. PRESIDENT: In accordance with the provisions of section 2, article IV of the constitution, I request that the permission of the Senate be granted for the introduction of the accompanying bill, the title of which is as follows, to wit:

An act to amend section 1766 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to guardianships.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT AFFECTING COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

On motion of Senator Slater the following decision of the Supreme Court was ordered printed in the Journal:

S. F. No. 10512. In Bank. March 24, 1923.

A. C. BAYLEY, Petitioner, vs. E. F. GARRISON, as Auditor of the County of Alameda, Respondent.

Application for writ of mandate prayed to be directed to respondent, as Auditor of Alameda County, requiring him to audit petitioner's demand for salary. Writ granted.

For Petitioner—Fitzgerald, Abbott & Beardsley.

For Respondent—Ezra W. Decoto, Frank Mitchell, Jr.

This is an original proceeding in mandamus brought by a deputy in the office of the county clerk of Alameda County whose position existed before the county clerk took office on January 6, 1919, but whose compensation was increased by the Legislature of 1921, during the term of the office of the county clerk. The point involved, as stated in the petitioner's points and authorities, is as follows: "His petition involves the question as to the right to increase the pay of existing deputies, during the term of the principal, in cases, where the principal at the commencement of his term was given a fixed salary and allowed deputies, also with fixed salaries, and all paid out of the county treasury."

That question was determined in favor of the petitioner's contention in the case of Harrold vs. Barnum, 8 Cal. App. 21. In addition to the authorities cited in that opinion in support of the view there expressed the following cases may be cited: Board of Com'rs of Muskogee County vs. Hart, 29 Okla. 693; State ex rel. vs. Oklahoma City, 38 Okla. 349; State ex rel. Gordon vs. _____, 238 Mo. 168; Bowers vs. City of Albuquerque, 200 Pac. 421 (N. Mex.); Stone vs. State, 89 So. 824 (Ala. App.); Queenheim vs. Assessor, 296 Ill. 494; People vs. Stang, 67 Colo. 599, 189 Pac. 27; Hibberd vs. Suffolk County, 163 Mass. 34.

The general rule is thus stated in 37 L. R. A. (N. S.) 389 as follows:

"The general rule, however, seems to be that this constitutional prohibition against changing the salary of a public officer during his term of office applies only to officers who have a fixed and definite term, and does not apply to appointive officers, who hold only at the pleasure of the appointing power."

It is clear then that so far as the increase of salary to the deputy is concerned it is not violative of article XI, section 9 of the constitution, which prohibits the increase of the salary of an officer during his term of office for the reason that such deputy has no term of office within the meaning of the constitutional provision.

Does the increase of the salary to a deputy increase the salary of the officer appointing the deputy? In considering this question it should be observed at the outset that the Penal Code (Sec. 74a) makes it a felony for the officer to directly or indirectly receive or accept any part of the compensation of his deputy. That section provides as follows:

"Every officer of this State, or of any county, city and county, city, or township therein, who accepts, keeps, retains or diverts for his own use or the use of any other person any part of the salary or fees allowed by law to his deputy, clerk, or other subordinate officer, is guilty of a felony."

It is clear then that whatever advantage the officer may derive from the fact that his deputy has an increased salary is not a direct benefit, but arises, if at all, from the securing of more valuable or competent help than could be obtained for the lesser amount. Is this advantage an increase of his compensation within the meaning of the constitution? So far as we know this point has never been decided adversely to the constitutionality of an increase of compensation to the deputy because of whatever incidental advantage might result to the principal. The point does not seem to have been considered sufficiently important to have been even suggested in any of the cases. Perhaps the outstanding reason for this is that it is by no means clear that the additional compensation to the deputy is an advantage to the principal and because the fixing of a salary to the deputy is altogether taken out of the hands of the principal and there is no means of ascertaining whether he could do better or worse for himself financially by the selection and payment of the deputy out of his own salary. Perhaps the antithesis of the proposition under consideration will be helpful in reaching a conclusion. The constitution of many of the states prohibits the increase or the decrease of the salary of a public officer as ours does in the case of certain state officers (Const., Art. V, Sec. 17). It has been held that the decrease of the salary of a deputy is permissible notwithstanding this constitutional provision (Samers vs. State, 5 So. Dakota 221; S. C. 5 S. D. 585). It seems clear that the Legislature could decrease the compensation of a deputy, at least to a reasonable extent, without in anywise affecting the compensation of the principal. If the same deputy continued to work for the reduced compensation it is evident that the salary of the principal would not thereby be reduced. If the volume of the work of the county officer was so reduced that the number of deputies supplied to him was wholly unnecessary it would seem clear that to take away the salary provisions for such unnecessary deputies would not constitute a reduction of his salary. For instance, if the Legislature should provide that the registration of voters should occur every four years instead of every two years, and should make a corresponding reduction in the office force of the county clerk or registrar of voters, this would hardly be considered a reduction of their salary, for they would receive for their compensation the same amount they had theretofore received.

We conclude that the provisions for the deputy is neither an increase of the salary of the officer nor of the deputy during his term of office within the meaning of article XI, section 9 of our constitution prohibiting an increase of salary.

It is suggested that this construction of our constitution brings this opinion in conflict with that just rendered in the case of Wines vs. Garrison, a companion case, for the claimed reason that the conclusion reached is inconsistent not only with the authorities supporting the case of Wines vs. Garrison, supra, but also the theory on which the County Government Act is held to be general and uniform within the meaning of article XI, section 4 of the constitution. The question then is this: Does this construction of the act of the Legislature increasing the salary of the deputy render the Political Code dealing with the subject of county government unconstitutional? This suggestion requires a reconsideration of some of the fundamental principles involved in the question. It was definitely determined in the case of Tulare County vs. May, 118 Cal. 303, that the system by which in some counties officers were paid in a lump sum and in other counties were paid a certain stipend and were allowed a certain number of deputies to be paid directly from the county treasury, did not destroy the uniformity of county government within the meaning of article XI, section 4 of the constitution. In other words, it was there decided that the Legislature could provide both schemes, for the compensation of county officers and their deputies. That conclusion has ever since been adhered to. A contrary conclusion would result in destroying all the county governments in the State by holding that the entire scheme for the payment of all county officers and deputies is unconstitutional and void. Such a result should not be arrived at if by any reasonable course it can be avoided. The doctrine of stare decisis furnishes the complete escape from this dilemma. It has been determined that the dual system of fixing salaries does not violate article XI, section 4. This conclusion was not only arrived at after full argument and careful consideration, but in order that the conclusion might be reached, three previous decisions of this court were overruled. We ought not now to say after a lapse of twenty-five years and after a continuous and consistent course of legislative and judicial action, that dissimilarities between the two systems, perhaps now for the first time fully appreciated, require us to reverse the decision in Tulare County vs. May, supra, and to reconsider the authority of that conclusion.

In this connection it is suggested that the lump sum theory of compensation as discussed in Tulare County vs. May, supra, and the corresponding system by which certain deputies were paid directly from the county treasury, were harmonized in the case of Tulare County vs. May, supra, by holding in effect that in either case the entire amount to be paid by the county was fixed by the statute, and, in effect, in both cases payments were made to all officers and deputies from the county treasury.

Consequently, it is now suggested that to hold that the lump sum payable from the county treasury can be increased in one class of counties and not in another class of counties, is inconsistent with the decision in Tulare County vs. May, supra, and those subsequent decisions following that case, including our own decision of the companion case, Wines vs. Garrison, supra. It is true that the conclusion that the salaries of deputies can be increased in one class of counties by payments from the county treasury and that in order to increase the salaries of deputies in other counties, the increase must come from the officer who receives a lump sum from the county, does demonstrate that there is a difference between the two methods of fixing compensation, but the fundamental question is not whether there is a difference between the two systems, for that there is a difference is perfectly clear to us as it was to the authors of the opinion in Tulare County vs. May, but the question is whether the difference, whatever it may be, rises to such proportions as to destroy the uniformity in county government required by the constitution. It was held otherwise in Tulare County vs. May, supra. It was there recognized that there were some differences between the two systems, for instance, it was argued that the systems were not uniform for the reason that in one case the county officer could determine whether or not he would employ a deputy and thus determine whether or not the county would be compelled to pay the amount of that deputy's salary, while in the other class of counties the salary was fixed and certain. It was recognized that in one class of counties the saving resulting from not employing a deputy would inure to the benefit of the county officer and in the other class of counties it would inure to the benefit of the county itself. Notwithstanding this discrepancy between the two plans it was held that the system was, nevertheless, uniform. So here, we clearly recognize that the increase of compensation to the deputy in one case must be paid by the county officer, if necessary, and in the other case must be paid by the county, but this does not create a greater irregularity than that involved in the proposition just stated.

Moreover, we are not permitted to examine these questions in the light of cold logic and determine by a system of syllogistic reasoning that a scheme may or may not be right or logical, but we are required merely to ascertain whether or not there is a reasonable doubt as to whether the Constitution has been violated by the legislative enactment. If there is such a doubt, that doubt must be resolved in favor of the validity of the statute. To overturn the statute in question would require us not only to entertain a greater doubt than a reasonable one as to the validity of the legislative action but would also require us to reach that degree of certainty which alone justifies the overturning of previous decisions of this court. Both of these considerations would constrain us to sustain the constitutionality of the act so far as its uniformity is concerned, even though we might entertain some doubt upon that question. It should be noted, also, that the doubt expressed is not as to the conclusion reached in Tulare County vs. May, supra, that the act is uniform, but as to the validity of the reasoning by which that conclusion was reached, namely, that the two systems were equal. That is, that the lump sum salary and the salary of the officer plus the deputy's salary were equivalent, and even though we may impeach this reasoning to some extent, it does not require us to set aside the conclusion that the County Government Act as enacted was uniform. As already pointed out, there may be differences and still be uniformity.

We conclude, therefore, that the increase of compensation to a deputy who holds office at the pleasure of his principal is not a violation of article XI, section 9 of the constitution as to him. Second, that the increase of the salary of the deputy is not an increase of the salary of the principal within the meaning of article XI, section 9. Third, under the previous decisions of this court the system by which some officers in some counties are paid a lump sum and others allowed a salary and also deputies and clerks payable from the county treasury is a uniform system, and our present conclusion does not require reconsideration of those cases holding the two systems of payment not to infringe upon the constitutional inhibition against the lack of uniformity in the county government, notwithstanding the fact that the conclusion reached indicates a dissimilarity between the two systems of paying the deputies.

The petition for writ of peremptory mandate will be granted.

In any such case, the by-laws shall specify the number of directors to be elected by each district, the manner and method of reapportioning the directors and of redistricting the territory covered by the association. The by-laws may also provide that primary elections shall be held to nominate directors. Where the by-laws provide that the territory in which the association has members shall be divided into districts, the by-laws may also provide that the results of the primary elections in the various districts shall be final and must be ratified at the annual meeting of the association. The by-laws may also provide that one or more directors may be nominated by any public official or commission or by the other directors selected by the members. Such directors shall represent primarily the interest of the general public in such associations. The directors so nominated need not be members or stockholders of the association; but shall have the same powers and rights as other directors. Such directors shall not number more than one-fifth of the entire number of directors.

An association may provide a fair remuneration for the time actually spent by its officers and directors in its service and for the service of the members of its executive committee.

The by-laws may provide for an executive committee and may allot to such committee all the functions and powers of the board of directors, subject to the general direction and control of the board.

When a vacancy on the board of directors occurs other than by expiration of term, the remaining members of the board by a majority vote, shall fill the vacancy, unless the by-laws provide for an election of directors by districts. In the latter case the board of directors shall immediately call a special meeting of the members or stockholders in that district to fill the vacancy."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all of the title and insert in lieu thereof the following: "An act creating the California military reserve, providing for the appointment of officers therein, and when said reserve may be called into active service."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, after the period following the figure "1" insert the following:

"SECTION 1. There is hereby created and established the California military reserve.

SEC. 2. The commissioned personnel of said California military reserve shall be of the grades as provided in this act. The other personnel of said reserve shall consist of all pupils and students attending any educational institution (except the University of California) where military science or tactics is taught, as obtains in the United States army.

SEC. 3. In case of insurrection, invasion, tumult, riot or imminent danger thereof the governor shall have power to call forth for active service within the state all or any part of said reserve, for such period as he shall deem necessary; provided that said reserve shall not be called into active service unless there is no part of the regularly constituted national guard of this state available for such service.

SEC. 4. No public funds shall be expended or obligated in connection with the creation or maintenance of said reserve, except when it is called into the active service of the state by the governor; provided, that the officers and other members of said reserve when called into the active service of the state by the governor shall receive the same base pay as is allowed officers and enlisted men of like grades in the United States army.

SEC. 5. The expenses in connection with the calling forth and duties to be performed by said reserve when called into the active service of the state by the governor shall be paid out of the moneys appropriated by the act of the legislature, approved April 12, 1909, and in the same manner as is prescribed in said act.

SEC. 6. Whenever any military school or military academy, or other educational institution where military science and tactics are taught, whose president or superintendent has been a commissioned officer in the United States army, navy, marine corps, or national guard, or in the volunteer army, during a time of war in which the United States has been engaged, and which said school academy, or institution offers a four years' course of study, and which has filled the requirements of a "Class M" school, as described by the United States war department, makes due application to the governor, said military school, military academy, or educational institution may be designated as a post for the California military reserve, and the faculty of said school, or academy, or institution may be commissioned by the governor as officers in said reserve with rank as follows:

The president or superintendent, as colonel; the vice president or assistant superintendent, as lieutenant colonel; the commandant of cadets, the quartermaster, and the principal or head master, as majors; those professors and instructors who have served in the Spanish-American or world wars, and those professors and instructors who have had seven years' teaching experience, as captains; the professors and instructors with one year's teaching experience, as second lieutenants.

SEC. 7. Whenever any college or university or other educational institution which has a regularly established military department makes due application to the state authorities, the said college, university, or public educational institution may be designated by the governor as a post of the California military reserve, and certain professors and instructors of the said college, university, or educational institution, shall be commissioned by the governor as officers in the California military reserve. The professors and instructors so commissioned shall be those who by reason of their professional training teach those subjects which bear a practical relation to modern warfare, the instruction of which is of value to the State of California in the training of her young men. The said professors and instructors shall take rank as follows:

The president, as colonel; the dean, as lieutenant colonel; the business manager, and the head of the academic departments concerned in instruction of a practical military nature, as majors; the assistant business manager, those professors and instructors who have served in the Spanish-American or World Wars, and those professors and instructors with over seven years teaching experience, as captains; the professors and instructors who have received previous military training or have had four years teaching experience, as first lieutenants; the professors and instructors with one year's teaching experience, as second lieutenants.

SEC. 8. The adjutant general of this state shall be in control of the California military reserve, subordinate only to the governor, and shall take in consideration the special professional and military qualifications of the professors and instructors so commissioned and the governor shall commission them in that special staff corps, department, or branch of the service, for which by reason of the subject which they teach, they can be of the greatest advantage to the State of California.

SEC. 9. The governor is authorized to commission men with previous military service as officers in the California military reserve, and to also commission as officers in said reserve men whose professional business or industrial experience would be of advantage in the proper defense of the state and the mobilization of her resources; the officers so commissioned in addition to those named in sections six and seven of this act, to constitute in time of peace the commissioned personnel of the California military reserve and to hold themselves for state service in time of war, insurrection, invasion, tumult, riot, or imminent danger thereof.

SEC. 10. That the graduates of the institutions named in this act shall be eligible to appointment as brevet second lieutenants in the California military reserve, and may be commissioned as such and assigned to companies at the discretion of the governor, upon the recommendation of the inspecting officer.

SEC. 11. The officers of said schools, or colleges, or educational institutions as described in this act are to receive no financial support from the State of California, except at such time or times when they may be called into actual service for the purpose of maintaining order or for the protection of life and property when there is no part of the regularly constituted national guard available for that purpose.

SEC. 12. The adjutant general shall make the necessary rules and regulations for the government of the California military reserve."

Amendment adopted.

Senate Bill No. 510 re-referred to Committee on Military Affairs.

Senate Bill No. 320—An act to amend sections 1, 2 and 3 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance by fire insurance corporations of guaranty surplus funds and special reserve funds and thereby limiting liability and to provide for the waiver by policyholders of recourse against stockholders of such corporations," approved May 31, 1917, and to add a new section to said act to be known as section 4, relating to guaranty surplus and special reserve funds of fire insurance corporations.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

After the figures "270" insert the following:

"270. A father of either a legitimate or illegitimate child who wilfully omits without lawful excuse to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance for his child is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding two years or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or by both. This statute shall not be construed so as to relieve such father from the criminal liability defined herein for such omission merely because the mother of such child, or any other person, or organization, voluntarily or involuntarily furnishes such necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance for such child, or undertakes to do so. Proof of abandonment or desertion of a child by such father, or the omission by such father to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance for his child is prima facie evidence that such abandonment or desertion or omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance is wilful and without lawful excuse. The provisions of this section are applicable whether the parents of such child are married or divorced, and regardless of any decree made in any divorce action relative to alimony or to the support of the wife."

On motion of Senator Johnson, M. B., Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8 was passed on file.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 20.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section thirty-one of article four of the constitution of the State of California relating to the giving or lending of public credit.

The Legislature of the State of California, at its regular session, commencing on the eighth day of January, 1923, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the Legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby propose an amendment to section 31 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California to read as follows:

Sec. 31. The Legislature shall have no power to give or to lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State, or of any county, city and county, city, township, or other political corporation or subdivision of the State now existing, or that may be hereafter established, in aid of or to any person, association, or corporation, whether municipal or otherwise, or to pledge the credit thereof, in any manner whatever, for the payment of the liabilities of any individual, association, municipal or other corporation whatever; nor shall it have power to make any gift, or authorize the making of any gift, of any public money or thing of value to any individual, municipal or other corporation whatever; provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the Legislature granting aid pursuant to section 22 of this article; and it shall not have power to authorize the State, or any political subdivision thereof, to subscribe for stock, or to become a stockholder in any corporation whatever; provided, further, that irrigation districts for the purpose of acquiring the control of any entire international water system necessary for its use and purposes, a part of which is situated in the United States, and a part thereof in a foreign country, may in the manner authorized by law, acquire the stock of any foreign corporation which is the owner of, or which holds the title to the part of such system situated in a foreign country; and provided, still further, that notwithstanding the restrictions contained in this section, the treasurer of any city, county, or city and county shall have power and it shall be his duty to make such temporary transfers from the funds in his custody as may be necessary to provide funds for meeting the obligations incurred for maintenance purposes by any city, county, city and county, district, or other political subdivision whose funds are in his custody and are paid out solely through his office. Such temporary transfer of funds to any political subdivision shall not exceed 85 per cent of the taxes accruing to such political subdivision, shall not be made prior to the first day of the fiscal year nor after the last Monday in April of the current fiscal year, and shall be replaced from the taxes accruing to such political subdivision before any other obligation of such political subdivision is met from such taxes.

PETITION.

The following petition was presented by Senator Dennett, and ordered printed in the Journal:

To the Committee on Education of the Senate, California Legislature, 1923.

DEAR SIR: In view of the proposed act known as Senate Bill No. 7 having been referred to your committee, we respectfully present for your consideration the following reasons why said bill ought not to pass:

1. In Shanghai, China, and Tokyo, Japan, and in many other cities of the Orient, the American residents have founded schools for preparing their children for our American high schools and colleges. These are regarded as a necessity, and many Anglo-Saxon residents in California have enjoyed their advantages. We certainly should be willing to grant to foreigners and their children living in this State the same privileges accorded our citizens who are living abroad. At least we should guard against such possible retaliation as would sacrifice the best interests of Americans living abroad, including hundreds of missionary families.

2. The items in paragraphs first to tenth inclusive, of section 1 of the proposed law are practically provided for in the existing law, and contain all that relates to the government of private schools. As will be seen, the rest refers to the abolishment of such schools. There can be no possible objection to proper regulation of private language schools such as proposed in the above paragraphs (1-10), and genuine Americanism requires something of this character. For such regulation, a new law seems to us entirely unnecessary.

3. Our objections are to paragraphs 11 and 12, i. e., lines 20-46 of page 3. It is here proposed to do away with the teaching of foreign languages in private schools, conducted wholly or in part in the language of a foreign nation, it being provided that they shall cease to exist after July 1, 1930, unless conducted wholly in the English language. Paragraph 12 provides for a gradual reduction, no permit to be issued after September 1, 1926.

4. In its application to the teaching of the Chinese language this will close the Christian missionary schools throughout the State of California, and at the same time close the door of opportunity for one of the finest pieces of Americanization among the Chinese that has existed up to the present. These schools are intimately related to the present plans of Americanization and Christianization of all the churches—Catholic and Protestant.

5. In its application to the Japanese, we beg to call your attention to the following facts:

(a) Teacher training institutes were organized in 1921 in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Fresno with courses covering two weeks in American History, American Government, Civics, and American Ideals and Institutions. Among the teachers and lecturers were Mr. Sam H. Cohn of the Department of Education, Prof. C. E. Rugh of the University of California, Judge Wm. H. Waste, Dr. R. R. Perkins of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A., and other leading Americans, including several mission superintendents and other Christian workers among Orientals in this State.

Upon the recommendation of the State Board of Education the following textbooks were used:

History of the American People, by Beard and Bagley;
American Government, by Magruder;
American Citizenship, by Beard, and Civics for New Americans, by Hill and Davis.

In addition to the purchase of 200 textbooks, the work of Americanizing the teachers cost about $1,500. Correspondence courses in Americanization are also being conducted. In every way, the Japanese residents have shown the best of faith and a hearty desire fully to cooperate.

(b) In co-operation with the State Board of Education, the Japanese of California, at an expense of over $7,500.00 in addition to the above, have had textbooks prepared specially adapted to the needs of California-born Japanese, with emphasis upon America rather than Japan. During the past year, the Japanese language schools were obliged to use textbooks prepared in Japan (with the permission of the State Board of Education) and were therefore not able to do the work in as thorough and satisfactory a manner as they will be able to do after May, 1923, when the new textbooks will be ready. It seems only fair to give these schools opportunity to demonstrate what they can do under the present law, when fully prepared, before seeking to abolish them. If after a fair test they prove unsatisfactory, it will then be time to seek further restriction.

(c) There is no necessity for the proposed law from the standpoint of American loyalty. Among the signers of this petition are missionaries who have thoroughly tested the situation with the result that American-born Japanese children who have attended these schools, even in the densest Japanese population, have innocently proven that they have a better understanding of American great men and national holidays than of the land of their fathers.

6. More and more, the Orientals in California are demonstrating their genuine Americanism. It is easier and safer to lead them than to drive them. They naturally desire and need to know the language of their parents. Further restrictive legislation in California is liable to produce the opposite effect from that intended by the advocates of the bill. What is needed is sympathetic guidance of the young people born in this State rather than action that will directly tend to alienate them.

7. In theory, all foreign-born parents in this country should acquire a working knowledge of English, and there is much to encourage us in this respect. But it must be admitted that foreign-born parents of many nationalities do not possess such a knowledge of our language. The cutting off of these language schools will hence make it impossible for the children trained in our public schools and Sunday schools to communicate to their parents the important things which they gain in these ways. The result will be a distinct loss to Americanism. The young people of Oriental parentage born in this country and trained in our schools are further handicapped in entering business, whether with Americans or Japanese, unless able to speak and write both languages.

In conclusion, while we recognize the importance and wisdom of proper regulation, which seems to be amply provided in the existing law, there is no necessity for the proposed abolishment of private schools in this State conducted wholly or in part in a foreign language. There is no sufficient proof that said schools are used for teaching loyalty to the mother countries, especially Japan, nor does experience show that foreign language study retards the children in their regular school work. Neither is it true that these Japanese schools are nearly all Buddhist. There are fifty-five Japanese language schools in the State, divided as follows: Nine Christian, seven Buddhist and thirty-nine non-religious which are supported by interested parents.

We deem it very unwise to irritate unnecessarily our Oriental neighbors in China and Japan and their people who are living among us and who are manifesting such a desire to be Americanized in the best sense. We repeat that the proposed action, involving the abolishment of all language schools, will place in jeopardy the interests of Americans who have already established similar English schools in China and Japan for the education of their own children.

We recommend that the proposed law do not pass, particularly that portion looking toward the abolishment of the language schools. We have no objection to any proper law regulating the government of private schools, which is necessary in the interest of the State.

Very respectfully,

EDWARD L. PARSONS, Bishop Coadjutor of California.

And 7 others.

March 24, 1923.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 494 An act to amend section 11 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent and be secured by certain assessments made for the cost of certain work and improvements made in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, to provide for the collection of such assessments, the sale of the property affected thereby and for the payment of the bonds so issued," approved June 11, 1915.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of printed bill, strike out all of this bill beginning with line 11 and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 11. (a) In the event of such bonds being so issued, then the assessments, which shall be unpaid, as shown on the list filed by the superintendent of streets and determined by the city council, and any reassessments which may be issued thereon or in lieu thereof, together with interest thereon, shall remain and constitute a trust fund for the redemption and payment of said bonds and of the interest which may be due thereon. Such assessments and reassessments and each installment thereof and the interest and penalties thereon shall be and shall continue to constitute a lien against the lots and parcels of land on which made, until the same be paid, but for a period not exceeding the time within which an action might be brought on the last series of bonds issued upon the security of such unpaid assessments. Such lien shall be prior and superior to all other liens, except the lien for state, county and municipal taxes and public improvement assessments and reassessments which may have priority thereover, provided, however, that unmatured installments, interest and penalties shall not be deemed to be within the terms of any general warranty of title.

(b) Whenever any assessment heretofore issued or which may be hereafter issued is or shall be void or unenforceable, for any cause, or if bonds shall have been, or shall be, issued hereunder to represent or be secured by any assessments and such issuance shall not have been or shall not be effective through the curative provisions in relation thereto under said street work act or under this act to make them valid and enforceable, then, in any of such events a reassessment therefor may be issued. Such reassessment shall be issued upon the demand of the owner or holder of bonds aggregating one-third of the principal amount outstanding and shall be issued and made in the manner and form provided by said street work act. When so issued the reassessment made shall stand and constitute a trust fund for the redemption and payment of the original bonds so issued: provided, that the city council may call in the original issue of bonds outstanding and issue new bonds upon the security of the reassessment in lieu thereof. The city council may determine that new serial bonds shall be issued upon the security of such reassessment in which event it shall so declare in the notice of hearing upon such reassessment and set forth therein the description of said bonds as provided for in section 4 hereof. In such event upon confirmation of the reassessment said council may issue said bonds after notice by the clerk as provided in section 5 thereof. Upon calling by the city council of the original issue of bonds outstanding, the council may direct the city treasurer to, and the treasurer shall thereupon, advance the maturity of said bonds outstanding bearing interest in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, notwithstanding that there may not be surplus monies in the redemption fund with which to pay same. After such issuance of said new bonds and upon surrendering of the bonds outstanding, new bonds shall be issued to the holders of the original bonds in the proportion that the total balance of reassessment unpaid with interest thereon as provided in said street work act bears to the total amount of the principal and interest unpaid on such original bonds outstanding as of the date of such new bonds, and to the respective holders of such original bonds outstanding in the proportion that the amount of the principal and interest unpaid on the bonds of such respective holders thereof bears to the total amount of principal of the new bonds issued as of the date of such new bonds.

(c) In the event of nonpayment of any assessment or reassessment or installment thereof, or of any interest thereon, and as a cumulative remedy, the same when due as hereinafter provided, may by order of the council be collected by suit brought to foreclose the lien thereof in the same manner as provided in said street work act for the foreclosure of other assessments by action in a superior court, and with like costs, attorneys' fees and other relief. Thereupon the tax collector shall be credited upon the assessment roll then in his hands with the amount charged against him on account of such assessments or reassessments order to suit and be relieved of further duty in regard thereto.

(d) Such action shall be brought in the name of the city. The complaint may be brief and include substantially only the following allegations with reference to the assessments sought to be collected: that on a date stated the council passed its resolution ordering certain work to be done, without describing the same; that work was done thereunder; that an assessment and warrant to pay for the cost thereof was duly given and made; that same was returned on a stated date; that certain property (describing it) was therein assessed a stated amount; that bonds upon the security of such assessment was duly issued giving the date of said bonds their interest rate and the number of years the last installment of same were to run and that same were duly issued under this act, but it shall be unnecessary to state the amount, number, denomination or other term thereof; that on a date stated a certain sum came due against said property on said assessment and had not been paid and that the council had directed the action to foreclose. In such action the plaintiff upon recovering judgment shall be entitled to a reasonable counsel fee to be allowed by the court and taxed as costs."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 149.—An act to amend sections 2, 3, 4, 9, 11, 13, 16 and 17 of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of the printed bill, in line 2 of the title to the bill, insert a comma after the word "sixteen" and strike out the word "and" and insert after the word "seventeen" the words "and eighteen".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of line 1 following the period, all of lines 2 to 18, both inclusive, and all of pages 2, 3, 4 and 5, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section two of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. Whenever in the opinion of the city council the public interest or convenience may require, it is hereby authorized and empowered to order the whole or any portion or portions, either in length or in width, of any one or more of the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways of any such city, or property, or rights of way owned by any city, to be improved by or to have constructed therein either singly or in any combination thereof, any of the following, namely:

(a) The grading or regrading, the paving or repaving, the planking or replanking, the macadamizing or remacadamizing, the graveling or regraveling, the oiling or reoilng, thereof.

(b) The construction or reconstruction of sidewalks, crosswalks, steps, parks and parkways, culverts, bridges, curbs, gutters, tunnels, subways or viaducts;

(c) Sanitary sewers or instrumentalities of sanitation, together with the necessary outlets, cesspools, manholes, catch basins, flush tanks, septic tanks, disposal plants, connecting sewers, ditches, drains, conduits, tunnels, channels or other appurtenances.

(d) Drains, tunnels, sewers, conduits, culverts and channels for drainage purposes; with necessary outlets, cesspools, manholes, catch basins, flush tanks, septic tanks, disposal plants, connecting sewers, ditches, drains, conduits, channels and appurtenances.

(e) Poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits, tunnels, lamps and other suitable or necessary appliances for the purpose of lighting said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places or public ways of any such city or property or rights of way owned by any such city.

(f) Pipes, hydrants and appliances for fire protection.

(g) Breakwaters, levees, bulkheads and walls of rock or other material to protect the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways and other property in any such city, from overflow by water.

(h) Wells, pumps, dams, reservoirs, storage tanks, channels, tunnels, conduits, pipes, hydrants, meters or other appurtenances for supplying or distributing a domestic water supply.

(i) Retaining walls, embankments and other structures necessary or suitable in connection with any of the work mentioned in this section.

(j) All other work which may be deemed necessary to improve the whole or any portion of such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways or property or rights of way owned by such city.

(k) All other work auxiliary to any of the above, which may be required to carry out the same.

Sec. 2. Section three of the said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Before ordering any work done or improvement made which is authorized by this act, the city council shall pass a resolution of intention to do so, referring to the street by its lawful or official name, or the name by which it is commonly known: when the work is not upon a public street or public way, then by briefly describing the property or right-of-way on which same is to be constructed, and briefly describing the work. The said resolution of intention shall be sufficient if it states in general terms the class or kinds of work contemplated such as grading, paving, sewerage or other work or improvements, and gives in general the location of the proposed improvement and refers to plans, profiles, detailed drawings and specifications or such of them as may be suitable or proper for the full and detailed description of the said proposed work or improvement. Said resolution shall contain also a notice of the day, hour and place when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before the legislative body and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with said resolution: said time shall not be less than fifteen nor more than forty days from the date of the passage of said resolution. The city clerk shall cause said resolution of intention to be published twice in one or more daily newspapers published and circulated in said city: provided if there be no daily newspaper, then the publication shall be made in one or more newspapers published and circulated therein less than six days a week, and said publication shall be had twice therein. If no newspaper be published in said city, then the publication shall be made twice in some newspaper published in the county in which said city is located. The city council may include in one proceeding, under on resolution of intention and in one contract, any of the different kinds of work mentioned in this act on any number of streets, properties and rights of way or portions thereof, contiguous or otherwise, and it may except therefrom any of said work already done. The lots and portions of lots fronting upon said executed work already done shall not be included in the assessment for the class of work from which the exception is made.

The grade to which any work shall be done or improvement made shall be such as may be shown on the plans or profiles therefor or it may be done on such a grade as may have been formally established by the city council. If any official grade has already been adopted or established for any of the streets, avenues, or other places or property, proposed to be improved, it shall be lawful for the resolution of intention to provide that said work shall be done to new grades or grades different from those so established or adopted, and shall refer to plans, profiles or specifications for the description of the grade at which the work is to be done. Any property owner whose property is to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the proposed improvement may at the time fixed in the resolution of intention for hearing of objections to the proposed work and improvement, appear before the city council and make objection to the proposed grade or proposed modification of grade. A failure to make objection at such time shall be deemed to be a waiver of all objections to the proposed grade or proposed change or modification of grade and shall operate as a bar to any claim for damages or any subsequent action looking to the prevention of the work or the recovery of damages on account of the performance of the work to such grade or changed grade. The provisions of this section relative to grades are alternative and shall not repeal other provisions of this act or other statutes relative to change of grade.

Sec. 3. Section four of said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. Whenever the contemplated work or improvement, in the opinion of the city council, is of more than local or ordinary public benefit, or whenever, according to estimate to be furnished by the city engineer, the total estimated costs and expenses thereof would exceed one-half the total assessed value of the lots and lands assessed, if assessed upon the lots or land fronting upon said proposed work or improvement, according to the valuation fixed by the last assessment roll whereon it was assessed for taxes for municipal purposes, and allowing a reasonable depth from such frontage for lots or lands assessed in bulk, the city council may make the expense of such work or improvement chargeable upon a district, which the said city council shall, in its resolution of intention, declare to be the district benefited by said work or improvement, and to be assessed to pay the cost and expense thereof. Such district may be described by stating the exterior boundaries thereof, or by giving a description thereof according to any official or recorded map or maps or by referring to a plat or map which shall be on file in the office of the city clerk or city engineer at the time of passing the resolution of intention, which shall indicate by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district, which said plat or map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the said assessment district. The said district need not be described in any of the notices or resolutions provided for herein, other than the resolution of intention.

SEC. 4. Section nine of said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. In all resolutions, notices, orders and determinations, subsequent to the resolution of intention it shall not be necessary to describe the assessment district, and in all of the same, subsequent to the resolution of intention and the notice of improvement, it shall be sufficient to refer to the resolution of intention for a description of the work or improvement, and the assessment district.

SEC. 5. Section eleven of said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. Notice of such award of contract shall be published by the city clerk twice in a daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city and if no newspaper be published in said city, then in some newspaper published in the county and circulated in said city.

SEC. 6. Section thirteen of said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13. But if such original bidder neglects, fails or refuses, for twenty-five days after the first publication of the notice of award, to enter into the contract, then the city council, without further proceedings, shall again advertise for and receive proposals or bids, as in the first instance, and award the contract for said work to the then lowest regular bidder. Should no bids be received in response to this second call for proposals, the council may again advertise for and receive bids under the same proceedings at any time within six months from the time set for the first reception of bids, and let the contract to the then lowest bidder, and such delay shall in no way effect the validity of any of the proceedings or assessments levied thereunder. The bids of all persons and the election of all owners, as aforesaid, who have failed to enter into the contract, as herein provided, shall be rejected in any bidding or election subsequent to the first for the same work.

SEC. 7. Section sixteen of said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 16. At any time within ten days from the date of the first publication of the notice of award of contract, any owner of, or other persons having any interest in any lot or land liable to assessment, who claims that any of the previous acts or proceedings relating to said improvement are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty, may file with the clerk of the city council a written notice specifying in what respect said acts and proceedings are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty. Said notice shall state that it is made in pursuance of this section. All objections to any act or proceeding occurring prior to the time within which such objections are permitted to be filed in relation to said improvement, not made in writing and in the manner and at the time aforesaid, shall be waived, provided the resolution of intention to do the work has been actually published, as provided in this act.

SEC. 8. Section seventeen of said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 17. Before being entitled to a contract, the bidder to whom the award was made, or the owners who have elected to take the contract, must advance to the superintendent of streets, for payment by him, the cost of publication of the notices, resolutions, orders and matters required under the proceedings prescribed in this act, and of such other notices as may be deemed requisite by the city council, together with all other incidental expenses incurred up to the time of entering into the contract. And in case the work is abandoned by the city, the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment shall be paid out of the city treasury.

SEC. 9. Section eighteen of said act approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 18. The superintendent of streets is hereby authorized in his official capacity, to make all written contracts, and to receive all bonds authorized by this act, and to do any other act, either express or implied, that pertains to the street department under this act; and he shall fix the time for the commencement, which shall not be more than fifteen days from the date of the contract, and for the completion of the work under all contracts entered into by him, which work shall be prosecuted with diligence from day to day thereafter to completion, and he may extend the time so fixed from time to time, under the direction of the city council. All applications for such extensions of time, if in writing, must be filed in the office of the city clerk before the expiration of the original time fixed in the contract, or of the time granted by extension, as the case may be. An extension of time may be granted by the council after the expiration of the time originally fixed in the contract or extended as herein provided, and the extension so granted shall be deemed to commence and be effective from the date of such expiration. Any such extension of time shall not release the sureties upon any bond required under this act. The work must, in all cases, be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets and all contracts made therefor must contain a provision to that effect; provided, however, that if the city council by resolution adopted within ten days after the passage of the resolution ordering the work so directs the work shall be done under the direction of the city engineer and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of said engineer, instead of said superintendent of streets, and in such case the contract shall contain a provision to that effect; and provided further that the city council may by resolution adopted within said ten days provide and direct that the assessment thereafter to be made in the proceeding shall be made and signed by the city engineer instead of by the superintendent of streets. Said contract shall contain also express notice that, in no case, except where it is otherwise provided by law or the city charter will the city, or any officer thereof, be liable for any portion of the expense, nor for any delinquency of persons or property assessed. The city council may, by ordinance, prescribe general rules directing the superintendent of streets (or the city engineer, in the cases herein provided) and the contractor as to the materials to be used, and the mode of executing the work, under all contracts thereafter made. The assessment and apportionment of the expenses of all such work or improvement shall be made by the superintendent of streets in the mode provided by this act."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 159—An act to amend sections 11 and 12¹ of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of the printed bill strike out all of line 1 after the period, all of lines 2 to 24, both inclusive, and all of pages 2, 3 and 4, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section eleven of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities", approved March 18, 1885, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. The owners, whether named in the assessment or not, the contractor or his assigns, and all other persons directly interested in any work provided for in this act, or in the assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the superintendent of streets in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or having or making any objection to the correctness or legality of the assessment or other act, determination, or proceedings of the superintendent of streets, shall, within thirty days after the date of the warrant, appeal to the city council, as provided in this section, by briefly stating their objections in writing and filing the same with the clerk of the said city council. Notice of the time and place of the hearing, briefly referring to the work contracted to be done, or other subject of appeal, and to the acts, determinations or proceedings objected to or complained of, shall be published for five days. Upon such appeal, the said city council may remedy and correct any error or informality in the proceedings, and revise and correct any of the acts or determinations of the superintendent of streets relative to said work, may confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify or correct the assessment in such manner as to them shall seem just, and require the work to be completed according to the directions of the city council, and may instruct and direct the superintendent of streets to correct the warrant, assessment or diagram in any particular, or to make and issue a new warrant, assessment and diagram, to conform to the decisions of said city council in relation thereto, at their option. All the decisions and determinations of said city council upon notice and hearing as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to appeal under the provisions of this section, as to all errors, incommensures, and irregularities, which said city council might have remedied and avoided during the progress of the proceedings or which it can at that time remedy. No assessment, warrant, diagram or affidavit of demand and nonpayment after the issue of the same and no proceedings prior to the assessment shall be held invalid by any court for any error, informality or other defect in the same where the resolution of intention of the city council to order the work to be done, for which the assessment is made, has been actually published in any newspaper of said city for the length of time prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. Section twelve and one-quarter of said act approved March 18, 1885, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12½. Whenever any assessment heretofore issued or which may be hereafter issued is or shall be void, or unenforceable, for any cause, or if bonds shall have been, or shall be, issued to represent any assessments and such issuance shall not have been, or shall not be effective through the curative provisions thereof to make them valid and enforceable, then, in any of such events a reassessment therefor may be issued. The true intent and meaning of this section is to make the cost and expense of work or improvement made through an attempted compliance with this act, payable by the real estate benefited by such work or improvement by making a reassessment therefor.

Such power of reassessing embraces both a full and a partial reassessment, and is not exhausted by a single attempted exercise thereof.

A reassessment shall be ordered under any one of three circumstances:

First—Where the owner or holder of any assessments, or of bonds issued under the provisions of the act entitled "An act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvements within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds", approved February 27, 1893, to represent assessments requests the legislative body of the city in which the assessment has been or shall be issued to order a reassessment. In such event if said legislative body be of the opinion that the assessments or bonds in question are not enforceable, it shall order the making and issuing of a reassessment covering only the assessments owned or held by the petitioner, or the assessments represented by the bonds owned or held by such petitioner.

Second—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to foreclose the lien of any assessment or to enforce the obligation of any bond issued to represent any assessments issued under this act, has for any reason held such lien unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

Third—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to set aside the lien of any assessment or of any bond representing any assessment, or in any suit to quiet title against the lien of any such assessment, or bond, shall in its judgment decree such assessments or bonds to be void, or unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

The manner of making, issuing and enforcing the reassessments shall be as follows:

The superintendent of streets shall, upon entering of a decree of court directing a reassessment or upon the making of an order by the legislative body of the city directing a reassessment, proceed to make a reassessment, in the following manner:

If the reassessment be a partial one only, then it shall not be necessary for the diagram to show any other lots than the ones covered by such partial reassessment. If it be a full reassessment, however, then it shall be upon the lots fronting on said work if the original assessment was one made on the front foot plan; if the original assessment was made against a district, then the superintendent of streets shall prepare and file with the reassessment a diagram showing the lots, pieces or parcels of land deemed by him to have been benefited by the work or improvement. The reassessment shall assess upon and against each of the lots, pieces, or parcels of land contained therein an amount arrived at as follows: The benefits derived, or to be derived by each of the said lots, pieces or parcels of land from the work or improvement estimated as of the date of the original assessment shall first be listed. Then there shall be added thereto interest thereon from thirty days after the date of recording the original assessment at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum, and the total sum shall constitute and be the amount of the proposed several assessments in such reassessment. The total of such reassessment, however, exclusive of interest, shall not exceed the cost of the work or improvement. Such assessment need not be in any prescribed form, but shall refer to the original assessment, give the date of the original assessment and state that it is made pursuant to the order of the legislative body of the city or decree of the court, as the case may be, and shall be accompanied by a diagram showing the lots to be reassessed and their relation to the work. It shall then be presented to the legislative body, which shall fix a time for hearing before it. Such time must be at least twenty days after the reassessment is so presented. The city clerk shall then advertise the time of such hearing before the legislative body by publishing a notice in the newspaper in which the notice of award of contract for the improvement for which the assessment was made, was published unless the legislative body directs publication in some other newspaper. If the reassessment is to be against certain specified lots only, this fact, together with an enumeration of the lots shall be stated in the notice. If the reassessment is to be against the lots fronting upon the improvement, this fact shall be stated in the notice. If the reassessment is to be against the property in a district then this fact shall be stated in the notice and a description of the district shall be set forth and the assessment diagram referred to for all particulars. Such notice shall be published for five insertions, if the paper be a daily, or for two insertions if the paper be published less frequently. At the time fixed for said hearing, or at such time or times to which the same may thereafter be adjourned the legislative body shall consider the objections to said reassessment and in its discretion informally direct the revision, correction or modification of such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable to apportion to each lot, piece or parcel of land thereby benefited the amount of the actual benefits derived from said improvement. When such reassessment shall have been revised, or corrected or modified so as to comply with the judgment of said legislative body, then it shall pass a resolution confirming the reassessment. The street superintendent shall thereupon record the reassessment with a certificate at the end thereof by the city clerk, that it is the reassessment approved by the legislative body of the city. He shall also note opposite the several assessments in the original assessment that have been displaced by the reassessment the fact that the reassessment has been made, giving its date, and shall credit upon such reassessment all payments theretofore made upon the original assessment, or upon the bonds issued to represent the same, together with interest on such payment at the rate of seven per cent per annum from and after the date of such payments. Such reassessments shall be collectible and payable in the same manner as an original assessment and shall be enforceable by suit in the same manner provided in this act for enforcing an original assessment, and shall have the same weight in evidence. In the event that bonds issued under the original assessment they shall also issue upon the reassessment for such sum as may be reassessed against the lot, piece or parcel of land covered thereby. When the reassessment is recorded the original assessment shall be cancelled by the street superintendent so far as it affects the particular assessments involved. New bonds shall not be issued until the original bonds are delivered up to the city treasurer, who shall cancel the same. The lien of such reassessment shall hold its relative rank as to other special assessment liens as of the date of the original assessment."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 211—An act to amend sections 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28 of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of the printed amended bill add at the end of line 15 after the word "superintendent" the following: "or the city engineer, if the power and duty to do so has been delegated to him as hereinbefore provided".

Senate Bill No. 200—An act to amend section 1394½ of the Political Code, relating to fees and rates of tuition of non-resident students of the University of California.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, line 4, of the printed bill, after the period and commencing with the word "an" strike out all of the printed matter of line 4 and all of line 5, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"An admission fee and rate of tuition fixed by the regents of the University of California must be required of each nonresident student. The regents shall cause to be computed the actual cost to the university of maintaining one student in each of the respective courses of the several colleges for the period of one year. Each non-resident student shall be required to pay as the rate of tuition the sum provided for by the above computation for the particular course such student is following; provided, that the maximum sum to be paid shall not exceed five hundred dollars; and provided, further, that such sums may be remitted in whole or in part in the case of graduate students in other than professional colleges and schools. The term "non-resident student" as used in this section shall be construed to mean any person who has not been a bona fide resident of the State of California for more than one year immediately preceding the opening day of a semester during which he proposes to attend the university. The residence of each student shall be determined in accordance with the rules for determining residence prescribed by the provisions of section fifty-two of this code; provided, however, that every alien student who has not made a valid declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States as provided by the laws thereof, prior to the opening day of a semester during which he proposes to attend the university, shall be deemed to be a nonresident student; and further provided, that nothing herein or in section fifty-two of this code contained shall be construed to prevent the regents from causing to be classified as a resident student any citizen of the United States who has attained his majority according to the laws of the State of California, and who for a period of one year has been entirely self-supporting and actually present in the State of California, with the intention of acquiring a residence therein, or any minor child, a citizen of the United States, who does not receive and has not for a period of more than one year immediately preceding his entrance into the university received, directly or indirectly, any support or financial assistance from his father, providing such minor lives with his mother, who is and has been continuously for a period of more than one year actually present in the State of California with the intention of making her permanent home therein."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 91—An act to add a new section to be numbered 57*a* to an act entitled "The California Water Storage District Act," approved June 3, 1921, relating to, and providing for the financing of development or reconstruction projects, or projects for the repair and maintenance of, irrigation systems in irrigation districts organized and created, and now functioning, under the act entitled "The California Irrigation District Act," approved March 31, 1897, as amended, when such districts are included wholly within the boundaries of any water storage district or districts, now organized, or which at any time may be organized, under the provisions of the act entitled "The California Water Storage District Act," approved June 3, 1921.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

In the first line of the title, of the printed bill, strike out "fifty-seven" and insert in lieu thereof "nineteen".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, strike out "fifty-seven" and insert in lieu thereof "nineteen".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 1, line 5, of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 5 to 18, both inclusive; also strike out all of pages 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Whenever all the lands within any irrigation district or districts organized under the laws of the State of California shall be included within the boundaries of any water storage district organized under the provisions of this act, the state engineer shall, immediately upon appointing the commissioners provided for in section 19 of this act, notify the board or boards of directors of all such irrigation districts, in writing, of such appointment. All such notices shall be transmitted by the state engineer to the board of directors of each such irrigation district by registered mail addressed to each such board of directors at the place where its office is located. Said state engineer shall demand from the United States post office officials a return receipt for each such notice mailed and said return receipt when received by him shall be filed by said state engineer in his records and the date shown thereon as the date of delivery of said notice shall be conclusive evidence of the date on which said notice was received by the board of directors of any such irrigation district.

Said state engineer shall also cause to be published once in some newspaper or newspapers published in the county in which the board of directors of such irrigation district has its office, a substantial copy of said notice. At any time within thirty days after said notice is so published, the board of directors of any such irrigation district may, by filing a notice in writing in the office of the board of directors of any such water storage district, or the electors within any such irrigation district may, by filing in the office of the board of directors of said water storage district, a petition signed by 15 per cent of the electors within such irrigation district, qualified to vote at a general election held by said irrigation district, request the board of directors of such water storage district to assess upon the lands within said irrigation district as a unit, the benefits that will accrue to the lands within such irrigation district by reason of the construction of the works and completion of the project of said water storage district. Upon said notice or said petition being so filed, it shall be the duty of the board of directors of said water storage district to instruct said commissioners immediately, in writing, to assess to the lands within said irrigation district as a unit the benefits that will accrue to all the lands within said irrigation district by reason of the construction of the works and completion of the project. Said commissioners shall thereupon proceed to determine the benefits that will accrue to all the lands within such irrigation district from the construction of the works and completion of the project. The rolls prepared and certified to the state engineer shall, as to the lands within such irrigation district, contain the following statements:

(1) The name of the irrigation district within the boundaries of which said lands are included; and

(2) The total amount of the assessment upon all the lands within said irrigation district, as a unit.

The written report of the commissioners accompanying the assessment rolls shall determine the matters therein specified for the lands within said district as a unit only, and shall make no distinction or differentiation between the rights of or benefits to be received by individual owners or tracts of land within said irrigation district, but all such rights and benefits shall be considered as belonging to and accruing to the lands within said irrigation district as a unit. A certified copy of any portion of said rolls which contains the assessment upon the lands within said irrigation district shall be delivered by said commissioners to the board of directors of said irrigation district at the office of said board. In determining the benefits to the lands within said irrigation district and the amount of the assessment upon said lands, said commissioners shall proceed in the same manner as if all the lands in said irrigation district were held in separate ownership in one tract and were so assessed under section 19 of this act.

At any time within thirty days after said certified copy of said portion of said rolls has been delivered to the board of directors of said irrigation district, said board of directors may file with the state engineer its objections, in writing, to said assessment. Said objections shall be verified and shall set forth the grounds thereof. The adjustment board provided for in section 19 of this act shall hear such objections in the manner provided in said section 19; provided, that no evidence shall be received nor determination made at said hearing or hearings of any assessment to be levied on any particular landowner in said irrigation district, nor shall the rights to stored surplus waters or benefits to be received by any such owner be inquired into except as such evidence or inquiry shall be necessary to a determination of the proper assessment on the lands within said district as a unit.

When the two copies of the assessment roll as finally fixed and approved by the adjustment board are received by the board of directors of the water storage district, said board shall immediately transmit to each board of directors of any irrigation district upon the lands within which district an assessment is made in said rolls as provided in this section, a certified copy of any portion of said rolls which contains the assessment upon the lands within said irrigation district, as a unit.

After said certified copy of said portion of said assessment roll has been delivered to the board of directors of said irrigation district, said board shall proceed to raise the necessary money to pay such assessment. Said money may be raised by assessment, bond issue or any other method by which said irrigation district is authorized by the law under which it is organized to raise money for the construction or completion of works or the acquisition of property, or for the purposes specified in section 15 of the California Irrigation District Act, as amended, or any thereof, or for the purposes specified in any other provision of any law under which said irrigation district is or may hereafter be authorized to proceed, and it is hereby declared to be the intention of the Legislature to give to all such irrigation districts an opportunity to proceed in the manner provided by the law under which they are organized to secure the funds necessary to pay said assessment; provided, however, that it shall not be necessary for said board of directors to cause any surveys, examinations, drawings or plans to be made nor to estimate or determine that any amount of money is necessary to be raised, but the amount of said assessment shall be conclusively deemed to be the amount of money necessary to be raised; provided, further, that said board of directors of said irrigation district shall have the power to include within the amount of money to be raised such further sum as said board shall determine to be necessary to pay the expenses of raising the money to pay said assessment; and, provided, further, that it shall not be necessary in any case that a petition shall be signed by the landowners or electors within the irrigation district as a condition to the submission by the board of directors of said district to the electors thereof of the question whether bonds shall be issued or an assessment levied to pay the assessment levied by said water storage district.

If, within six months after such certified copy of said portion of said assessment roll has been delivered to the board of directors of any such irrigation district, the total amount of the assessment upon all the lands within said irrigation district, as a unit, has been deposited by said irrigation district, with the county treasurer of the county in which said irrigation district has its office, to the credit of said water storage district, no further payments on account of said assessment shall be required of said irrigation district or the lands within said irrigation district and said assessment shall be deemed paid in full and no bonds of said water storage district which may be issued on said assessment shall be a lien upon any lands within said irrigation district, nor shall said water storage district levy any assessment upon the lands within said irrigation district to pay the principal or interest of any such bonds, but said water storage district may levy supplemental, supplementary, special or additional assessments on the lands within said irrigation district, as hereinafter provided, when such assessments are levied on all the other lands within said water storage district as provided in this act.

If, within six months after such certified copy of said portion of said assessment roll has been delivered to the board of directors of any such irrigation district, such irrigation district has not deposited with the county treasurer of the county in which the board of directors of such irrigation district has its office, to the credit of said water storage district, the entire amount of said assessment on the lands within such irrigation district, as a unit, then the state engineer shall instruct the commissioners provided for in section 19 of this act, to assess the lands within the boundaries of said irrigation district in the manner provided in section 19 of this act for the assessments of lands within the water storage district, and in that event this section of this act shall have no application to the levying, equalizing, payment or effect of said assessment, but said assessment shall be levied, equalized and paid and its effect shall be the same as on all other lands within said water storage district; provided, however, that the board of directors of said water storage district may, in its discretion, grant to any such irrigation district much additional time in which to pay said assessment as said board of directors may deem reasonable.

The method provided by this section for the assessment of the lands within irrigation districts, as a unit, is an alternative method to be employed at the option of the board of directors of or the electors within any irrigation district within any water storage district whenever said board or said electors shall request that the assessment be levied as provided in this section, and this section shall not be construed to prevent the levy and equalization of an assessment upon the lands in an irrigation district in the same manner that assessments are levied and equalized on other lands in a water storage district if such irrigation district has not complied with all the requirements and conditions of this section.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to assessments levied under section 16 of this act, but shall apply to all other assessments levied under the provisions of this act. Whenever the board of directors of a water storage district intends to levy a supplemental, supplementary, special or additional assessment, which, under the provisions of this act, may be levied by the board of directors of said water storage district without securing the authorization of the voters within said water storage district at an election held for that purpose, the board of directors of said water storage district shall notify the board of directors of all such irrigation districts of its intention to levy such assessment and the board of directors of any such irrigation district may elect to pay such assessment on the lands within the irrigation district, as a unit, by including a sufficient amount in the next assessment levied and collected by such board of directors under the provisions of the California Irrigation District Act, provided, however, that the notice of intention of the board of directors of the water storage district to levy such assessment need not be published.

Whenever, subsequent to the levy of the first assessment, the voters within a water storage district, at an election, have voted in favor of acquiring property or constructing works, or whenever the voters within a water storage district, at an election, have authorized the board of directors of said water storage district to levy any assessment which, under the provisions of this act, may not be levied by the board of directors of a water storage district without securing the authorization of the voters within said water storage district, the board of directors of said water storage district shall so notify, in writing, the board of directors of each such irrigation district and further notify them that an assessment will be levied on the lands within said water storage district. Such notice shall also be published by the board of directors of said water storage district in the manner that notice is hereinbefore in this section required to be published of the appointment of the commissioners provided for in section 19 of this act, and the board of directors or electors of all such irrigation districts may elect to pay the assessment on the lands within such irrigation district, as a unit, in the same manner that they could elect to pay the first assessment hereinbefore in this section provided, and they shall have the same time after said notice is published as is provided for making such election and paying said first assessment after notice of the appointment of the commissioners provided for in section 19 of this act is published and the board of directors of any such irrigation district may raise the money to pay such assessment in the same manner that it is authorized to raise money to pay said first assessment.

Whenever the board of directors of the electors within any such irrigation district have requested the board of directors of any such water storage district to levy that part of any assessment which may be levied by the water storage district on the lands within such irrigation district, on said lands as a unit, as in this section provided, no bonds of said water storage district shall be issued on said assessment of said water storage district or any part thereof, nor shall any proceedings to issue bonds on said assessment of said water storage district or any part thereof be taken by said water storage district until each such irrigation district has either paid the amount of said assessment on the lands within said irrigation district in full or has failed to pay said assessment within the time in this section provided and the lands within said irrigation district have been assessed.

Every owner of land in any irrigation district within the boundaries of any water storage district may sign all petitions and vote at all elections in the same manner as any other owner of land in said water storage district and shall not be disqualified from signing any petition or voting at any election because of the fact that the land within the irrigation district within which the land of said owner is situated has been assessed as a unit as hereinbefore in this section provided, and that no direct assessment has been levied by said water storage district on the land of said owner; provided, however, that if the land within any irrigation district shall have been assessed as a unit as hereinbefore in this section provided, and shall have paid the entire amount of said assessment on said land, no owner of land shall, after the time of such payment sign any petition requesting that an election be held to determine whether bonds shall be issued on such assessment of said water storage district, nor in such case shall any such owner of land vote at any such election."

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all of the title after the word "act" in the first line of the title of the printed bill and insert in lieu thereof the following: "relating to the doing of public work by day's labor or force account, except emergency and maintenance work and work costing less than ten thousand dollars; requiring the state highway engineer, state engineer, the state architect, county engineers, county surveyors, city and county engineers, county highway engineers, road commissioners, city engineers, commissioners of public works, superintendents of streets, harbor engineers, flood control engineers, and the engineers of any reclamation, irrigation or other districts, political subdivisions or agencies of the state directing, supervising or superintending such work, or in charge of the engineering for or in connection therewith, to keep the costs, prepare and file plans, specifications and estimates of costs, and, upon completion, prepare and file certificates of cost thereof; and providing for the keeping of such plans, specifications and certificates as public records."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all after the enacting clause in the printed bill and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the state highway engineer, the state engineer, the state architect and of every county engineer, county surveyor, city and county engineer, county highway engineer, road commissioner, city engineer, commissioner of public works, superintendent of streets, harbor engineer, flood control engineer, and the engineer of any reclamation, irrigation or other district, political subdivision, or agency of the state directing, supervising or superintending the construction, or in charge of the engineering work for or in connection with the construction, of any bridge, road, street, highway, ditch, canal, dam, tunnel, excavation, building or structure within the state by day's labor or force account, except emergency and maintenance work and work costing less than ten thousand dollars, to keep an accurate account of the cost of such work; to prepare and file in his office, prior to the commencement of the work, full, complete and accurate plans and specifications, and an estimate of the cost thereof, except where other and adequate provision is made by law requiring the preparation and filing of such plans, specifications and estimates of cost by some other officer or in some other office; and, upon completion of any such work, to prepare and file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the work is performed a certificate in writing verified by him in the same manner as complaints in civil actions, setting forth the estimate of cost, names of bidders with prices bid, changes in adopted or approved plans and specifications, that the work performed has or has not been done in accordance with such plans and specifications, a list of any publicly owned equipment used in the work, and an itemized statement of the actual cost of all labor, materials, rentals, repairs, compensation and other insurance, transportation of labor, equipment and materials, engineering or architectural services including the services of public employees in connection with the work, and any and all other cost entering into the work performed, including a reasonable amount for depreciation of publicly owned equipment used in the work and the cost of repairs thereon while so used.

SEC. 2. Such plans, specifications and certificates shall be open to inspection and examination as a public record."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 176—An act to amend section 4237 of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers in counties of the eighth class.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, line 7, of the printed bill, after the semicolon following the word "to-wit", insert the following:

- "1. The county clerk, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum.
2. The sheriff, four thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The sheriff shall also be allowed his actual, reasonable and necessary expenses in all civil and criminal cases.
3. The recorder, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum.
4. The auditor, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum.
5. The treasurer, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum.
6. The tax collector, one thousand nine hundred dollars per annum.
7. The assessor, four thousand dollars per annum. The assessor shall receive his actual, reasonable and necessary expenses while engaged in his official duties in the field.

8. The district attorney, four thousand dollars per annum: provided, that in counties of this class the district attorney in addition to the salary herein fixed, shall be allowed his traveling and other personal expenses incurred in criminal cases arising in the county and in civil actions and proceedings in which the county is interested, and all other expenses necessarily incurred by him in the detection of crime and the prosecution of criminal cases, and in civil actions and proceedings and all other matters in which the county is interested, all of which said charges and expenses incurred by him shall be a legal charge against the county.

9. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. The superintendent of schools, three thousand three hundred dollars per annum: provided, however, that in counties of this class the superintendent of schools in addition to the salary herein fixed shall be allowed ten dollars per school district for traveling expenses where he shall have visited each school of said district in the county during any one calendar year.

12. The surveyor, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum: and actual, reasonable and necessary expenses when engaged in the field, or in the office in the discharge of his official duties in the county.

13. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries for all services rendered by them, payable in the same manner as county officers are paid, viz: In townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, two hundred fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than five thousand nor more than twenty thousand, one hundred dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than three thousand, nor more than five thousand, sixty dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than two thousand nor more than three thousand, forty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than one thousand four hundred nor more than two thousand, thirty-five dollars per month; in all townships having a population of less than one thousand four hundred, twenty-five dollars per month: provided, that for the purposes of this section the population of the several townships shall be ascertained by multiplying the number of registered voters at the last general election by three and one-half. The compensation herein fixed for justices of the peace shall be in full for all services rendered and all fees collected by them shall be paid into the county treasury as provided by law. In townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, the justice of the peace shall be allowed a clerk, which position is hereby created. Such clerk shall be appointed by the justice of the peace of said township, and shall hold office during the pleasure of said justice of the peace. Said clerk shall give a bond in the sum of three thousand dollars, with at least two sureties to be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county in which said township is situated, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of the office; and he shall receive an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The justice's clerk shall keep a record of the proceedings of the said court, and shall issue all process ordered by the court, and shall collect and receive all fines and forfeitures in criminal cases and pay the same, to the authorities legally entitled to receive the same, at the time and in the manner provided by law. He shall prepare bonds, justify bail when the amount has been fixed by the court, and shall have authority to administer and certify oaths and take and certify affidavits in any action, suit or proceedings in said justice's court. The clerk shall be in attendance on the court in the courtroom of said justice's court for the dispatch of official business, daily, legal holidays excepted, from the hour of nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m. and during such reasonable times thereafter as may be necessary for the proper performance of his duties.

14. Constables shall receive the following salaries for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, payable monthly in the same manner as county officers are paid, viz: In townships having a population of five thousand or more one hundred dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than three thousand nor more than five thousand, fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than two thousand nor more than three thousand, forty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than one thousand four hundred, nor more than two thousand, thirty-five dollars per month; in all townships having a population of less than one thousand four hundred, twenty-five dollars per month. Constables in counties of this class shall also receive for their own use and benefit such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law for mileage in criminal cases and shall also receive such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law in civil cases. Such mileage in criminal cases is intended to cover the ordinary expenses of constables, and other than such mileage, they shall be allowed the following expenses and no other, to wit: In criminal, insane, inebriate and drug habitue cases, the actual, reasonable and necessary cost of transporting prisoners to and from the county jail; of supporting such prisoners while in their custody; of pursuing criminals when a felony has been committed within their township and no warrant has been issued, whether an arrest has been made or not; of transporting inebriates, drug habitues and insane persons from the justice's court to the place of detention and from the place of detention to the superior court, and from the superior court to the insane asylum, but no mileage shall be allowed for such transportation to the place of detention, to the superior court, or to the insane asylum.

15. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and their necessary expenses when attending to the business of the county, other than the meetings of the board; and fifteen cents a mile in traveling to and from his residence to the county seat; provided, that not more than one mileage at any one term of the board shall be allowed.

16. The bonds of the clerk, sheriff, recorder, auditor, treasurer, tax collector, assessor, district attorney, coroner, public administrator, surveyor and superintendent of schools, justice of the peace, constable and clerk of the justice of the peace shall be executed with a reliable bond and security company, and the cost of said bond when duly approved, shall be a charge against the county, and payable out of the general fund.

17. The county clerk shall have one chief deputy at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; three courtroom deputies at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum each; three office deputies at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum each; one judgment clerk at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; one deputy who shall act as clerk to the board of supervisors at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; one deputy who shall act as assistant clerk to the board of supervisors at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and a deputy or deputies not to exceed fifteen for the purpose of registering electors and performing all duties pertaining to elections who shall be paid not to exceed five dollars per diem each; also a deputy or deputies to register electors outside of the county seat who shall receive a compensation of ten cents for each elector registered and who shall receive no other compensation or expenses.

The coroner, one deputy who shall be paid by the coroner out of his fees.

The county assessor shall have one chief deputy at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; one draftsman at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; one chief office deputy at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; one office deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; one stenographer and copyist at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; one utility and valuation deputy for inside work who shall serve not to exceed one hundred and fifty days in any one calendar year and for which service he shall be paid at the rate of five dollars per diem; three deputies to be employed in preparing assessment rolls who shall serve not to exceed one hundred thirty days each in any one calendar year and be paid therefor at the rate of five dollars per diem each; one deputy to be employed in assessing automobiles and who shall serve not to exceed eighty days in any one calendar year and be paid therefor at the rate of five dollars per diem; one utility and valuation clerk for outside work who shall serve not to exceed eighty days in any one calendar year and be paid therefor at the rate of seven dollars per diem; provided, however, that such deputy shall furnish at his own expense necessary automobile transportation while so employed; three field deputies for service inside the city of Stockton who shall serve not to exceed one hundred days each in any one calendar year and be paid therefor five dollars per diem each; twelve field deputies to be employed in the county outside of the city of Stockton and who shall serve not to exceed eighty days each in any one calendar year and be paid therefor at the rate of seven dollars per diem each; provided, that such deputy shall each furnish at his own expense necessary automobile transportation while so employed; and an emergency deputy or deputies, at a salary of five dollars per diem each, which said emergency deputy or deputies shall not receive more than one thousand dollars in the aggregate in any one calendar year.

The county surveyor one chief deputy who shall be paid a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum. One draftsman who shall be paid a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

All the deputies, assistants, employees, emergency help and clerks hereinbefore mentioned shall perform in addition to the duties herein enumerated such other duties as their respective principals shall require, and they shall be paid out of the salary fund at the same time and in the same manner as the principals are paid; provided, however, that allowances for use of motor vehicles by deputy sheriffs employed as traffic officers shall be made on claims against the county and paid by the board of supervisors as other claims are paid.

18. The salaries, fees, mileage and commissions herein provided shall be in full for all official services performed. No county, district or township officer shall receive from the county any salary, compensation, fees, commission or mileage, except as in this section provided. All compensation, commissions, fees and mileage now or hereafter provided by law to be paid to any county, district or township officer for any official service, except as in this section otherwise provided, shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the general fund, unless some other fund is especially designated by law. All compensations, fees, commissions, and mileage, except as in this section otherwise provided, received by any county, district or township officer, either as such officer, or as the agent of the State of California, or of any officer thereof, or as the agent of any political subdivision of the State of California, or of any officer thereof, shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the general fund, unless some other fund is specially designated by law. Until such county, district or township officer shall pay into the county treasury all compensation, commissions, fees and mileage as herein required to be paid, he shall receive no salary, and it shall be the duty of the auditor to refuse to deliver to him thereafter a salary warrant, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer to refuse to pay the same.

19. For attending as a grand juror or as a juror in superior court, for each day's attendance per day, three dollars. For each mile actually traveled in attending court as a juror in going, only, per mile, twenty-five cents.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 101. An act to amend section 4239 of the Political Code, relating to the compensation of officers in counties of the tenth class.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, line 4, of the printed bill, after the number "4239" add the following: "In counties of the tenth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. The county clerk, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the county clerk one deputy for each department of the superior court in each of said counties, which offices are hereby created, as provided by section four thousand two hundred ninety of the Political Code, of the State of California. Said deputies shall be appointed by said county clerk, shall be court room clerks of said department, and shall each receive a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, which shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salary of the county clerk is paid. There shall be also and is hereby allowed to said county clerk a chief deputy and one office deputy and one copyist which offices are hereby created. Said deputies shall be appointed by said county clerk, the chief deputy to receive a salary of two hundred dollars per month, and the office deputy to receive a salary of one hundred fifty dollars per month, and the copyist to receive a salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month, which salaries shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salary of the county clerk is paid. In each year in which a new and complete registration of voters is required by law, said county clerk shall appoint an additional deputy or deputies, who shall receive the sum of seven and one-half cents per name for taking the affidavits of registration outside of the office of said county clerk, and the claims for their services at said rate shall be presented to and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims are presented and allowed. In each year in which a general election is held the county clerk may appoint assistant clerks, which offices are hereby created and whose compensation shall not exceed the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars in the aggregate for all assistants so employed. All fees received by this office shall be turned over to the county and become the property of the county. All the provisions in this paragraph, are to apply to the present incumbents.

2. The sheriff, three thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and such mileage as is now allowed by law, and also all fees for service of papers in actions arising outside of this county; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and hereby is allowed to the sheriff twelve deputies, whose offices are hereby created, and who shall be appointed by the sheriff, and shall be paid salaries as follows: One chief deputy sheriff at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; one deputy sheriff, to act as fingerprint expert and photographer, at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; one deputy sheriff at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum; two deputy sheriffs at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars each per annum; one office deputy sheriff at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; one office deputy sheriff in the fingerprint department at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; one deputy sheriff to act as jailer at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum; two deputy sheriffs to act as assistant jailers at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars each per annum; two deputy sheriffs who shall act as bailiffs of the superior court of said county at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars each per annum; provided, however, that if a third superior court should be created for said county there shall be and is hereby allowed one extra deputy sheriff who shall act as bailiff of said court at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and who shall be appointed by the sheriff. The salaries of all of said deputies shall be paid by said county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the sheriff is paid. All fees and commissions, except as hereinbefore in this paragraph mentioned, shall be turned over to the county and become the property of the county. All provisions of this paragraph relating to salaries of deputies shall apply to the incumbents.

3. The recorder, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the recorder four deputies who shall be appointed by the recorder, and shall be paid the following salaries, to wit: one chief deputy at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, one deputy (who shall have charge of the Torrens work) at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The salaries of said deputies shall be paid by the county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salaries of the county officers are paid. The recorder may also appoint such number of copyists as may be required, who shall be paid by the county at the rate of five cents per folio. The compensation of such copyists shall be paid monthly upon claims duly presented to and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims are presented and allowed. All fees and commissions received by this office shall be turned over to the county and become the property of the county. Except as to the salary of the recorder, the changes effected by this subdivision shall apply to the incumbents.

4. The auditor, three thousand dollars per annum. In counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the auditor the following deputies: whose offices are hereby created and who shall be appointed by the auditor and receive the following salaries: one chief deputy, two thousand dollars per annum; one deputy, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and such other assistants as the auditor may require; provided, that the compensation of such other assistants shall not in the aggregate exceed the sum of five thousand dollars in any one year; and provided, further, that the auditor shall file with the county clerk a verified statement, showing in detail the amounts and the persons to whom said compensation is paid. The salaries of said deputies and assistants herein provided for shall be paid by the said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector is paid. The provisions of this paragraph relating to deputies and assistants shall apply to the incumbents.

One deputy clerk for each department of the superior court in this class of counties who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars each per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments, also one deputy clerk who shall be paid one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments; and also a stenographer at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; the salaries of said deputy clerks to be paid at the same time, and in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk, the clerk also to receive ten cents a name for each person registered, which shall be allowed by the board of supervisors of the county. He shall also be allowed not to exceed ten deputies for the purpose of registering electors, who shall be paid not to exceed five cents for each elector registered; that any of such deputies as are required to work in the office shall receive not to exceed four dollars per day for the time so employed. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

2. The sheriff, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum and mileage for the service of papers or process coming from courts other than those of his own county; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one chief deputy sheriff at two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments; and four deputy sheriffs at one thousand eight hundred eighty dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments. The sheriff may also, with the consent of the superior judge, when necessary for the care of a jury, appoint a woman as deputy sheriff who shall be paid a per diem of five dollars when actually engaged in the performance of her duties. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same apply immediately to the present incumbents.

3. The recorder, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; and said recorder shall collect and pay into the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county the fees required by law to be collected; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one chief deputy recorder who shall receive a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, one indexing deputy recorder who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and three deputies who shall each receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and such copyists as are necessary to perform the duties of the office, at a compensation of five cents per folio, the salaries of said recorder, deputies and copyists to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

4. The auditor, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy auditor who shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and one deputy auditor who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The auditor may also be allowed by the board of supervisors, a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars per annum for additional clerical help when, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, such assistance is necessary. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

5. The treasurer, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law.

6. The tax collector, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law: provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be one deputy tax collector who shall receive a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments at the same time and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector; also provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy tax collector for not exceeding four months in each year at a salary of one hundred fifteen dollars per month, also one deputy tax collector for not exceeding six months in each year, at one hundred fifteen dollars per month, said salaries to be paid by the county out of the same fund as the tax collector's. The tax collector may also be allowed by the board of supervisors, a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars per annum for additional clerical help when, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, such assistance is necessary. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

7. The assessor, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum, and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law: provided, that in counties of this class there shall be allowed two deputies who shall be appointed by the assessor, one to receive a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum and one to receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid. It shall be the duty of said deputies, among other things, to make and correct all necessary plats, maps, and block-books for the assessor's office: provided, also, that for each name upon the assessment roll, representing one or more statements in excess of ten thousand, the assessor shall receive fifty cents. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

8. The district attorney, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy district attorney at a salary of one thousand three hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy district attorney at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county. In addition, the district attorney shall be allowed one stenographer who shall be paid a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

9. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. The superintendent of schools, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of the county, which expenses shall not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars in any one year. He shall receive five dollars per day for his services while serving as secretary of the board of education. The superintendent of schools shall be allowed one deputy, to be appointed by the principal, who shall receive as salary two thousand dollars per annum; also one deputy, who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; one deputy for not exceeding three months in each year, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; said salaries of deputies to be paid in equal monthly installments, at the same time in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

12. The surveyor shall receive three thousand dollars per annum, and in addition thereto, all actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in connection with field work. He shall have one deputy county surveyor at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and one draftsman at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, said deputy and draftsman to be appointed by the principal and paid at the same time and in the same manner as the county surveyor. It shall be the duty of the surveyor among other things, to make all necessary county and road maps, and all necessary plans and specifications for bridge work and county buildings; provided, however, that when in the judgment of the board of supervisors of the county, it is necessary to employ additional assistance for the performance of said work, other than with regard to roads, the board of supervisors may allow the necessary actual expense thereof. Also to prepare all maps or plats necessary to accompany reports made by him on road work, and prepare and keep all the necessary and proper records in his office; provided, he shall receive nothing for preparing any map or plat necessary to accompany reports made by him on road work, nor for preparing and keeping the proper records in his office. He shall at all times be subject to the orders of the board of supervisors. The office of the county surveyor shall be kept open for the accommodation of the public, with the surveyor, a deputy, or a competent clerk in charge from nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m., the same as other county offices. The county surveyor shall be allowed the services of a competent clerk, to be appointed by the principal, and receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the same fund, at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid. Such compensation and salaries as above set forth shall be in full for all services as such county surveyor, and all fees and compensation received or collected by him for services other than for the county, shall be paid into the county treasury. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

13. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the total number of registered voters, in each township, at the next preceding general election, prior to the fixing of the classification, the said population to be determined by multiplying the said total number of registered voters by three and one-half; townships having a population of fifteen thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of eight thousand and less than fifteen thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three thousand and less than eight thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; provided, that the board of supervisors of the county may, prior to any general election, consolidate two or more of such townships into one.

13a. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred seventy-five dollars per month; provided, in townships of this class the justice of the peace shall be allowed a clerk, which position is hereby created. Such clerk shall be appointed by the justice of the peace of said township and shall hold office during the pleasure of said justice of the peace. He shall have authority to receive and file all pleadings and other papers to be filed; sign and issue summons and process, including writs of attachment and execution; enter satisfaction of judgments; issue transcripts and abstracts thereof and shall have authority to administer and certify oaths and take and certify affidavits in any action, suit or proceedings in said justice's court.

The clerk shall be in attendance on the court in the court room of said justice's court for the dispatch of official business, daily, legal holidays excepted, from the hour of nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m. of each day.

Such clerk shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month, payable monthly in the same manner as salaries of county officers are paid.

In townships of the second class, one hundred dollars per month; in townships of the third class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, thirty dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, twenty dollars per month. Each justice must pay into the county treasury once a month all fees and fines collected by him. Justices of the peace of the first class are required to keep their offices open from nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m. In townships of the first, second and third classes the board of supervisors shall furnish adequate office room, in all other townships all justices shall be allowed not to exceed five dollars per month for office rent. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

14. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred twenty-five dollars; in townships of the second class, one hundred dollars; in townships of the third class, eighty dollars; in townships of the fourth class, sixty dollars; in townships of the fifth class, forty dollars. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed, each constable may receive and retain for his own use, such fees as are now allowed or may hereafter be allowed by law, for all services rendered by him in civil actions, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury; provided, further, that when a constable is required to go out of his own county to serve a warrant of arrest or any other papers in a criminal case, he shall be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited by the board of supervisors. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

15. Supervisors shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, each, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in coming to and from the meetings of the board; provided, that only one mileage at any one session of the board shall be allowed. They shall act as road commissioners in their respective districts. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect.

15½. In counties of the sixteenth class the salary of the county librarian shall be two thousand one hundred dollars per annum: provided, that in counties of the sixteenth class when the county librarian also acts as city librarian that he may receive additional compensation from said city for which he acts as city librarian. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

16. Witnesses in criminal cases and in cases of dependent and delinquent persons shall receive two dollars per day, and ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, one way only. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The court may disallow any fee to a witness unnecessarily subpoenaed.

17. Jurors in a county of this class, both grand and petty jurors in the superior court, shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat in going only, the sum of twenty cents per mile, such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same.

This act to go into effect immediately, and apply to all present incumbents, except as hereinbefore provided and excepted."

Senate Bill No. 427—An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 1734c, relating to the change of boundaries of high school districts.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Beginning with line 8, on page 1, strike out all reading matter down to and including line 36, on page 2, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"When two-thirds of the heads of families residing in any elementary school district which is a part of any high school district and the nearest part of which is more than six miles by traveled road from the high school building of said high school district, as shown by the affidavit of one or more of the petitioners, shall present to the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over such high school district, a petition asking that such elementary school district be excluded from such high school district and annexed to a contiguous high school district, accompanied by an agreement signed by the high school board of the high school district to which annexation is sought, agreeing to such annexation; such superintendent of schools shall, after verification of the signatures thereto and finding them sufficient, transmit such petition and agreement with or without his recommendation thereon, to the board of supervisors of the county in which such elementary school district is situated.

If, by the exclusion of the elementary school district, the assessed valuation of the property of the high school district would be less than seven million dollars, or if by the exclusion of the elementary school district the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district would exceed five per cent of the value of the taxable property remaining in the district, said board of supervisors shall refuse to call an election for the purpose of determining whether said elementary school district shall be excluded. Otherwise, said board of supervisors may, in its discretion, within thirty days after receipt of the petition and agreement, call an election in the district so petitioning, and shall appoint three qualified electors of the district to conduct the election. Said election shall be held at the public schoolhouse of the district petitioning and shall be called by posting notice at least fifteen days before the election in three public places in the district, one of which shall be at the public schoolhouse, if there be such in the district; said board shall also publish the notice once a week for two weeks in a newspaper published in the district, or, if there be none such, in a newspaper in general circulation in the district.

Said election shall be conducted by officers appointed for that purpose in the manner provided by law for conducting school elections; the ballots at such election shall contain the words "For exclusion from _____ high school district and annexation to _____ high school district"; the name of the high school district from which exclusion is sought and the name of the high school district to which annexation is desired must be printed on the ballot, whereon the elector shall stamp or make a cross after the word "yes" or the word "no", also printed on said ballot.

It shall be the duty of said election officers to canvass the vote of said election and report the result to the said board of supervisors within five days subsequent to the holding of said election.

If two-thirds of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of such exclusion and annexation, said board of supervisors shall, within fifteen days after receiving such notice, notify the high school board of the high school district of the result of such election, and if said high school board does not protest the exclusion of such district from the high school district, within thirty days after receiving notice, the board of supervisors shall exclude said territory from said high school district and annex it to the contiguous high school district, as provided in said election; however, should the high school board of said high school district protest such exclusion and annexation, the board of supervisors shall notify the superintendent of public instruction of the election and its result, and of the protest of the high school board, whereupon the superintendent of public instruction shall create a board of review composed of three county superintendents of schools of counties not contiguous to the county or counties in which is located the high school district from which the elementary school desires separation.

Said board of review shall, upon a date set by the superintendent of public instruction, survey the situation and conduct a public hearing on the question as to whether or not the elementary school district shall be excluded from the local high school district and annexed to a contiguous high school district. Said hearing shall be held at the high school building of the high school district to which the territory desiring exclusion at the time belongs; and said hearing shall be conducted under such rules of procedure as may be prescribed by such board of review, which may, in its discretion, require any or all evidence and information to be submitted under oath administered by a member of the board,

The superintendent of public instruction shall notify the county superintendents concerned and said county superintendents shall notify the interested high and elementary school boards, of the date of the inspection and the date and place of the public hearing, and shall give publicity to said meeting by printing an announcement of the same in a newspaper published in the high school district, or, if there be none such, in a newspaper in general circulation in said district.

In arriving at its conclusion, the board of review shall take into consideration the present and future effect on public welfare only, and said board shall, before it adjourns, recommend in writing to the board of supervisors either that the petition of the elementary school district be granted, or, if it so deems, that it shall be denied.

The board of supervisors must, within fifteen days thereafter, act in accordance with the recommendations contained therein, entering upon its minutes an order excluding the territory of said elementary school district from the high school district and annexing it to the contiguous high school district, if such be the recommendation of the board of review; or an order denying exclusion and annexation of said elementary school district, if such be the recommendation of the board of review.

A certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors shall be entered by its clerk in his record of high school districts, and he shall also send copies thereof to the county clerks of each county in which any part of such elementary school district or high school district is situated; and they shall also enter it in their records of high school districts; provided, however, that the district so withdrawing shall not be released from responsibility for any of the bonded indebtedness incurred while it was a part of the high school district from which it has withdrawn.

Superintendents of schools are hereby authorized and required by law to perform the duties prescribed herein. The high school board of any high school district wherein the superintendent of public instruction has ordered a review of the petition of an elementary school district to be excluded from said high school district and annexed to a contiguous high school district, is hereby authorized and required to pay the actual and necessary traveling expenses of the members of the board of review, provided for in this section."

Amendment adopted.

Senate Bill No. 552—An act to amend an act entitled "An act to require the installation of certain sanitary facilities in the operating rooms of theaters and moving picture houses; and providing penalties for its violation," approved June 3, 1921.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

"An act to amend an act entitled "An act to require the installation of certain sanitary facilities in the operating rooms of theaters and moving picture houses, and providing penalties for its violation," approved June 3, 1921, is hereby amended to read as follows:

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In the operating room of every theater and moving picture house located in any municipality there shall be provided running water and toilet facilities for the use of the operator.

In every municipality or other place having a sewer system adjacent to that portion of the building in which is located the operating room, such toilet facilities in said operating room shall consist of a flush-tank toilet and wash basin with running water whenever the building, health and sanitary ordinances of such municipality permit the installation of the same. In any municipality or other place having no such sewer system a dry-closet or other contrivance acceptable to the local health officer shall be installed in said operating room in place and stead of a flush-tank toilet. Any violation of the provision of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars for each offense, and it shall be a separate offense each day that an owner of a theater or moving picture house shall fail to comply with the provisions.

SEC. 2. As used in this act the terms "theaters, moving picture houses and moving picture show places" include only such buildings or places as are used primarily as theaters or for the display of motion pictures.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force on and after July 1, 1924."

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 13.

Relating to immigrants or permanent residents of all aliens ineligible to citizenship.

WHEREAS, The continued admission of undesirable immigrants into the United States under the operation of our present laws taken in connection with the vast number of non-naturalized, non-assimilated persons heretofore admitted through lax laws and lax administration of our immigration laws, constitutes a vital and growing menace to American institutions and American ideals; and

WHEREAS, Obviously, the admission as immigrants of aliens who, under our laws are ineligible to citizenship, must create in our midst communities of non-assimilables having interests and ideals of their own and offering more or less of danger to American institutions and citizenship; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to so amend the present laws as to prohibit absolutely the entrance as immigrants or permanent residents of all aliens ineligible to citizenship; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of each state legislature now in session.

NOES—Senator Johnson. A. B.—1.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 13 ordered transmitted to the Assembly.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 14.

Relating to persons whose parents are ineligible to citizenship.

WHEREAS, Large numbers of persons ineligible to citizenship permanently settle in California, and

WHEREAS, All persons born in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and may own land, enjoy the elective franchise and all of the rights of citizenship, and

WHEREAS, Such ineligible aliens and their children are non-assimilable and establish and live in separate communities, and

WHEREAS, Through the citizenship of the children, such ineligible aliens obtain the full enjoyment and beneficial use of lands; be it

Resolved, That the State of California, through its Legislature, hereby memorializes the Congress to propose an amendment to the constitution of the United States, withholding citizenship from all persons whose parents are ineligible to citizenship; be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to transmit copies of these resolutions to the President of the United States, to the Secretary of State of the United States and to each of the members of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Resolution read.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution.

NOES—Senator Johnson, A. B.—1.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 14 ordered transmitted to the Assembly.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 16.

Relative to the proper care and relief of aged and infirm Indians in the State of California.

WHEREAS, The Senate of the State of California believes from definite information presented to, and by members of this body, that there is urgent need for directing the attention of the federal government to the fact that many aged and infirm Indians in the State of California are actually suffering from a lack of the necessities of life, a condition which should be remedied in accordance with certain treaties heretofore enacted between the government of the United States and the California Indians; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and the Assembly, jointly, in biennial session at Sacramento, California, this twenty-sixth day of March, 1923, That we most respectfully urge the authorities intrusted with the federal administration of Indian affairs, to make an immediate investigation, to the end that the conditions complained of, may be adequately remedied, and relief afforded.

Resolved, further, That copies of this resolution be made by the Secretary of the Senate, and transmitted to the President of the United States, the Secretary of the Interior, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and to each of the California Senators and Representatives in Congress.

PETITION.

The following petition was presented by Senator Crowley, and ordered printed in the Journal:

WHEREAS, Richardson Bay is a small landlocked arm of San Francisco Bay, too limited in size for continuous and enjoyable shooting and hunting, yet so placid are its waters and so profusely are its shallows strewn with shellfish fry that thousands of wild ducks seek it during protective periods as fat feeding grounds preparatory to the great migration to northern lakes; and,

WHEREAS, Said Richardson Bay is girted by railroads and highways used by thousands of travelers and tourists to all of whom the great flocks of feeding waterfowl within a stone's throw of the passing vehicles form a most inspiring outlook; and,

WHEREAS, Said bay is now visited for three months by the large quota of beautiful canvasback duck, which, with legal protection may be extended to six months of the year; and,

WHEREAS, This fleeting order of waterfowl should be especially conserved for the study and the enjoyment of the youth of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, of the student body of the Humboldt Evening High School of San Francisco, do hereby commend to the favorable consideration of the Governor and the Senate and the Assembly of the State Legislature, the Reindollar bill.

setting aside Richardson Bay in Marin County as a game reserve and refuge for wild waterfowl; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be mailed to Governor Richardson, to the State Senate, to the State Assembly and to each of the representatives of San Francisco in the Legislature.

By order of the student body of the Humboldt Evening High School, San Francisco, California.

DOROTHY A. LASUTER, Secretary.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 15.

Relative to industrial disputes.

WHEREAS, On July 1, 1922, approximately four hundred thousand railway shopmen went on strike in the United States (for reasons which we as a legislative body neither condemn nor condone) and which strike affected and stagnated the commerce of the United States; and,

WHEREAS, On July 1, 1922, the President of the United States offered his good offices as mediator to end the industrial dispute between the shopmen and the railroad management offering terms of settlement and, it is reported, stated to the "Federated Shop Crafts" that if they would accept the same and the railroad management should refuse he would carry his position to the American people; and,

WHEREAS, The terms offered by the President of the United States were accepted by the "Federated Shop Crafts" yet refused by the railroad management which seems that his efforts were unavailing and that said strike is not ended at this time; and,

WHEREAS, Owing to the fact that the State of California is in a great measure dependent upon railroad transportation facilities and efficiency owing to the nature of its fruitgrowing industries and therefore can not permit of further losses such as those suffered during the past period of the strike; and,

WHEREAS, It is reported that the Interstate Commerce Commission reports show a marked increase in the amount of defective railroad equipment and motive power customary at this period of the year, so much so that it appears unavoidable that stagnation of United States commerce will continue and grow worse unless the former skilled railroad employees be returned to service: now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly, jointly, That the Legislature urgently request that the President of the United States use his offices to bring about a settlement of this industrial struggle and that each of California's Senators and Representatives in Congress be and they are hereby urged to use their good offices in their endeavor to bring about the desired results and that the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to forward copies of this resolution to the President of the United States and to each of California's Senators and Representatives in Congress.

PETITIONS.

The following newspaper articles and petitions were presented by Senator Boggs and ordered printed in the Journal.

[From the Stockton Record of Tuesday, November 28, 1922.]

FOUR FISHERMEN FINED $1,000 FOR USING GILL NETS.

One thousand dollars in fines were paid yesterday in the court of Justice Barber at Thornton by four Italian market fishermen from Pittsburg, Contra Costa County, who pleaded guilty to using gill nets to catch striped bass in the Mokelumne river.

The fishermen were arrested by Deputy Game Warden J. O'Connell and C. Newsome and immediately brought before the court. Two of the Italians had several hundred dollars in their possession. They explained that they expected to be caught and had the money in readiness to pay their fine in case they were arrested.

The court fined each defendant $250, one of the heaviest sentences imposed in a long time for an offense of this character. The nets were confiscated.

The four fishermen who paid the fines were Salvatore Bartineo, Francisco Lombardo, Vincenzo Mutalo and Vincent Aiello.

[From the Stockton Record of December 5, 1922.]

MORE PROTECTION FOR STRIPED BASS IS BEING URGED.

Arguing that more protection is needed to preserve the present supply of striped bass in the waters of California, Fred L. Hulslander has written to the sporting editor of the Record, his views on the subject. His letter follows:

John J. Peri,

Sporting Editor of the Stockton Record.

DEAR SIR: As a result of a petition for the protection of the striped bass, which has been circulated here (the petition being similar to one now being circulated in the bay cities, where the movement originally started) some little talk has arisen locally, and it seems to come from those who have not delved deep enough into the subject to afford their argument any substantial foundation.

These same individuals claim to be anglers, and lovers of the sport of angling, and one would naturally be inclined to think they would favor any project designed for the protection of our game fish, rather than to take the opposite stand. However, the persons possessing these opinions are steadily in the minority, I am glad to say.

In a recent issue of a local daily paper, it was stated that some of the local anglers claim that the waters of our state now contain more striped bass than ever before. On the other hand you can hear some of these same persons say that it is impossible to effect a closed season on striped bass to the market fisherman because the species is a highly prized food fish.

It must be borne in mind that the striped bass was planted on our coast, from the Atlantic side, in 1870-odd. To be sure the fish thrived and multiplied to a remarkable degree since that time. But during the past two or three years it has been a most noticeable fact, with those who angle for them in both salt and fresh water, that greater protection should be given the fish to enable propagation.

The striped bass is, of course, a salt water species, and like the salmon, it ascends the rivers and creeks in spawning seasons. The writer has personally visited the coast during the past three seasons, the very native elements of this fish, and each year the fishing has been poorer than the year preceding.

I have also kept in close touch with the salt water anglers of some of the coast towns and they invariably report that fishing is poor, and are at a loss to understand it, as in years back the bass were plentiful. Now then, why does this condition exist?

Yes, the striped bass is one of our food fish, it is true. And it must be remembered, too, that the sturgeon, which fish at one time was most plentiful in our waters, was considered one of our extremely fine food fishes. Still, a law was legislated forcing a closed season for a period of years. Then again there was a time, and not so very far back, that one could buy in the market, quail, doves, wild ducks, etc. But it cannot be done today.

Why did it become necessary to enact protection laws in these classes? I'll tell you why.

When it becomes recognized, by those few who are interested, that our game and certain species of our fish are fast becoming extinct, it is understood then that something must be done. But, alas, some of us never see or feel the real detriment until it is too late.

When it is stated that laws cannot be made for further protection of the striped bass simply because it is highly esteemed as a food fish, such assertion carries little weight from an argumentative standpoint. Laws protecting our fish and game can be enacted whenever it is found necessary to do so.

(Signed)

FRED L. HULSLANDER.

Stockton, December 4, 1922.

Honorable Frank S. Rogers,
Stockton, California.

We, the undersigned, do hereby petition you, as a Senator of the State of California, to use your best efforts in the support of any and all bills which may be presented at the next session of the Legislature, meeting on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1923, stopping the seining of striped bass in the creeks, rivers, bays, and waters of the State of California; and for the promulgation of any and all laws enforcing a closed season against the netting or seining of these fish for a period of not less than six years.

The purport of this petition being to allow the propagation and increase of the striped bass, which is becoming extinct through the use of seines.

E. J. PATTERSON.

And 165 others.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out lines 1, 2 and 3 of the title of the printed bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"An act to amend sections two thousand eight hundred forty-five and two thousand eight hundred forty-seven of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to toll bridges."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, after the period add the following:

"Section two thousand eight hundred forty-five of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2845. The board of supervisors granting authority to construct a toll bridge or to keep a public ferry, must at the same time:

1. Fix the amount of a penal bond to be given by the person or corporation owning or taking tolls on the bridge or ferry for the benefit of the county and of persons crossing or desiring to cross the same, and provide for the annual renewal thereof.

2. Fix the amount of license tax to be paid by the person or corporation for taking tolls thereon, not less than three dollars nor over one hundred dollars per month, payable annually.

3. Fix the rate of tolls which may be collected for crossing the bridge or ferry which may raise annually an income not exceeding fifteen per cent on the actual cost of the construction or erection of the bridge or ferry, and such additional income as will provide for the annual cost of operation, maintenance, amortization and taxes of the bridge or ferry.

4. Fix the term for the operation of such toll bridge or ferry which shall not exceed fifty years.

5. Make all necessary orders relative to the construction, erection and business of licensed toll bridges or ferries which they have by law the power to make. The board of supervisors may, at any time they see fit, authorize and maintain fords across any water within any distance of any licensed toll bridge or ferry.

SEC. 2. Section two thousand eight hundred forty-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2847. Every owner or keeper of a toll bridge or ferry must report annually to the board of supervisors from which his license is obtained, under oath, the following facts:

1. The actual cost of the construction or erection and equipment of the toll bridge or ferry.

2. The repairs made during the preceding year and the actual cost thereof.

3. The expense of labor and hire of agents and other costs necessarily incurred in and about the conduct of their business.

4. The amount of amortization and taxes actually paid in and about the conduct of their business.

5. The amount of tolls collected.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received by the President and on the request of Senator Inman, was ordered printed in the Journal:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5, 1923.

Hon. C. C. Young, Lieutenant Governor of California, Sacramento, California.

I am informed Board of Control has omitted from budget State's appropriation for Sacramento and San Joaquin flood control project for next two years. By act of Congress and Legislature of California this project was approved and adopted on cooperative basis. The federal government has each year appropriated its share and thus far the State has met federal appropriation by an equal State appropriation. At the last session Congress appropriated $499,900 for this work for fiscal year commencing July 1st. As project has been adopted by State and nation both parties to contract are in honor bound to appropriate for their share of the work. The project should be completed at the earliest possible moment. If the Legislature fails to make appropriation I fear it will be impossible to induce Congress to make appropriation next year, and it would probably mean indefinite suspension of project. Flood control project has so improved navigation on the Sacramento and San Joaquin that the amount of freight carried has enormously increased year by year, until the annual tonnage is now about two million tons. The value to commerce of this tonnage is great, as is evidenced by comparison with the tonnage of the Panama Canal. Last year eleven million tons passed through the canal. The reclamation part of this project is paid for by local interests benefited. Should the State fail to make appropriation work will stop and the work will deteriorate. It would constitute a breach of faith on the part of the State of California. Further, it would mean an ultimate greater cost to complete should the State later make appropriations to continue the project. I sincerely hope the Legislature will not abandon the project, but will appropriate the necessary amount of money, as the State is pledged to do.

CHARLES F. CURRY, Member of Congress.

* AMENDMENT NUMBER FOURTEEN.

On page 24 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of lines 26 to 37, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SEC. 88. Authority of local bodies to regulate weight limits declared.

The legislative body of any county or city shall have power by ordinance to permit the operation and moving of vehicles and loads upon public highways and streets under their respective jurisdictions other than upon State highways of a maximum gross weight in excess of the maximum gross weight of vehicles and loads specified in section eighty-five of this act but shall have no power to require lighter loads than specified in this act on any improved public highway as such highway is defined herein, except as in this section otherwise provided.

The state highway commission shall also whenever in its judgment after an engineering investigation, any state highway will with safety to itself sustain vehicles and loads weighing more than the maximum weight limit set forth in section eighty-five of this act, have power to so declare and to fix a weight limit for such highway greater than the maximum weight limit specified in said section, and it shall thereafter be lawful to operate or move vehicles and loads of a gross weight upon such state highways so designated by the state highway commission equal to but not in excess of the maximum weight limit fixed by said highway commission.

This act is intended to and shall be construed as permitting, authorizing and declaring that it shall be lawful, subject to other provisions of this act, to operate and move upon state highways and improved county highways as defined in this section vehicles whose total weight including loads do not exceed the weight limit set forth in section eighty-five of this act.

Boards of supervisors in their respective counties may reduce the permissible weight of vehicles and loads operated or moved upon unimproved county highways or upon bridges and may temporarily reduce the permissible weight limit of vehicles and loads operated or moved upon improved county highways in their respective counties when such improved county highways are temporarily affected by rain, snow, or ice, or other climatic conditions, provided signs indicating the maximum gross weight allowed shall be erected at each end of that portion of any said county highway upon which the permissible gross weight is reduced as herein provided.

For the purposes of this act an improved highway or road is hereby defined to be a highway or road paved with concrete, or asphaltic concrete, or a highway or road having a hard surface and distinct roadway not less than four inches thick made up of a mixture of rock, sand, or gravel bound together by an artificial binder other than natural soil."

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIFTEEN.

On page 27, line 52, of the printed bill as amended, insert a period after the word "vehicle".

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIXTEEN.

On page 28 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of lines 1 to 38, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Such headlights shall be so attached to such motor vehicle that the centers thereof shall be not less than twenty-four inches nor more than fifty inches above the level surface upon which the vehicle stands.

(b) The term "headlight" as used herein shall denote a light located upon the front or other portion of a vehicle the rays of which are projected forward, other than a side light or a spot light.

(c) Motor vehicles may also be equipped with two side lights but no more or less. The term "side lights" shall include any lights upon a motor vehicle other than headlights or spot lights the rays of which project forward. No electric lamps or bulbs shall be used in any side light which exceeds four candlepower.

SEC. 101. Construction, arrangement and adjustment of headlights. The headlights of motor vehicles shall be so constructed, arranged and adjusted that they will produce ample driving light for the use of the operator of such vehicle but will not project a glaring or dazzling light to persons approaching such lights or to persons whom such headlights may approach.

Headlights shall be presumed to comply with this section if they comply with the following requirements and limitations when the vehicle upon which they are affixed is fully loaded and shall be presumed not to comply herewith if they do not under such circumstances comply with such requirements and limitations.

The light projected by such headlights shall be as follows:

1. In the median vertical plane parallel to the lamps on a level with the centers of the lamps, not less than one thousand eight hundred nor more than six thousand, apparent candlepower.

2. In the median vertical plane, one degree of arc below the level of the center of the lamps, not less than seven thousand two hundred apparent candlepower and there shall not be less than seven thousand two hundred apparent candlepower anywhere on the horizontal line through this point one degree to the left or to the right of this point.

3. In the median vertical plane one degree of arc above the level of the center of the lamps not more than two thousand four hundred, nor less than eight hundred, apparent candlepower.

4. Four degrees of arc to the left of the median vertical plane and one degree of arc above the level of the center of the lamps not more than eight hundred apparent candlepower.

5. One and one-half degrees of arc below the level of the center of the lamps and three degrees of arc to the left and to the right respectively of the median vertical plane not less than five thousand apparent candlepower nor less than this amount anywhere on the line connecting these two points.

6. Three degrees of arc below the level of the center of the lamps and six degrees of arc to the left and to the right, respectively, of the median vertical plane not less than two thousand apparent candlepower nor less than this amount anywhere on the line connecting these two points.

Such headlights shall comply with such requirements and limitations with (1) the filament of the lamp at focus of the reflector, (2) a lamp or bulb of twenty-one candlepower and (3) such a tilt as brings the cut-off line of the light projected no higher than the center of the headlights."

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVENTEEN.

On page 29 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of line 2 after the period therein and all of the line 3 to and including the period therein.

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHTEEN.

On page 29, line 7, of the printed bill as amended, after the period insert the following: "Each such applicant shall upon the filing of his application pay to the division a fee of fifty dollars. All such fees shall be paid by the division into the state treasury and deposited in a fund to be known as the motor vehicle testing fee fund, and the moneys in such fund, or so much of them as may be necessary, are hereby appropriated to meet the expenses of the test provided for in this act, and the balance thereof, if any, shall be paid into the motor vehicle fund."

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINETEEN.

On page 29, lines 13, 18 and 33, of the printed bill as amended, strike out "globe" and insert in lieu thereof "lamp or bulb".

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY.

On page 29, line 21, of the printed bill as amended, after the period insert the following: "The chief of the division may refuse approval to any device which in his opinion will be, in actual use, unsafe or impractical."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY-ONE.

On page 30 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of line 2 beginning with "Unless" and all of lines 3 to 6 inclusive and insert in lieu thereof:

"(i) From and after the date upon which this act become effective it shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale any headlight lamp or headlight equipment unless it is of a type which shall have been approved by the division under the provisions hereof and it shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale any new motor vehicle equipped with headlights which do not comply with the provisions of this section.

Nothing in this act shall be construed as preventing the use on a motor vehicle of any headlight lamp, device or equipment heretofore approved by the division until December 31, 1924, unless such approval is revoked in accordance with the provisions hereof. After December 31, 1924, it shall be unlawful to use on any highway in this state any headlight lamp, device or equipment which shall not have been approved by the division as in this act provided."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY-TWO.

On page 30, line 12, of the printed bill as amended, after the period insert: "When only one headlight is used such headlight shall be deemed to comply with this act if it complies with the requirements and limitations hereinbefore set forth for two headlamps except that it need project only half the candlepower of light specified in the second, fifth and sixth provisions of such requirements and limitations as set forth in section one hundred ninety-one hereof."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY-THREE.

On page 46, line 44, of the printed bill as amended, insert after the period the following:

"The board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, which is empowered by law to expend money for the construction of public highways outside of its corporate limits, may expend any portion of the amounts paid to the said county, or city and county, and deposited in the road fund thereof, as herein in this subdivision of this section directed, in and for the construction of public highways outside of its corporate limits; provided, however, that the construction thereof is authorized by ordinance of the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county, in which said highway is to be constructed. Where such authorization is given by ordinance, as herein provided, the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county desiring the said construction, may, through its own boards, officers or commissions expend the amounts herein authorized to be expended, or may, by ordinance of its board of supervisors, transfer said amounts to the account of the highway commission of the State of California and may by said ordinance specify and determine the route and type of construction of said highway, and the said amount thus transferred shall be expended by the said highway commission for the purpose specified and determined in said ordinance, and not otherwise."

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTY-TWO.

On page 47 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of lines 35 to 52 inclusive, and on page 48 strike out all of lines one and two, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SEC. 157. Fines and forfeitures.

and All fines or forfeitures collected upon conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail of any person charged with a violation of any of the provisions of this act, and starting a municipality for any fine or such person by any officer employed by a city, shall be paid within thirty days to the county treasurer of the county in which such city is situated. Such county treasurer shall immediately deposit such money in a fund to be known as the city's traffic fine fund.

Semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year, the county treasurer shall make to the board of supervisors a report showing the amounts in such fund and the cities from which it was received, and the board of supervisors shall immediately thereupon pay to each such city the amount received following arrests by its officers during the previous six months. Such payments upon their receipt by such city shall be deposited in a special fund to be known as the good roads fund, which shall be used exclusively for the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, bridges and culverts within the limits of said city along routes directly connecting inter-urban public highways entering said city.

No such payment shall be made to any city which shall not have made the semi-annual report to the board of supervisors before it is received until such report is made, nor to any city which shall have expended any portion of the money received by it under the provisions of this act in any manner other than in accordance with the provisions thereof. If such report be not made by any city within six months after the date or dates it is due, then such city's share of said cities' traffic fine fund, shall automatically be cut to such county and immediately be paid into the county treasury out of any other moneys then on hand by such city and shall be used by such county for the purposes specified in subsection (4) of this section.

Each city shall file a report verified by an officer of the city, to be designated so to do by the legislative body thereof, with the board of supervisors of the county in which it is situated within six months after the first day of January and of July of each year, showing the amount of money received by said city during the preceding six months and the disposition thereof specifying in detail the roads, bridges and culverts constructed, maintained or repaired, and the sums paid to each item thereof."

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25 read.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the reading of the constitutional amendment, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all of the printed bill after the word "to" in the third line of the title, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "the constitution of the State of California, by amending sections one, five, eleven, twelve, fourteen, eighteen, twenty-three and twenty-four of article six thereof, relating to the judicial department, and providing for the establishment of municipal courts.

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, 1923, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby propose that sections one, five, eleven, twelve, fourteen, eighteen, twenty-three and twenty-four of article six of the constitution of the State of California be amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the state shall be vested in the senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, in a supreme court, district courts of appeal, superior courts, such municipal courts as may be established in any city or city and county, and such inferior courts as the legislature may establish in any incorporated city or town, township, county or city and county.

SEC. 5. The superior courts shall have original jurisdiction in all cases in equity and in all cases at law, which involve the title or possession of real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, and in all other cases, except as hereinafter provided, in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to three hundred dollars, and in all criminal cases amounting to a felony, and in all cases of misdemeanor not otherwise provided for; of actions for forcible or unlawful entry or detainer, except as otherwise provided in this article; of proceedings in insolvency; of actions to prevent or abate a nuisance; of all matters of probate; of divorce and for annulment of marriage; and of all such special cases and proceedings as are not otherwise provided for; and said courts shall have the power of naturalization, and to issue papers therefor.

The superior court of any city and county in which there is a municipal court, and the superior court of any county wherein is located any city or cities having a municipal court, shall have such appellate jurisdiction on appeal in cases arising in any such municipal court and in such inferior courts as may be prescribed by law. The legislature may provide for the establishment of appellate departments of the superior court in any county or city and county wherein any municipal court is established, and for the constitution, regulation, jurisdiction, government and procedure of such appellate departments, and for the hearing and determination by district courts of appeal of causes in which judgment has been rendered by the superior court or an appellate department thereof; provided, however, that the appellate jurisdiction of appellate departments of the superior court and of district courts of appeal shall not extend to the hearing and determination of actions at law in which the demand, exclusive of interest, is less than three hundred dollars, nor to actions of forcible or unlawful entry or detainer when the rental value is twenty-five dollars or less per month, and in which the whole amount of damages claimed is two hundred dollars or less. Superior courts and municipal courts shall always be open, legal holidays and non-judicial days excepted. The process of superior courts shall extend to all parts of the state; provided, that all actions for the recovery of the possession of, quieting the title to, or for the enforcement of liens upon real estate, shall be commenced in the county in which the real estate, or any part thereof, affected by such action or actions, is situated. Said superior courts, and their judges, shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto, and habeas corpus on petition by or on behalf of any person in actual custody, in their respective counties. Injunctions and writs of prohibition may be issued and served on legal holidays and non-judicial days. The process of any municipal court shall extend to all parts of the county or city and county in which the city is situated where such court is established, and to such other parts of the state as may be provided by law, and such process may be executed or enforced in such manner as the legislature shall provide.

SEC. 11. In any city and county and in any city which is governed under a charter framed and adopted under the authority of this constitution, a municipal court may be established as hereinafter provided. For each such municipal court at least one judge shall be elected by the qualified electors of the city or city and county at the general municipal election, and such additional judges as shall be determined by the legislature. In any city, or city and county, in which there shall be more than one judge of a municipal court, the judges of such court may hold as many sessions of such court at the same time as there are judges thereof, and the business thereof shall be apportioned among the judges thereof in the manner prescribed by law. Municipal courts shall have original jurisdiction, except as hereinafter provided, in all cases of law in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to one thousand dollars or less, and of actions of forcible or unlawful entry or detainer where the rental value is one hundred dollars or less per month, and where the whole amount of damages claimed is one thousand dollars or less, and in cases to enforce and foreclose liens on personal property where the amount of such liens or the value of the property is one thousand dollars or less, and in all criminal cases amounting to misdemeanor punishable by fine and imprisonment in the city or city and county or county jail, or punishable by fine or such imprisonment. The legislature may, however, provide for the establishment of courts inferior to municipal courts in cities and counties where municipal courts are established; provided, however, that the jurisdiction of such inferior courts shall not extend to cases in which the claim or demand is more than fifty dollars.

The legislature shall determine the number of each of the inferior courts in incorporated towns, and in townships or counties, or in incorporated cities or cities and counties, where there is no municipal court, according to the population thereof, and the number of judges or justices thereof, and shall fix by law the powers, jurisdiction, duties and responsibilities of each of such inferior courts and of the judges or justices thereof, and until such inferior courts are otherwise so determined and provided for, such inferior courts now existing shall, until otherwise provided by law, continue in all respects as established at the time of the adoption of this amendment; provided, that the powers of such inferior courts shall not in any case trench upon the jurisdiction of the several courts of record, except that the legislature shall provide that said courts shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the superior courts in cases of forcible or unlawful entry or detainer, when the rental value does not exceed twenty-five dollars per month, and where the whole amount of damages claimed does not exceed two hundred dollars, and in cases to enforce and foreclose liens on personal property when neither the amount of liens nor the value of the property amounts to three hundred dollars.

The legislature shall provide by general law for the constitution, regulation, government and procedure of municipal courts, and for the jurisdiction thereof except in the particulars otherwise specified in this section, and for the establishment of municipal courts in cities or cities and counties governed under charters framed and adopted under the authority of this constitution. Upon the taking effect of such general law, a municipal court may be established in any such city or city and county whenever the charter thereof or amendment to such charter shall provide that there shall be a municipal court therein, or whenever the assent of a majority of the qualified electors of such city or city and county voting upon the question of the establishment of such municipal court, and expressed in such manner and form as the legislature shall by general law prescribe, is given to the establishment thereof. The manner in which, the time at which, the term for which the judges, clerks and other attaches of municipal courts shall be elected or appointed, the number and qualifications of said judges and of the clerks and other attaches, except as such matters are otherwise provided in this article, shall be prescribed by the legislature. The compensation of the justices or judges of all courts of record, shall be fixed and the payment thereof prescribed by the legislature.

In any city or in any city and county where such municipal court has been established, and in townships situated in whole or in part in such city or city and county, there shall be no other court inferior to the superior court except as herein provided; and pending actions, trials, and all pending business of inferior courts within such city or city and county or township, upon the establishment of any such municipal court, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, be transferred to and become pending in such municipal court, and all records of such inferior courts be transferred to and thereafter be and become records of such municipal court.

Upon the establishment of any such municipal court, and until the first election and the qualification of the judge or judges thereof and the first appointment and the qualification of the clerks and other attaches thereof, the judges or justices and the clerks and other attaches of any existing inferior courts in such city or city and county or township shall become an act as the judges, clerks and attaches respectively of such municipal court.

SEC. 12. The supreme court, the district courts of appeal, the superior courts, the municipal courts, and such other courts as the legislature shall prescribe, shall be courts of record.

SEC. 14. The county clerks shall be ex-officio clerks of the courts of record, other than municipal courts, in and for their respective counties or cities and counties. The legislature may also provide for the appointment, by the several superior courts, of one or more commissioners in their respective counties, or cities and counties, with authority to perform chamber business of the judges of the superior courts, to take depositions, and to perform such other business connected with the administration of justice as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 18. The justices of the supreme court, and of the district courts of appeal, and the judges of the superior courts and of the municipal courts shall be ineligible to any other office or public employment during the term for which they shall have been elected or appointed, and no justice or judge of a court of record shall practice law in any court of the state during his continuance in office.

SEC. 23. No person shall be eligible to the office of a justice of the supreme court, or of a district court of appeal, or of a judge of a superior court, or of a municipal court, unless he shall have been admitted to practice before the supreme court of the state for a period of at least five years immediately preceding his election or appointment to such office.

SEC. 24. No justice of the supreme court nor of a district court of appeal, nor any judge of a superior court nor of a municipal court shall draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall make and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths, that no cause in his court remains pending and undetermined that has been submitted for decision for a period of ninety days. In the determination of causes all decisions of the supreme court and of the district courts of appeal shall be given in writing, and the grounds of the decision shall be stated."

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was offered by Senator Powers and ordered printed in the Journal:

CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY COMMISSION,
SACRAMENTO, April 5, 1923.

Hon. Frank Powers,
Chairman Road Committee,
State Senate, Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR SENATOR: I am taking the opportunity to outline to you by letter the policy of the California Highway Commission relative to the bills in the Senate and Assembly, providing for the inclusion of county roads in the highway system wherein no provision is made for future maintenance.

Under the circumstances existing at this time, the commission feels that it would be an injustice both to the State and to the county to write these bills into the law. The commission at the present time is overburdened with the mileage of roads far beyond its financial ability to care for, and as a consequence of this, many roads heretofore placed in the highway system by special legislative act have in reality become "orphan" roads. The boards of supervisors of counties cannot care for these roads through lack of authority nor can the Highway Commission care for them through financial inability, consequently the roads are in worse condition and less use to the public than had they remained in the county system of roadways.

The commission wishes to be understood as not having any particular road in mind in outlining its policy. No doubt, convincing arguments may be advanced why any road should be made a State highway, but the equally convincing argument is made that if these roads are written into the State highway system, it will be absolutely impossible to give them even the care they are now receiving from boards of supervisors. Therefore, the commission feels itself justified in making known, through you, its policy at the present time.

Yours very truly,

CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY COMMISSION.
By W. F. MIXON, Secretary.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

To the Members of the Senate and Assembly.

A budget was presented to you on February first in compliance with the constitutional amendment adopted by the people at the last election. It gave you a complete statement of all proposed expenditures for the ensuing biennial period, and an estimate of the revenues.

This budget was the only complete and comprehensive one ever prepared in this State. It contained full details and many items where former so-called budgets contained but one or two items for a department. The presentation of this detail gave full and valuable information to you and to the people.

During the past few weeks you have held hearings where all persons interested have been permitted to appear and offer suggestions. At the same time many hearings have been held by me and many others by the State Board of Control. At your hearings members of the State Board of Control have been present to explain the budget. The result of all of these hearings has been to furnish information regarding State finance, to show the people the need of economy, and to prove that extravagance has been in vogue for many years.

Now that these hearings are over and all the suggestions offered have been considered, it is apparent that the new budget plan is a wise one; that the budget itself is fundamentally sound; that it has provided liberally for the various State institutions; that a few minor changes will place it above honest criticism; that the State must and can live within its income; and that the adoption of the budget suggestions will save the people millions of dollars.

It has been found possible to strike out items in the budget aggregating $1,272,820. An item of rent was duplicated, the burning of the Women's Home at Sonoma makes a support appropriation unnecessary, vocational rehabilitation support ends with the ensuing fiscal year, support for the Norwalk and Mendocino State hospitals and elementary and secondary schools was overestimated, and a reduction in the Department of Architecture was found possible.

It has been found necessary to revise a number of items in the budget. The Civil Service Commission has been given an increase which will make it possible for that body to function efficiently. As a staunch believer in civil service, I am anxious to preserve this beneficent principle of government. I am strongly opposed to the attempt in certain quarters to return to the old spoils system. The Board of Health has been given an increase in order to take care of certain necessary humane functions. This board now has a very liberal allowance and will be required to run economically.

The Industrial Welfare Commission has been given enough to conduct its affairs efficiently, if economy is practiced and political hangers on are eliminated.

The State Harbor Commission has been given a large increase for salaries and support. It is my desire that this commission be allowed to expend the revenues of the harbor for support, improvements and bond settlement. The appropriation must be within the estimated revenue or else the general fund will be taxed. While this commission is self-sustaining it must be run economically, as the people in the final analysis pay the tax to support the harbor.

The probable passage of a bill adding new duties to the Real Estate Commission makes it necessary to increase that appropriation.

Forestry has been given an increase in order to provide fire lookouts, maintenance of Humboldt Redwood Park, and the State Nursery. The Redwood Park Commission at Boulder Creek has been given a necessary increase. The Department of Agriculture has been given an increase in order to provide better control of pests and more aid for farming interests.

An increase has been given the teachers' colleges which is ample. It is naturally difficult for some of the persons connected with these institutions to forget the past era of reckless extravagance and to adjust themselves to the economy program desired by the people. These colleges must be conducted on a more conservative basis if they expect to continue in public favor. I believe the heads of these colleges recognize the necessity for retrenchment and will cooperate to give the budget a fair trial.

The California School for the Deaf and Blind has been sadly neglected during the past few years. Strange to say, even in the reckless spending days of 1921, this fine humanitarian institution was not adequately provided for. This neglect should be explained by those responsible. I have made provision for books, repairs, and a new building.

The State Library has for years had my active interest. It contains one of the greatest collections of books in the world. I have been during the past few years, one of its best patrons. In order that the gathering together of valuable books may continue I have given this department an increase for purchasing books.

The preservation of fish and game is vital to the State. This work must be continued. The revenues will be expended for the purposes intended, but they will be expended economically and under close supervision. The money put up by hunters and fishers must not be wasted.

A close examination of the buildings of the State has been made during the past few weeks by members of the State Board of Control and provision has been made for repairs.

Recommendations were made to you in my budget message regarding the State Board of Charities and Corrections, the Immigration and Housing Commission, the State Mining Bureau, and the Building and Loan Commission, and bills are before you to carry out these recommendations. If the bills are adopted changes in the budget will not be necessary, but if the bills are not adopted, then I will propose changes in the budget to provide for these agencies.

My recommendations regarding the California Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo are before you for your consideration and I have nothing further to add at this time.

In closing I want to assure you that no State function will be permitted to suffer because of inadequate support. The budget recommendations are in my opinion adequate to meet all legitimate needs. Should any so-called self-supporting agency during the ensuing biennium show a need for funds in excess of the allowance, the State Board of Control will provide such additional support as may be found necessary, not to exceed the revenues of that agency. In order that no State function may be hampered a large emergency appropriation has been placed in the budget.

Enclosed herewith are proposed amendments to the budget to cover the suggestions made above. These are presented to you for your consideration. The proposed changes make a net increase of $450,500.00 and set the total of the budget at $79,425,188.55.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Inman:

Resolution adopted by the people of the town of Folsom and vicinity assembled on April 9, 1923:

WHEREAS, There has been introduced into the Senate of the State of California Senate Bill No. 454, purporting to regulate the gold dredging industry, but which bill, in effect, will prohibit the prosecution of said industry in the county of Sacramento; and

WHEREAS, The Natomas Company of California is the only gold dredging company operating in Sacramento County and the passage of the bill will mean the ruin of the said company; and

WHEREAS, The said Natomas Company of California in addition to its said gold dredging has planted over 1000 acres of land in the vicinity of the town of Folsom to orchards and has installed a large irrigation system for the purpose of irrigating said lands and other lands; and is continuing to plant said orchards as a development of said irrigation system in and about the said town; and

WHEREAS, The prosecution of said industries in and about the said town and including the said industry of gold dredging is of inestimable benefit to the said town and to the inhabitants thereof, and the planting and cultivation of said orchards and the development of said water system will make for the permanent growth and prosperity of this community; and

WHEREAS, The passage of said proposed bill would mean the cessation of all the said industries and a great loss to this community and the people thereof; and, now therefore, be it

Resolved, By the inhabitants of the said town of Folsom and vicinity that in our opinion the passage of said Senate Bill No. 454 is detrimental to the interests of our community and to the county of Sacramento and to the State of California and that as public spirited citizens of said State and residents of said community we do hereby protest against the passage of said bill and the resulting destruction of a great business enterprise upon which is based the future prosperity of this community; and, be it further

Resolved, That we do hereby respectfully call the attention of the State Senate to the effect of this bill upon our community and do request our representative in the Senate and the said Senate as a body to reject this bill.

R. J. RANCHIE, Chairman,
And 462 others.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, after the word "to" immediately following the word "Section 1" add the following: "There is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure a new section, to be numbered section one thousand two hundred forty-eight, and to read as follows:

"Section. Whenever a complaint is filed with the pleadings in the cause, that there are claims of conflicting claims, real or personal, between parties defendant, in or to the property sought to be condemned upon, claims shall not be adjudicated in the proceedings for the condemnation of the property, but shall be reserved for adjudication hereinafter in this section provided. In such event, the compensation for the taking of the property or for any damages thereon shall be ascertained and assessed and the proceedings shall be conducted in the same manner and with the same force and effect as in other cases, except that the court shall order the money to be paid into court by the plaintiff. When such payment is made, the court must make a final order of condemnation, which shall contain the matters specified in section one thousand two hundred fifty-three of this code, and shall be filed in the same manner and have the same effect as the final order of condemnation therein mentioned.

Upon the payment of the money into court, any party defendant to the condemnation proceedings claiming a legal or equitable interest in the property or the money arising therefrom by such condemnation, may bring an action in the superior court to adjudicate the rights in or to such money of all parties to the condemnation proceedings who claim the property or money, or any interest therein or part thereof. The plaintiff in such action shall make all such other claimants parties defendant therein. The complaint in such action shall state the facts on which the claim of the plaintiff is founded, the fact of the condemnation of the property, the amount of money so paid into court and such other facts as are required to enable the court to hear and determine the matter between the claimants. Such money shall when so paid into court represent the property condemned or the interests therein. The conflicting claims of the parties to such money shall be determined in such action the same as if the property had not been converted into money and the money shall be distributed to those entitled thereto as so determined."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 18.

Relative to needy Indians within the State of California.

WHEREAS, There are within the borders of the State of California approximately twenty thousand Indians on land of little or no value, of whom at least four thousand are without any land or homes, and furthermore, there are about four thousand Indian children of school age of whom two thousand five hundred are without adequate or any school facilities, and a considerable number of the Indian population are without necessary food, shelter and medical attendance; and

WHEREAS, The national government through a duly authorized commission in the years 1851 and 1852 negotiated eighteen separate treaties with the Indians of this State, and secured the signatures of four hundred one Indian chiefs and headmen to said treaties, agreed to reserve for them in perpetuity about seven million five hundred thousand acres of land and to pay said Indians approximately one million eight hundred thousand dollars in sundry goods for the other lands they agreed to cede to the United States and to provide them with sufficient educational and agricultural instruction, and the facilities necessary therefor; and

WHEREAS, The national government has so signally failed to keep faith with these defenseless people, as provided for in said treaties or to compensate them for any of their rights in land or to provide for them educationally or otherwise, in accordance with its policy adhered to everywhere else; and

WHEREAS, The massing of these Indians in thinly populated districts makes provision for them at the expense of their white neighbors, under the prevalent school and pauper laws of the State, an unfair, inequitable and intolerable burden; and

WHEREAS, It has been the general policy of the national government to assume the care and education of the Indians, yet it has not always been practicable or for the best interests of the Indians themselves to remove them to reservations; and

WHEREAS, The general policy of the State and national cooperation as outlined by the Indian board of cooperation of California (incorporated) has already been approved by the State Legislature and by congressional and administrative act; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, jointly, That our representatives in Congress be and are hereby memorialized to secure provision in the Indian appropriation bill (1) for the purchase of adequate and permanent allotments with necessary improvements for homeless Indians; (2) for providing school buildings and equipment for Indians in public school districts where the Indian population and the necessities warrant it; and (3) for cooperation with county officials in securing proper care for sick and destitute Indians, until the necessity therefor no longer exists; and be it further

Resolved, That our representatives in Congress be, and are hereby, urged to put forth their best and united efforts to secure the enactment by Congress of an adequate bill conferring jurisdiction upon the courts of the United States to hear and to adjudicate all claims, both legal and equitable, which the several tribes or bands of Indians of California may have against the United States government for lands taken from them without compensation therefor; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor of the State of California, upon the passage of this resolution, shall forward a copy thereof to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States in his capacity as presiding officer of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to each of our representatives in Congress, each member of the House and Senate committees on Indian affairs, the Secretary of the Interior, and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Commencing with page 4, line 1, strike out everything down to and including the period after the word "minor" in line 17 and insert in lieu thereof the following: "The last full week of October of each odd numbered year is hereby designated as official registration week for minors under eighteen years of age; provided, that in case of epidemic, fire, flood or other public disaster, which would make it undesirable or impossible to provide for this registration during such week, the governing board of such district shall designate a week not later than fifteen days after said school has reopened as official registration week; and shall post a notice thereof on the school-house designating the new date set for such registration.

It shall be the duty of the governing board of every school district to appoint a registrar of minors and such assistant registrars as may be necessary. Such appointments shall be made on or before the first day of October of the year in which the registration is to be made (and, except in city school districts, shall be subject to approval by the superintendent of schools of the county). Such registrar of minors and assistant registrars shall be residents of the school district at least twenty-one years of age, and may be allowed such compensation as the governing body may fix, not exceeding five dollars per day for the time actually and necessarily employed. At least five days previous to entering upon the discharge of his duties each registrar and assistant registrar must qualify and file his oath of office with the superintendent of schools of the county. If the governing board of any school district shall fail to appoint a registrar of minors or if the registrar of minors fails to qualify and file his oath as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over such district to appoint a registrar of minors and such assistant registrars as may be necessary for such district, and to fix their compensation, not exceeding five dollars a day for the time actually and necessarily employed. He shall also draw a warrant on the funds of such district, in payment of the services of such registrar and assistant registrars. The registrar shall compile the information herein required and report the same to the superintendent of schools of the county.

It shall be the duty of the registrar of minors during the last full week of October of each odd numbered year to visit each habitation, residence, domicile or place of abode in each school district within such territory, and make a complete registration of minors residing in each school district. The registration herein provided for shall be made on blanks prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction and provided by the counties.

Said registration shall record information regarding sex, age, nationality of parents, nativity, residence, education, occupation and such other information as the superintendent of public instruction may deem necessary in providing free educational opportunities under the laws of this state.

It shall be the duty of all persons over twenty-one years of age, when requested by the registrar or assistant registrar, to answer correctly, to the best of their knowledge, all questions on the census schedules applying to themselves and to the families to which they belong or be related, and any person over twenty-one years of age who, under the conditions hereinbefore stated shall refuse or wilfully neglect to answer any of these questions, or shall wilfully give answers that are false shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars.

The actual and necessary expenses for making such registration shall be paid, subject to the provisions of law, out of the county or special fund of the school district."

Motion carried.

Assembly Bill No. 257—An act to regulate the procuring of persons to take the places of employees in anticipation of or during strikes, lockouts or other labor troubles; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate advertisements and solicitations for employees during strikes, lockouts and other labor troubles," approved June 7, 1913.

POSTPONEMENT OF RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Senator Arbuckle, the further consideration of the motion to reconsider the vote whereby Assembly Bill No. 257 was reconsidered, was continued until the next legislative day.

CONSIDERATION OF DAILY FILE—THIRD READING OF SENATE BILLS— (OUT OF ORDER).

Senate Bill No. 115—An act to regulate the use and operation of vehicles upon the public highways and elsewhere; to provide for the registration and identification of motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers and for the payment of registration fees therefor; to provide for the licensing of persons operating motor vehicles; to prohibit certain persons from operating vehicles upon the public highways; to prohibit the possession or use of or injury to a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner thereof, and to prohibit the offer to or acceptance by certain persons of any bonus or discount or other consideration for the purchase of supplies or parts for motor vehicles, or for work or repair done thereon; to provide for records to be kept by persons operating public garages and for notices to be given by owners of private garages; to provide penalties for violations of provisions of this act, and to provide for the disposition of fines and forfeitures imposed thereon; to limit the power of local authorities to enact or enforce ordinances, rules or regulations in regard to matters embraced within the provisions of this act; to provide for the disposition of registration and license fees, fines and forfeitures collected hereunder; to provide for the organization, powers and duties and for the maintenance of the Division of Motor Vehicles; to provide for carrying out the objects of this act, and to make appropriation therefor; to provide for the time this act shall go into effect, and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act.

MOTION TO REFER TO SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF ONE.

During third reading of the bill, Senator Breed moved to refer Senate Bill No. 115 to Senator Johnson, M. B., as a Special Committee of One, to amend as follows:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 2, line 16, of the printed bill as amended, strike out the word "or" after the word "weight" and insert in lieu thereof the word "and".

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 4 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of lines 18 to 22, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 30. Chief of division may appoint inspectors and traffic officers.

The chief of the division of motor vehicles is hereby authorized to appoint all necessary state inspectors at large and in addition thereto a sufficient number of state inspectors and traffic officers to enforce the provisions of this act in each of the counties of the state and all inspectors and traffic officers appointed as provided herein are hereby vested with the authority of peace officers for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this act.

Boards of supervisors in their respective counties and the chief of the division of motor vehicles are hereby authorized to enter into contracts providing for the appointment by the chief of the division of a sufficient number of inspectors and traffic officers to serve in such counties respectively and providing for the amount of their compensation.

Boards of supervisors in their respective counties may submit to the chief of the division a list of names of proposed traffic officers from which list the chief of the division may in his discretion make such appointments.

The compensation of such inspectors and traffic officers appointed to serve in any particular county shall be paid by the state out of that portion of the net receipts of the motor vehicle fund which such county is entitled to receive under the provisions of this act.

Inspectors and traffic officers appointed pursuant to contracts entered into as herein authorized shall be exempt from the provisions of an act entitled: "An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the willful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor."

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTY-ONE.

On page 34, line 29, of the printed bill as amended, strike out "143. Provision" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "143. Provisions".

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTY-TWO.

On page 38 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of lines 24 to 46 inclusive and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 121. Unlawful to exceed speed limit which is safe upon bridges. It shall be unlawful for the owner, operator, driver or mover of any vehicle, object or contrivance to move, operate, or drive the same over any public bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam, at a speed which is greater than the maximum speed which can with safety to such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam, be maintained thereon. Whenever, in the judgment of the California Highway Commission, any public bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam cannot, with safety to itself, sustain vehicles or objects driven or moved at the maximum rate of speed permitted under this act, or upon the request of any board of supervisors or any other body having jurisdiction thereof, it shall be the duty of the California Highway Commission to cause an engineering investigation to be made and to publicly hear and cause the results thereof, and any other evidence that may be offered as to the maximum rate of speed of vehicles which may be sustained by such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam with safety to itself, and to determine and declare in writing the maximum speed capable of being maintained thereon which shall not be less than fifteen miles per hour. Such Commission shall, after it finds and declares such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam incapable of sustaining vehicles moved or operated at the maximum speed permitted by this act, cause or permit suitable signs to be erected and maintained specifying the maximum speed of vehicles which such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam is capable of sustaining, such signs to be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet or more than one hundred and fifty feet from each of the approaches thereto. Upon the trial of any person charged with violating the provisions of this section, a certified copy of the finding of such commission shall be prima facie evidence as to the maximum speed of vehicles which such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam is capable of sustaining with safety to itself; upon such trial it shall also be necessary for the prosecution to prove the erection and existence, in accordance with the terms hereof of the signs herein specified."

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTY-THREE.

On page 41, line 11, of the printed bill as amended, after the period insert the following: "All such fees shall be paid by the division into the state treasury and deposited in a fund to be known as the signal device testing fee fund, and the moneys in such fund, or so much of them as may be necessary, are hereby appropriated to meet the expenses of the test provided for in this section, and the balance thereof, if any, shall be paid into the motor vehicle fund."

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTY-FOUR.

On page 45, line 20, of the printed bill as amended, after the word "driving" insert the word "vehicle".

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTY-FIVE.

On page 48, line 38 of the printed bill as amended, after the words "net receipts" insert the following: ", (comma) less any amounts that may have been expended under the provisions of this act to pay the compensation of state inspectors and traffic officers employed and serving in particular counties,".

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTY-SIX.

On page 50 of the printed bill as amended, strike out all of lines 21 to 52, both inclusive, and on page 51 strike out all of lines 1 to 7, both inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "be paid into the city treasury and deposited in a special fund to be known as the "street improvement fund", which is hereby created and which shall be used exclusively in the construction, maintenance and improvement of public streets, bridges and culverts within such city. Failure, refusal or neglect to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall constitute misconduct in office and shall be ground for removal therefrom."

Motion carried.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all of line 2 of the title following the word "direction", all of line 3 thereof and insert in lieu thereof the following: "of the department of public works".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, after the period insert the following: "Every lot of lubricating oil when sold, offered or exposed for sale in the State of California shall bear a label or brand plainly marked to show the viscosity, flash and fire, pour point, and carbon residue tests and in all sales of such oil of one gallon or more in bulk from tank wagons or otherwise a sales tag shall be delivered to the purchaser of such oil which shall show the above mentioned tests of such oil."

SEC. 2. The duty of enforcing this act and carrying out these provisions and requirements hereof shall be vested in the director of the department of public works. The director of the department of public works is hereby empowered to adopt from time to time such reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the law as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. All tests made hereunder shall be made and marked according to the methods for testing petroleum products adopted by the United States interdepartmental petroleum specifications committee as set forth and delineated in technical paper 323 of the department of the interior bureau of mines. The said director of public works shall cause laboratory tests to be made in conformity to said methods and may publish or cause to be published the results of the examinations and analysis and tests of any lubricating oil examined by him.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the said director of the department of public works either by him or his duly authorized agents to inspect and examine and make analysis of and tests any lubricating oil sold, offered or exposed for sale within this state at such time and place and to such extent as he may determine. The director of the department of public works and his agent shall have free access at all reasonable hours to any premises or structures to make examination of any such lubricating oil whether such lubricating oil is upon the premises of the owner or consignee of such lubricating oil or on the premises or in the possession of any warehouse, railway, steamship or transportation company and the director of the department of public works is hereby given authority in person or by his agents upon notice to the dealer, his agent or representative of any warehouse, railway, steamship or transportation company, if present, to take for analysis a sample or samples of such lubricating oil upon payment of reasonable purchase price for the same when demanded.

In case a sample taken as provided herein upon test or analysis is found to fall below the statement on the label or brand or sales tag attached to the lot from which such sample was secured or to violate any of the provisions of this act, the vendor or consignee of said lot of lubricating oil shall be notified and a copy of such notice shall be mailed to the person, firm or corporation whose tag or label or brand was found attached thereto.

SEC. 4. Any citizen of this state shall have the privilege of submitting to the director of public works samples of lubricating oil for test and analysis, subject to such rules and regulations as may be adopted by said director of public works, provided, that the director may by such regulations fix the maximum number of samples that may be tested free of charge for any one citizen in any period of time and fix charges for tests of samples submitted in excess of those tested free of charge.

SEC. 5. Any person, firm, or corporation, that shall fail, neglect or refuse to affix to the package or other container in which lubricating oil is sold the label or brand provided for herein or shall fail to mark the same in the manner herein provided or fail to deliver the sales tag herein specified, or who shall affix to any such package or other container any label or brand containing any false statement of any matter or thing required by the provisions hereof or shall in any manner interfere with or obstruct the taking of samples of such lubricating oil, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months or both: provided, that for a second or subsequent offense a fine, if imposed, shall not be less than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 6. None of the provisions of this act shall apply to lubricating oil produced or compounded in this state when sold for export and used out of this state or to lubricating oil imported into this state in interstate or foreign commerce and intended to be sold in the original and unbroken tank cars or other original receptacles, containers, or packages and so sold while the same are in interstate or foreign commerce.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all after the words "An act" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "To be known as the "sanitary goat dairy law" of California; to authorize the creation of a bureau of capriculture in the department of agriculture of the State of California; to authorize promotion and development of the goat industry in California; to establish sanitary and other standards for the production, handling and sale of goat's milk and of goat's milk products; to provide for the issuing of permits and the collection of fees therefor; to provide for the enforcement of this act; and to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the sanitary goat dairy law of California.

SEC. 2. Pursuant to the authority granted to the director of agriculture (chapter three of title one of part three, article two, section three hundred sixty of the Political Code) said director of agriculture is hereby authorized to create, as a subdivision under the division of animal industry, a bureau to be known as 'the bureau of capriculture.'

Said bureau shall be conducted under the control of an officer who shall be appointed in the same manner as the heads of similar bureaus in the department of agriculture.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption any goat's milk or goat's milk products except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 4. It shall further be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange any goat's milk or goat's milk products until a permit has been secured from the department of agriculture of the State of California as provided in section sixteen of this act.

SEC. 5. Goat's milk is the fresh, clean, lacteal secretion, free from colostrum, all parts of which, within forty-eight hours last prior to its delivery to the consumer or purchaser, shall have been obtained by the complete milking of one or more healthy goats. It shall contain no visible dirt or sediment and not less than three per cent milk fat.

It shall be unlawful to sell for human consumption, goat's milk obtained within thirty days before or ten days after parturition or to sell, for infant feeding, milk obtained after the fourteenth month of lactation.

SEC. 6. Goat's milk sold or exchanged or offered or exposed for sale or exchange shall conform to requirements for goat's milk in section five of this act and to the following requirements for production and handling as a minimum:

It shall come from healthy goats, free from suppurative wounds or abnormal discharges or other evidences of disease.

It shall be handled, kept, stored and delivered as provided elsewhere in this act.

It shall be delivered in sterile containers and, if cooled, shall be kept at a temperature not more than fifty degrees Fahrenheit until it reaches the ultimate consumer when it shall not contain more than fifty thousand bacteria per cubic milliliter.

SEC. 7. All persons who come in contact with the milk must exercise scrupulous cleanliness and must not harbor the germs of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria or other communicable diseases liable to be conveyed by milk. Absence of such germs shall be determined by cultures and physical examination to the satisfaction of the department of agriculture of the State of California.

SEC. 8. A small top milking pail shall be used for milking and milk (without pouring from pail) shall be taken immediately to the milk house for straining or each bucket of milk shall be strained through heavy cotton flannel into a milk can provided with a tight fitting cover.

All milk shall be strained as soon as possible after milking and unless delivered to the ultimate consumer within one hour from the time of milking shall be cooled to a temperature of not more than fifty degrees Fahrenheit and immediately placed in final container.

SEC. 9. All does prior to milking shall be given a brushing with a stiff brush to remove any loose hair or dust from the body of the animal. The udders and teats shall be wiped with a damp cloth and hands of the milker shall be washed with soap and water and dried on a clean towel just prior to milking. "Wet milking" shall be prohibited. At least twice annually the long hairs from the flank and udder of each doe shall be clipped.

SEC. 10. Goat dairies which have six or more milking does must provide and use a milk house constructed, equipped and located as follows:

The floor shall be concrete, properly sloped with a drain; the floor and walls shall be smooth and free from unnecessary ledges on which dust and dirt can collect; the inside shall be painted white; at least one-half of one side, preferably the east or south exposure, shall be open and screened fly tight, and preferably provided with removable windows.

The milk house shall at all times have on hand an adequate supply of washing powder or soap, washing soda, brushes and other facilities for properly cleaning and sterilizing utensils.

The milk house shall have no direct communication with the milking barn and shall not be nearer than twenty-five (25) feet to any human habitation or to any horse barn, chicken house or other objectionable object.

All milk and milk products intended for sale shall be kept in the milk house until time of delivery.

All utensils and equipment used in handling the milk shall be thoroughly cleaned, dried and aired as provided in section twelve of this act and shall at all times be kept in the milk house when not being used elsewhere as provided in this act.

The name and address of the producer or distributor (who shall be responsible for the quality of the products and the proper labeling) shall, at all times, appear plainly on or be securely attached to every milk bottle, cap, can or container.

SEC. 11. The milking barn, if provided, shall be of ample dimensions to permit ventilation and cleaning, shall have a concrete floor with drain and gutter. The floor shall be cleaned daily and manure if not removed to a distance greater than twenty-five (25) feet from the barn or milk house, shall be placed in a special container known as a manure box which shall be screened fly tight. The walls of the milking barn and stalls shall be whitewashed annually or oftener.

SEC. 12. All utensils and equipment used or coming in contact with the milk shall be cleaned and sterilized, in the milk house if provided, immediately after use as follows:

Washed in cold water, then in hot water containing washing soda; rinsed in clear water; sterilized fifteen minutes in steam box or same length of time in boiling water or exposed ten seconds to live steam at five pounds pressure; and thoroughly dried and aired.

Straining cloths shall be cleaned, sterilized, dried and aired in the same manner as utensils.

SEC. 13. If milk is shipped in bulk to the wholesale trade, regulation cans or containers must be used. If sold at retail, standard bottles and commercial paraffined caps must be used. In no case shall home-made card-board caps be permitted.

SEC. 14. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the grading of goat's milk and cream as provided for cow's milk in the "pure milk law of California." If so graded, goat's milk or cream of any grade shall conform to all the requirements set forth in the "pure milk law of California" for cow's milk or cream of the same grade, except that scoring shall be by a special score card adopted by the department of agriculture of the State of California for scoring goat dairies.

SEC. 15. Buck goats shall be kept at least fifty feet from any milk house and shall not be permitted closer than fifty feet to any private dwelling.

SEC. 16. Application for "permit" to sell goat milk in California shall be in the following form; and said application shall be accompanied with a fee of one dollar when the dairy consists of six or more milking does.

Date.....19.....

BUREAU OF CAPRICULTURE

STATE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Said officer is hereby authorized to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary and to encourage and promote the interests of the milk goat industry in California.

SEC. 18. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each and every county of this state, upon application of the said department of agriculture, or of any milk inspecting department in said county, their authorized representatives, to attend to the prosecution, in the name of the people, of any action brought for the violation of any of the provisions of this act within his county.

SEC. 19. Any person who violates any provision of this act or who directs or knowingly permits an employee to violate any of said provisions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five (25) dollars nor more than one hundred (100) dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and such imprisonment.

SEC. 20. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of two thousand (2,000) dollars is hereby appropriated to be expended in accordance with the law and carrying out the purposes of this act, provided, however, that in no case will more money be spent than actually received from fees."

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON REVENUE AND TAXATION.

The following report was presented by Senator Nelson, and ordered printed in the Journal:

SACRAMENTO, April 16, 1923.

MR. PRESIDENT: The Senate Committee on Revenue and Taxation to which was referred the matter of investigating and determining the revenues and available assets of the State for the ensuing biennium have had such matters under consideration and investigation, and respectfully reports as follows:

Consideration was first given to the report of the State Board of Equalization as to estimated revenue, which is found on page X of Budget Recommendations and estimated revenues for seventy-fifth and seventy-sixth fiscal years, submitted to the Senate and Assembly by Honorable Friend Wm. Richardson, Governor. The report of said board represents the conservative minimum of revenue to accrue from the sources named and totals $85,237,000 for said biennium, mentioning that of said amount $5,200,000 will not be available because of litigation and leaving a total net available revenue of $80,037,000.

Several items in the report of the State Board of Equalization are worthy of mention. The estimated revenue to accrue from inheritance taxes is given as $4,800,000 for 1923 and $5,400,000 for 1924. These amounts are considerably under collections from these sources for the past three years. In the fiscal year 1920-21 the State collected from this source $6,804,731.98, in 1921-22 $6,344,644.35, and the estimated revenue for 1922-23 as made by the Board of Control is $5,600,000. In other words, the average from this source for the past three years amounts to more than $6,000,000 annually and it is not probable that future accruing revenues will annually run under this figure. This indicates the extreme conservatism of the State board's estimate.

The item of interest in bank deposits is given at $450,000 annually. We feel that this amount is underestimated. In the seventy-third fiscal year there was collected from this source $665,204.14. The Board of Control has estimated the revenue to accrue from this source for the seventy-fourth fiscal year to amount to $658,000. The State Treasurer reports that the revenue to accrue during the ensuing biennium from this source will not be less than $1,380,000, or $480,000 more than the amount listed by the State Board of Equalization. This does not take into consideration pending legislation which seems certain of passage by the Legislature and which will produce additional revenue from this source amounting to several hundreds of thousands of dollars. We accordingly find that the estimated net revenue to accrue from the sources named by the State Board of Equalization should be increased by $480,000.

The attention of your committee was next directed to the state of forecast of the general fund status June 30, 1923, made by the State Board of Control. This forecast has an important bearing on State finances, for by it it would appear that the State would on June 30, 1923, be facing a deficit of over $1,000,000. This statement shows as of February 1, 1923, an estimated deficit on June 30, 1923, of $742,268.92. Since that time additional emergency appropriations totaling $322,000 were passed by this Legislature and swelling the total estimated deficit to $1,068,000 in round figures. On checking over this estimate it was discovered that there was an admitted error therein amounting to $500,000 by including an inheritance tax charge in that amount twice, and that the estimated deficit should therefore be reduced by $500,000; and that there was an additional fixed charge on highway bonds interest amounting to $200,000 which should be added, thereby reducing said estimated deficit by $240,000 net, leaving a net probable deficit of $828,000.

This estimate as made by the Board of Control, while correct as revised as hereinbefore suggested as a matter of charges appearing upon the books of the State, does not reflect the true status of the State funds or available revenues. The estimate referred to shows and carries the total charges appearing upon the books without taking into consideration the actual status of the various accounts or the unexpended balances remaining in the various funds, and which are or will be available for general fund purposes. To be more specific, attention is called to the following items: Among the charges carried on the books as outstanding encumbrances is the sum of $3,000,000 by reason of veterans' welfare legislation passed in 1921. Of this amount $750,000 has actually been set aside to this account, and about $500,000 thereof actually expended. This appropriation contemplated reimbursing the general fund of the State from a bond issue which was authorized and confirmed by the people of this State at the last fall election. Of the $3,000,000 to be advanced, $100,000 is to be retained by the Veterans' Welfare Board and the remaining amounts advanced are to be repaid out of the first proceeds of bond sale. Interest rates on these bonds are to be fixed and determined by the boards charged with the administration of the acts involved, and can readily be disposed of. The amounts advanced by the State to this board should be repaid within a reasonable time, and the resultant charge of $2,900,000 removed from the State's encumbrances.

Another credit that will accrue to the State will be in the balances from general appropriations for the 71st and 72d fiscal years of approximately $350,000; also $6,000 that remains in deficiency appropriations for the 71st and 72d fiscal years; and also $66,000 that will revert to the general fund under the four year clause. The foregoing items were furnished by the State Controller. As the executive budget does not provide for the operation of Pacific Colony it would appear that $208,389.50 will be available from that source. An item of $200,000 appropriated in 1911 for Monterey harbor improvement, and which was attempted to be reappropriated in 1917 for the same purpose, should likewise be considered. In 1921 legislation was enacted which causes to be averted to the general fund six years after, available appropriations made prior to 1921; said act however, not to apply to cooperative work under the specific agreement or under contract. No specific agreements or contracts are known to exist with reference to this particular project and it seems that this amount will revert at the expiration of six years from the date it became available in 1917.

Continuing with a consideration of the statement of forecast by the Board of Control herein before referred to, there is contained therein the charge of estimated funding requirements for the 73d and 74th fiscal years of $88,203,383.16. It is conservatively estimated by the State Controller and Superintendent of Accounts of the Board of Control that at least $1,000,000 of this amount will be unexpended and not used.

It further appears from the said statement of forecast that there was increase in the revised estimate for fixed charges of $3,382,956.23. The exact requirements for school funds has been determined since the preparation of said forecast and it is now found that the school requirements are $87,225.09 less than estimated and that this amount should be deducted from the estimated increase in fixed charges.

Totaling the revisions and additions to be made to determine the actual status of the general fund as of June 30th, 1923, and allowing the charge of $750,000 to stand for the Veterans' Welfare Fund, we find that against the probable deficit of $828,000 found by the Board of Control should be credited a balance of unexpended funds of $4,067,645.25, or a surplus of approximately $3,239,645.

Considering next the revenues which will be available during the ensuing biennium and which do not appear in the printed reports of the State Board of Equalization or budget estimates we call attention first to the increase in revenue to accrue from interest on bank deposits of $180,000; second, the refund from Veterans' Welfare Fund of $750,000; third, the sum of $695,344.90, receipt of which was reported by the State Controller under date of October 3d, 1922, in the junior college fund, against which there is a charge of $120,000, and the balance of which, or approximately $575,000, will be available for the school fund; and, fourth, the item of $919,700 estimated revenue by the State Controller from interest on permanent school fund. The two items last mentioned should be taken into consideration as accruing revenue to the State, for they serve to lessen the demands or requirements on the general fund to the amounts named, leaving such amounts available for general governmental purposes. It should be borne in mind that the committee had under consideration available revenues only and except as herein noted, have not considered expenditures or demands from same. Expenditures and appropriations are proper matters for the Finance Committee. Information as to all revenues should be placed before the Legislature for consideration in connection with expenditures to be made and cost of State government generally. In the preparation of the budget the Board of Control, according to its statement, listed as revenue items coming within the definition of that term as contained in the financial statistics of states in 1921, issued by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census. Revenue is therein defined to "represent amounts of moneys or other wealth received by, or placed to the credit of the state governments for governmental purposes, under such conditions that they increase the assets without increasing the debt liabilities." These sources of revenues which will decrease the budgeted demands on the general fund should be and are included herein. The committee accordingly submits, that to the revenues tabulated by the Board of Equalization, there is to be added the aggregate sum of $2,724,700, making the total available revenue of the State subject to appropriation for the ensuing biennium the sum of $86,001,345.25. Included in the last named amount are bonds purchased and owned by the State amounting to $4,463,500. No account is taken of the tax moneys due the State and at present impounded in litigation and that will accrue during the next biennium from the same sources, amounting with penalties, to over $12,000,000. A more detailed inquiry would probably reveal additional revenues.

The State carries in its various funds amounts ranging from twenty to twenty-five millions of dollars. Where revenues are certain to accrue from known sources, temporary transfers can be made to the general fund by the State Controller upon request by the Governor. From the practical or business standpoint the administration of the State's government can be safely conducted on the basis of having available the amount of revenue herein set forth.

REQUESTS FOR INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

The following requests for permission to introduce bills were presented:

By Senator McDonald:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 17, 1923.

MR. PRESIDENT: In accordance with the provisions of section 2, article IV of the constitution, I request that the permission of the Senate be granted for the introduction of the accompanying bill, the title of which is as follows, to wit:

An act authorizing the leasing of certain portions of the waterfront of San Francisco for post office purposes.

Request referred to Committee on Rules.

By Senator Allen:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 17, 1923.

MR. PRESIDENT: In accordance with the provisions of section 2, article IV of the constitution, I request that the permission of the Senate be granted for the introduction of the accompanying bill, the title of which is as follows, to wit:

An act relating to assessments for city improvements.

Request referred to Committee on Rules.

PETITION—(OUT OF ORDER).

The following petition was presented by Senator Gates, Dr., on request, and ordered printed in the Journal.

To the California Senate.

HONORED SIR: The Oroville Woman's Christian Temperance Union, consisting of over fifty voters, do hereby petition your honorable body to vote down Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1, or any other bill tending to the amendment or nullification of the Eighteenth Amendment or Volstead Act, the premises of said bill being utterly against facts, there being many products of our State whose revenue exceeds that of wine grapes. The income from eggs alone is greater, as figures prove. Neither is there any "agricultural depression," since the grains formerly used for beer now manufacture bread and feed stock. Also, the large majority vote for the Wright bill, stamps the seal of California's approval upon the Volstead Act.

The Union also petitions the Senate to vote against Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 6, which would increase the number of rounds in so-called "boxing events," making them veritable "slugging matches," and would also add to the budget the salaries of two secretaries, four or more deputies, and traveling and other (unspecified and unlimited) expenses.

Your vote against Assembly Bill No. 128, which would repeal the act maintaining the Industrial Farm for Delinquent Woman, is also requested by the Union.

But this organization does ask your affirmative vote for the Williams Bill, entitled Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 9, which would permit the use of the Bible in the public schools, as is allowed in the east and elsewhere.

Respectfully submitted,

OROVILLE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION.

Mrs. L. B. GRAY, Corresponding Secretary.

"1. The board of supervisors shall have power to provide for the establishment and maintenance of an elementary public school in connection with the detention home of such county, for the education of such children as may be in said detention home. Said board, by ordinance, shall provide for the establishment and maintenance of school facilities in such detention home, and the school maintained in such detention home shall be maintained by the governing board of the elementary school district in which the detention home is situated, and shall be conducted in the same manner and under the same conditions, as nearly as may be possible, as are other elementary schools of the school district, except that the schools shall not be closed on school days, to-wit: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of each school week during the calendar year, except on school holidays and during the day or days in which the teachers' institute is in session, and the week in which Christmas Day occurs. The board is hereby authorized to close such school when it deems such closing necessary.

2. The board of supervisors shall provide suitable grounds, buildings, and furnishings for the school, and shall lease the same on or before July first at a nominal rental to the school district in which such detention home is situated and shall make an agreement with the board of school trustees or city board of education of the district in which the detention home is situated to transfer from the general fund of the county to the current expense fund of the district sixteen hundred dollars for each teacher employed in such detention home school for the first school year. The transfer of funds shall be made on or before the first Monday in January.

3. The board of trustees or city board of education in whose district the detention home is situated shall provide all necessary supplies. Said board shall employ at least one teacher for any number of pupils regularly enrolled in excess of five for the first year. Said teachers shall be under the jurisdiction of the regular school officials and shall make such reports as are required by law.

4. The average daily attendance shall be made up by dividing the total days' attendance by the total number of days the school in the detention home is maintained for the year. The superintendent of schools of the county in which the detention home is located shall allow one teacher for the first thirty-five pupils, or fraction not less than five, in average daily attendance in such school and one additional teacher for each additional unit of thirty-five pupils in average daily attendance or fraction thereof. The average daily attendance of said school shall be separately reported and allowed money on average daily attendance as is apportioned to other schools.

5. The board of supervisors of the county may make an agreement with the board of trustees or the city board of education of the district in which the detention home is located to transfer annually from the general fund of the county to the current expense fund of the district such sums in excess of the amount of money received from the state and county school funds as are necessary to maintain the school in the detention home."

The board of fish and game commissioners is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to fix the minimum or maximum wholesale price of canned, packed or preserved sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore and striped tuna or fishery products to be sold or offered for sale, shipped or offered for shipment out of the State of California.

Sec. 3a. The board of fish and game commissioners may, upon the request of two or more canners, packers or preservers of sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna or striped tuna or manufacturers of other fishery products thereof, establish the maximum price to be paid those engaged in taking, catching, selling or delivering sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore and striped tuna to canners, packers or preservers of such fish or the manufacturers of other fishery products thereof.

Sec. 3b. The board of fish and game commissioners may, upon the request of two or more canners, packers or preservers of sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna or striped tuna or manufacturers of other fishery products thereof, establish the minimum or maximum wholesale price of all kinds of canned, packed or preserved sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore and striped tuna for human consumption and fishery products thereof sold or offered for sale, shipped or offered for shipment out of the State of California and said prices shall be such as will allow a reasonable compensation or profit to those engaged in the catching or canning, packing or preserving and selling such fish or other manufactured fishery products thereof.

Sec. 4. A written or printed notice of any price established by the board of fish and game commissioners under section three a of this act shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the office of each cannery located in the district effected thereby five days before such price takes effect and will be deemed notice, to all persons catching, taking, selling or delivering such fish, of the price established.

Sec. 4a. A written or printed notice of any price established under section three b of this act must be served on each person, canning, packing or preserving such fish or manufacturer of other fishery products thereof five days before such price takes effect.

Sec. 4b. A written or printed notice of any price established by the board of fish and game commissioners under section three b shall be mailed to each wholesale dealer or broker at the address given in his license and such notice so mailed will be deemed notice to such wholesale dealers or brokers of such price.

Sec. 4c. Every canner, packer or preserver of fish or manufacturer of other fishery products and every wholesale dealer or broker shall, when a sale is made, make out an invoice showing the buyer or consignee, his address, the kind quantity and net price of any canned, packed or preserved fish, and no discount, rebate, bonus or other consideration, other than that appearing on the invoice, shall be given any buyer or consignee. A copy of such invoice shall be kept by the seller.

Sec. 4d. Any person engaged in the canning, packing or preserving of sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna or manufacturing of fishery products thereof, or any broker or wholesale dealer who ships out of this state on consignment or on any other understanding or condition any canned, packed or preserved sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna or other fishery products thereof and accepts or receives for the same a price less than the minimum price thereof established will be deemed to have sold and offered for sale shipped and offered for shipment such goods in this state.

Sec. 4e. Two or more persons engaged in the business of canning, packing or preserving of sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna for human consumption or manufacturers of other fishery products thereof may organize or cooperate as selling agents or may appoint a selling agent as a more economical means of distributing such products.

Sec. 5. Every wholesale dealer in, or broker, except a canner, packer or preserver of canned, packed or preserved sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna or other manufactured fishery products thereof shall pay an annual license fee of five dollars ($5.00).

Sec. 6. The controller of the state shall prepare suitable licenses, designated by the fish and game commissioners, which shall license the holder of such license to sell wholesale, canned, packed or preserved sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna or other fishery products thereof (subject to the laws of this state and the rules of the board of fish and game commissioners) for the term of one year from the first day of July, of one year, to the thirtieth day of June of the year following. All licenses shall be numbered consecutively beginning with number one and contain blanks for the insertion of the name of the holder, his place of business, which information shall be furnished by applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license before delivery to the applicant, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners.

SEC. 7. Every person engaged in the canning, packing, or preserving of sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna for human consumption or manufacturer of fishery products thereof shall keep a book or books in which shall be entered a full and correct record in the English language, the daily receipt of such fish, the daily pack in cans and cases, the amount of any other fishery products thereof, the net price received per case for such canned, packed or preserved fish and the net price received for any other fishery products thereof, the name and address of the buyer or consignee and the name and address of the broker or wholesale dealer, and every wholesale dealer or broker shall keep a record in the English language of the net price paid or received for any canned, packed or preserved sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna or other manufactured fishery products, thereof.

SEC. 8. The board of fish and game commissioners or a commissioner or a regularly appointed assistant or a person duly appointed by them may make investigations concerning all matters relating to the provisions of this act. In connection therewith the board of fish and game commissioners or a commissioner or their assistant or the person appointed by them shall have the right to inspect all records referred to in section seven hereof and are hereby empowered to hear complaints, administer oaths, to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, records, documents, testimony in any inquiry, investigation or hearing or proceeding in any part of this state.

SEC. 8a. The superior court in and for the county, or city and county in which any inquiry, investigation or proceeding may be held by the board of fish and game commissioners, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers including books, records and documents as required by any subpoena issued as provided in this act. The court upon petition of the board of fish and game commissioners or their assistant or a person duly appointed by them to take testimony in any investigation under the provisions of this act, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at the time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order and then and there to show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before said board of fish and game commissioners or their assistant or the person appointed by them to take testimony. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before said board of fish and game commissioners, or a commissioner, or their assistant or the person duly appointed to take testimony as provided in this act at a time and place to be fixed in such order and to testify and produce the required books, papers or records and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

SEC. 9. Complaint may be made by any officer charged with the enforcement of the fish and game laws or any person having knowledge of a violation of any of the provisions of this act or violating any of the rules or regulations made by the board of fish and game commissioners under the provisions of this act. Said complaint shall be in writing setting forth the particular offense charged to have been committed, a copy of which shall be filed with the board of fish and game commissioners and a copy served on the offender together with a notice setting forth the time and place of hearing which shall not be less than five days after service of said complaint and notice and said hearing must be held in the county in which said violations is alleged to have been committed.

The person must appear on the date and at the time mentioned in said notice and may make either an oral or written answer thereto.

If the person charged appears or if the person charged fails to appear the board of fish and game commissioners, or a commissioner, or a duly appointed assistant or a person duly appointed by them may proceed to take testimony in support of said charge and on behalf of the accused and submit the same to the board of fish and game commissioners for their decision and if the board of fish and game commissioners find the charges sustained by the evidence they may suspend the license of the offender.

SEC. 9a. Any person engaged in the canning, packing or preserving, buying, selling, shipping or offering for shipment sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore or striped tuna or the manufacture of other fishery products thereof for a period not to exceed ninety days and if said license should expire during said period of suspension no new license shall be issued during such suspension.

SEC. 9b. Any person engaged in the business of catching, taking, buying, selling or delivering of sardines, yellow fin tuna, blue fin tuna, albacore, striped tuna to canners, packers or preservers of such fish or for the manufacture of other fishery products thereof, for a period not to exceed ninety days and if said license should expire during said period no new license shall issue during such period of suspension.

SEC. 10. If any section or subsection, sentence or clause or phrase of this act for any reason is held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that anyone or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional; the objects intended are to standardize and stabilize the canning, packing and preserving of fish for human consumption and the manufacture of other fishery products and to conserve the fisheries of the state.

SEC. 11. Every person who violates section five of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person found guilty of violating section five of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had not less than ten days nor more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment and all fines and forfeitures imposed or collected for any violation of this act and all moneys collected for the sale of licenses hereunder shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 478—An act to amend an act known as the "Water Commission Act" and entitled "An act to regulate the use of water which is subject to such control by the State of California, and in that behalf creating a State Water Commission; specifying and providing for the appointment of the members of said commission; fixing the terms of office and compensation of the members of said commission; fixing the powers, duties and authority of said commission and its members; providing for the filling of vacancies in the membership of said commission; providing for the removal from office of the appointed members of said commission; providing for the cooperation of courts with said commission; providing that certain courts shall take judicial notice of certain acts of the State Water Commission; specifying the duties of all persons summoned as witnesses before said commission or any of its members; appropriating money for carrying out the provisions of this act; providing for the payment of the indebtedness and expenses of said commission, its members and employees; declaring what water is unappropriated; providing for the utilization of water and the works necessary to such utilization to the full capacity of streams or of such portion or portions of such capacity as the public good may require; declaring what water may be appropriated; declaring that the nonapplication for ten consecutive years of any portion of the waters of any stream to lands riparian to such stream shall be conclusive presumption that the use of such nonapplied water is not needed on said riparian lands for a useful or beneficial purpose; declaring that such nonapplied water shall be deemed to be in the use of the State and subject to appropriation; declaring the duties of those who desire to appropriate water; declaring the periods for which water may be appropriated and the conditions under which water may be appropriated; providing for the payment of fees and charges by the applicants for permission to appropriate water and by the appropriators of water; providing for the ascertainment and adjudication of water rights; providing for the bringing of actions by certain persons, or, upon the direction of the State Water Commission, by the Attorney General, for the quieting of title to water rights; specifying certain duties of the claimants, possessors or users of water or water rights; declaring water rights forfeited under certain conditions; regulating the appropriation of water; excepting cities, cities and counties, municipal water districts, irrigation districts and lighting districts from certain provisions of this act; defining certain words and terms used in this act; repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act; declaring how this act shall be known; making legislative declaration concerning those parts of this act which may not be declared unconstitutional." approved June 16, 1913, as amended.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 2, line 1, of the printed bill, strike out all of said line 1, and all the remainder of said bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SECTION 1. Section one of an act known as the 'water commission act' and entitled 'An act to regulate the use of water which is subject to such control by the State of California, and in that behalf creating a state water commission; specifying and providing for the appointment of the members of said commission; fixing the terms of office and compensation of the members of said commission; fixing the powers, duties and authority of said commission and its members; providing for the filling of vacancies in the membership of said commission; providing for the removal from office of the appointed members of said commission; providing for the cooperation of courts with said commission; providing that certain courts shall take judicial notice of certain acts of the state water commission; specifying the duties of all persons summoned as witnesses before said commission or any of its members; appropriating money for carrying out the provisions of this act; providing for the payment of the indebtedness and expenses of said commission, its members and employees; declaring what water is unappropriated; providing for the utilization of water and the works necessary to such utilization to the full capacity of streams or of such portion or portions of such capacity as the public good may require; declaring what water may be appropriated; declaring that the nonapplication for ten consecutive years of any portion of the waters of any stream to lands riparian to such stream shall be conclusive presumption that the use of such nonapplied water is not needed on said riparian lands for a useful or beneficial purpose; declaring that such nonapplied water shall be deemed to be in the use of the state and subject to appropriation; declaring the duties of those who desire to appropriate water; declaring the periods for which water may be appropriated and the conditions under which water may be appropriated; providing for the payment of fees and charges by the applicants for permission to appropriate water and by the appropriators of water; providing for the ascertainment and adjudication of water rights; providing for the bringing of actions by certain persons, or, upon the direction of the state water commission, by the attorney general, for the quieting of title to water rights; specifying certain duties of the claimants, possessors or users of water or water rights; declaring water rights forfeited under certain conditions; regulating the appropriation of water; excepting cities, cities and counties, municipal water districts, irrigation districts and lighting districts from certain provisions of this act; defining certain words and terms used in this act; repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act; declaring how this act shall be known; making legislative declaration concerning those parts of this act which may not be declared unconstitutional," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act a state water commission consisting of five persons is hereby created and established. Two members of said commission shall be, ex officio, the governor of the state and the state engineer, respectively. Three members of said commission, one of whom shall be the executive member and the other two shall be associate members, shall be appointed by the governor for the term of four years; provided, however, that the members first appointed shall be appointed to hold office for the unexpired term of the members in office at the time this amendatory act takes effect. Such appointive commissioners shall be men of practical knowledge or experience in the application and use of waters for irrigation, mining and municipal purposes, and shall be so appointed that at least one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for agricultural purposes, and one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for mining purposes, and one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for municipal purposes. The executive member shall be president of the commission. The executive member of said commission shall receive as compensation for his services the sum of five thousand dollars per annum. Each of the associate members of said commission shall receive as compensation for his services fifteen dollars per day while actually engaged in the duties of his office. All members of the commission shall receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses. No commissioner who is directly or indirectly interested in any matter before the commission shall sit with the commission during the hearing of such matter; nor shall he be detailed by the commission to investigate or report on any such matter; nor shall he take part in any determination of any such matter. But the governor shall have the power and authority, upon request of the commission, to appoint pro tempore some disinterested person to sit and act in the place and stead of such interested commissioner. Such pro tempore commissioner shall have compensation for the time of service equal to the compensation of a commissioner during such service and shall have the power and authority of the same, only in the matter for the investigation and determination of which he shall have been appointed and his connection with the commission shall cease and determine upon the completion of the investigation and determination for which he was appointed. But the commission in whose place and stead he sits shall have power, compensation and authority in all other cases.

It shall be the duty of the executive member of said commission to consider and act upon all applications for permits to appropriate water under the provisions of the water commission act and to do all things required or proper relating to such applications and his acts and orders in such matters shall be deemed the acts and orders of said commission.

SEC. 2. Section six of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. The state water commission shall take, charge and collect the following fees: for copies and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commission, twenty cents for each folio with a minimum fee in any case of one dollar; for certified copies of official documents and orders filed in its office, twenty-five cents for each folio, and one dollar for every certificate under seal affixed thereto; for certified copies of evidence and proceedings before the commission, twenty-five cents for each folio, and one dollar for every certificate under seal affixed thereto. The commission may fix reasonable charges for publications issued under its authority. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each month, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state.

SEC. 3. Section seven of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the state water commission is authorized to pass such necessary rules and regulations as it may from time to time deem advisable, and to appoint and remove at its pleasure a secretary or chief clerk who shall have charge of its books and records and nerform such other duties as from time to time may be prescribed and whose salary shall be fixed by the water commission; and the state water commission may also employ such expert, technical and chemical assistance, and upon such terms, as it may deem proper.

SEC. 4. Section sixteen of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 16. Every application for a permit to appropriate water shall set forth the name and postoffice address of the applicant, the source of water supply, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the location and description of the proposed headworks, ditch, canal and other works, the proposed place of diversion and the place where it is intended to use the water; the time within which it is proposed to begin construction, the time required for completion of the construction, and the time for the complete application of the water to the proposed use. If for agricultural purposes, the application shall, besides the above general requirements, give the legal subdivisions of the land and the acreage to be irrigated, as near as may be; if for power purposes, it shall give, besides the general requirements prescribed above, the nature of the works by means of which the power is to be developed, the head and amount of water to be utilized, and the use to which the power is to be applied. If for storage in a reservoir, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the height of dam, the capacity of reservoir, and the use to be made of the impounded waters, except that for storage underground these additional requirements as to height of dam and capacity of reservoir shall be inapplicable; if for municipal water supply, it shall give, besides the general requirements specified above, the present population to be served, and, as near as may be, the future requirements of the city. If for mining purposes, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the nature and location of the mines to be served and the methods of supplying and utilizing the water. All applications shall be accompanied by as many copies of such maps, drawings, and other data as may be prescribed or required by the state water commission, and such maps, drawings, and other data shall be considered as part of the application.

As soon as practicable after the receipt of an application for a permit to appropriate water the state water commission shall issue a notice of the application in such form as it may prescribe and shall send said notice to the applicant who shall forthwith cause same to be published at his own expense in some newspaper having a general circulation and published within the county wherein the point of diversion or a point of diversion lies, which newspaper shall be selected by the applicant subject to the approval of the state water commission and publication shall be made once a week for four consecutive weeks and proof thereof shall be filed by the applicant in the office of the said commission within thirty days after the last date of publication and shall be by copy of the notice as published attached to and made a part of the affidavit of the publisher or foreman of the newspaper publishing same, showing the publication thereof in accordance with law; provided, however, that notice of an application for three cubic feet per second or less or for two hundred acre feet of storage per annum or less need not be published in a newspaper; in case the state water commission finds that it is practicable to give sufficient notice otherwise and prescribes the manner of giving notice of the application, but said commission need not depart into the practicability of giving notice other than by publication in a newspaper and may require notice by publication in a newspaper in any case whatsoever.

Any person, firm, association, or corporation interested may within thirty days from the date of the last publication of said notice of application, or within sixty days from the date of issuance by the state water commission of said notice of application, in case notice is given otherwise than by publication in a newspaper, file with the state water commission a written protest against the granting of said application, which protest shall set forth with reasonable certainty the grounds of protest and shall be signed by the party protestant, his agent, or attorney.

At any time after notice of an application is given as above provided, if an applicant, permittee or licensee desires to change the point of diversion or place of use from the point of diversion or place of use specified in the application, permit or license, such change may be made only upon the permission of the state water commission; provided, that before granting such permission, such petitioner must establish to the satisfaction of the state water commission, and such commission must so find, that such change in the point of diversion, or place of use, will not operate to the injury of any other appropriator or legal user of such waters before permitting such change in the point of diversion or place of use. After filing a petition for permission to make such a change, the petitioner, in case the commission so requires, shall cause notice thereof to be given or published in such manner as may be prescribed by the commission and if at any time prior to the granting of such permission a protest is filed with the state water commission against allowance of the proposed change in point of diversion, or place of use, the state water commission shall, if in its discretion necessity therefor exists, fix a time and place for the hearing of said petition, and if the objections thereto, and upon such hearing the said commission shall grant or refuse, as the facts shall warrant, such permission to change the point of diversion or place of use.

SEC. 5. Section seventeen of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 17. Any person, firm, association or corporation may apply for and secure from the state water commission, in conformity with this act and in conformity with reasonable rules and regulations adopted from time to time by the state water commission, a permit for any unappropriated water or for water which having been appropriated or used flows back into a stream, lake or other body of water within this state. And any application so made shall give to the applicant a priority of right as of the date of said application to such water or the use thereof until such application shall have been approved or rejected by said commission: provided, that such priority shall continue only so long as the provisions of law and the rules and regulations of the water commission shall be followed by the applicant. Upon the approval of any application by the commission, said approval shall give priority of right as of the date of said application, and shall give the right to take and use the amount of water specified in said approval until the issuance by the state water commission of a license for the use of said amount of water, or until the said commission refuses to issue said license. But the approval of any application shall give the right to take and use water only to the extent and for the purpose allowed in said approval: provided, that any defective application made in a bona fide attempt to conform to the rules and regulations of the state water commission and to the law shall secure to the applicant a priority of right as of the date of said application until he shall have been notified by said commission in what respect his application is defective. And said applicant shall be allowed sixty days after notice of said defect in which to file an amended and perfected application. If, within said sixty days, said applicant shall not file an amended and perfected application, said priority of right shall cease and determine, unless for good cause shown the state water commission shall allow said applicant to file a further amended and perfected application: provided, also, that any priority of right secured under this section shall not be effective for more than thirty days after service of notice of such approval, personally or by registered mail, on the applicant, unless within said period of thirty days the fees due upon issuance of said approval or permit as provided in this act are paid to the state water commission, and unless said payment of fees shall have been made within said time the state water commission shall forthwith revoke said approval or permit and reject said application.

SEC. 6. Section eighteen of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 18. Actual construction work upon any project shall begin within such time after the date of the approval of the application as shall be specified in said approval, which time shall not be less than sixty days from date of said approval, and the construction of the work thereafter and the utilization of water for beneficial purposes shall be prosecuted with due diligence in accordance with this act, the terms of the approved application, and the rules and regulations of said commission: and said work shall be completed and the water applied to beneficial use in accordance with law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the terms of the approved application and within a period specified in the permit: but the period specified in the permit for beginning construction work or the period specified in the permit for completion of construction work or the period specified in the permit for application of the water to beneficial use or any or all of these periods may, for good cause shown, be extended by the state water commission. And if such work be not so commenced, prosecuted and completed, or the water applied to beneficial use as contemplated in the permit, the water commission shall, after notice in writing and mailed in a sealed, postage-prepaid and registered letter addressed to the applicant at the address given in his application for a permit to appropriate water, and a hearing before the commission, revoke its approval of the application. But any applicant, the approval of whose application shall have been thus revoked, shall have the right to bring an action in the superior court of the county in which is situated the point of proposed diversion of the water for a review of the order of the commission revoking said approval of the application. And thirty days after the revocation of said permit all rights of the said permittee under said permit shall cease and lapse, unless said permittee shall within said thirty days after said revocation bring an action in the superior court for a review of the order of revocation. The priority of right of any permittee so bringing an action shall continue under said permit until a final judgment is rendered as to the reasonableness of the revocation of said permit. But until and unless the revocation of the permit shall be finally decreed by such court, the permittee shall not take or use any of the water the right to take and use which is granted by said permit.

SEC. 7. Section nineteen of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 19. Immediately upon completion, in accordance with law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the terms of the permit, of the project years, such unused water shall revert to the public and shall be regarded as unappropriated public water; and whenever it appears to the state water commission that non user has resulted in a partial or total loss of water right under a license issued by said commission, the state water commission may after investigation and hearing either, if it be found that there has been a total loss of the water right, revoke said license or, if it be found that there has been but a partial loss of the water right, enter an order amending said license by reducing the specified amount of use to conformity to the amount of use not forfeited by non user as herein provided. But any user whose license shall have been thus revoked or amended shall have the right to bring an action in the superior court in and for the county wherein the point of diversion or a point of diversion lies for a review of the order revoking or amending said license; provided, said action be brought within thirty days after service of notice, personally or by registered mail, of said order of revocation or amendment. Said court shall review all correspondence, maps, data and other records on file with the water commission which pertain to the investigation or hearing herein provided for or to said order of revocation or amendment, and shall take such additional evidence as it may require or as may be submitted by parties in interest or the state water commission, and shall then render judgment affirming, reversing or modifying the action taken by said commission.

SEC. 9. Section thirty-four of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 34. Should any claimant desire to contest any of the statements and proofs of claims filed with the state water commission by any other claimant to the waters of the stream system, he shall, within fifteen days after the last date of public inspection of evidence as provided for in section thirty-three, or within such further time as for good cause shown may be allowed by the state water commission upon application made prior to the expiration of said fifteen (15) days, in writing, notify the state water commission, stating with reasonable certainty the grounds of the proposed contest, which statement shall be verified by the affidavit of the contestant, his agent or attorney. The statements or proofs of the person whose rights are contested and the verified statement of the contestant shall be deemed sufficient to constitute a proper cause for such contest.

SEC. 10. Section thirty-five of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 35. As soon as practicable after the receipt of the notice of contest the state water commission shall notify by registered mail the contestant and the claimant whose rights are contested to appear before it at a time and place specified in said notice, and that at said time and place said contest will be heard; provided, that said time shall not be less than fifteen (15) days nor more than sixty (60) days from the date of the mailing of the notice by the commission. The state water commission shall have power to adjourn hearings of contests from time to time upon reasonable notice to all parties in interest, and to issue subpoenas for and compel the attendance of witnesses to testify before it and to produce papers, books, maps, and other documents. The costs of taking testimony at a hearing shall be borne by the parties thereto as follows: each party shall pay for the direct examination of his own witness and the cross-examination of opponent's witness and shall share equally for that part of the examination directed by the representative of the commission. One copy of the transcript of testimony taken at the hearing shall be furnished to the commission and the cost thereof borne equally by the parties.

SEC. 11. Section thirty-six of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 36. As soon as practicable after the hearing of contests, it shall be the duty of the state water commission to make, and cause to be entered of record in its office, an order determining and establishing the several rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream; provided, however, that within sixty (60) days after a copy of such order of determination has been mailed to the various interested parties as hereinafter provided in this section, the state water commission may, for good cause shown, reopen the proceedings and grant a rehearing. Such order and determination shall be prepared, and after certification by the State water commission, printed in the state printing office. A copy of said order of determination shall be sent by registered mail to each person who has filed proof of claim, and to each person who has become interested through intervention or as a contestant under the provisions of section eight or section eleven of this act.

SEC. 12. Section thirty-six a of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 36a. As soon as practicable, after the entry of the order of determination, a certified copy thereof, together with the original evidence and transcript of testimony filed with, or taken before the state water commission, as aforesaid, duly certified by it, shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said stream system is situated, or if in more than one county, then with the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein reside the largest number of parties in interest. Upon the filing of the certified copy of said order, evidence, and transcript with the clerk of the court in which the proceedings are to be had, the state water commission shall procure an order from said court setting a time for hearing. The clerk of such court shall immediately furnish the state water commission with a certified copy of said order. It shall be the duty of the state water commission immediately thereupon to mail a copy of such certified order of the court, by registered mail, addressed to each known party in interest at his last known place of residence, and to cause the same to be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which such stream system or any part thereof is located, and the state water commission shall file with the clerk of the court proof of such service by registered mail and by publication. Such service by registered mail and by publication shall be deemed full and sufficient notice to all parties in interest of the date and purpose of such hearing.

SEC. 13. Section thirty-six c of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 36c. For further information on any subject in controversy, the court may employ one or more qualified persons to investigate and report thereon under oath, subject to examination by any party in interest as to his competency to give expert testimony thereon. The court may take additional evidence on any issue and may, if necessary, refer the case for such further evidence to be taken by the state water commission as it may direct, and may require a further determination by it. After the hearing, the court shall enter a decree determining the right of all persons involved in such proceeding. Said decree shall in every case declare as to the water right by appropriation adjudged to each party, the priority, the maximum quantity of water allowed, the purpose of use, the period during which said right may be exercised, the point of diversion, the name of the ditch or conduit through which said water may be diverted, the place of use of said water, and shall declare as to any other matter necessary to definitely describe, locate and determine the water right adjudged; and as to water used for irrigation, such decree shall also declare the specific tracts of land to which it shall be appurtenant, together with such other conditions as may be necessary to define the right and its priority. Upon the hearing the court may assess and adjudge against any party such costs as it may deem just. Appeals from such decree may be taken to the supreme court by the state water commission or any party in interest, in the same manner and with the same effect as in civil cases.

SEC. 14. Section thirty-six d of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 36d. A certified copy of the decree of the superior court shall be prepared by the clerk thereof, without charge, and filed for record in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any part of the stream system is situated and also in the office of the state water commission. It shall be the duty of the state water commission to issue to each claimant represented in such determination a certificate to be signed by the executive member of the state water commission, and attested under seal by the secretary or chief clerk of said commission, setting forth the name and post-office address of the owner of the right; the priority, the maximum quantity of water allowed, the purpose of use, the period during which said right may be exercised, the point of diversion, the name of the ditch or conduit through which said water may be diverted, the place of use of said water, and any other matter necessary to definitely describe, locate and determine the water right adjudged; and, if such water be for irrigation purposes, a description of the legal subdivisions of land to which said water is appurtenant; provided, however, that such certificate shall not be issued to any claimant until all fees and assessments to be collected from such claimant under the provisions of section 32 of this act, shall have been paid by such claimant.

SEC. 15. Section thirty-seven of said act, approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 37. The state water commission shall have authority to make and enforce reasonable regulations to secure the distribution of water in accordance with the terms and conditions of permits and licenses issued by it and to supervise the distribution of water under such permits and licenses and regulations and in accordance with the priorities established under this act; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to contravene the authority vested in the judiciary of this state.

The state water commission shall divide the state into water districts to be so constituted and adjusted as to insure the most practical and economical supervision of the distribution of water on the part of the State, and shall have authority to make such reasonable regulations to secure distribution of water in accordance with the determined rights as may be needed. Said water districts shall be created from time to time as the claims to water shall be determined by adjudication of court either under the procedure provided for in the water commission act, or otherwise, and thereafter changed from time to time as convenience of administration may require.

SEC. 16. Section thirty-seven c of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 37c. The owner of any conduit subject to regulation by a water master as provided by section thirty-seven a of this act shall construct and maintain to the satisfaction of the state water commission a substantial and serviceable headgate or diversion works, at or near the point where the water is diverted, which shall be of such construction that it can be locked and kept closed by the water masters and such owners shall construct and maintain, when required by the state water commission, suitable measuring devices at such points along such ditch as may be necessary for the purpose of assisting the water master in determining the amount of water that is to be diverted into said conduit from the stream. Any and every owner or manager of a reservoir located across or upon the bed of a natural stream or of a reservoir which requires the use of a natural stream channel, subject to regulation by a water master as provided by section thirty-seven a of this act shall construct and maintain, when required by the state water commission, a measuring device of a plan to be approved by the state water commission, below such reservoir, and, also, shall construct and maintain, when required to do so by the state water commission, a measuring device of a plan to be approved by said commission, above such reservoir on each or every stream or source of supply discharging into such reservoir, for the purpose of assisting the state water commission or water master in determining the amount of water to which appropriators are entitled and thereafter diverting it for such appropriator's use. If any such owner or owners of water works shall refuse or neglect to construct and put in such headgate or measuring devices after thirty days notice, the water master may close such ditch, and the same shall not be opened or any water diverted from the source of supply, under the penalties prescribed by law for the opening of headgates lawfully closed until the requirements of the state water commission as to such headgates or measuring device have been complied with, and if any owner or manager of a reservoir located across the bed of a natural stream, or of a reservoir which requires the use of a natural stream channel, shall neglect or refuse to put in such measuring devices after thirty days notice by the state water commission, the water master may open the sluice gate or outlet of such reservoir and the same shall not be closed, except by order of the state water commission, under the penalties of the law for changing or interfering with headgates, until the requirements of the state water commission as to such measuring devices are complied with."

Amendment adopted.

During the second reading of the bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, lines 1 and 2, of the title of the printed bill, strike out the whole hereof and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"An act to amend section ten of an act entitled "Act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds, approved April 7, 1911, as amended."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, lines 1 and 2, of the printed bill, strike out the whole thereof and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SECTION 1. Section ten of an act entitled "Act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds, approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 2, line 7, of the printed bill, after the word "may" insert the following: "elect to do the work as hereinafter provided or".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

On page 2 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 26 to 47, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"If the bids are rejected, after such rejection, or if no bids are received, the city council may declare and determine that in its opinion the work in question may be performed more economically by day labor, or the materials or supplies furnished at a lower price in the open market, and after the adoption of a resolution to this effect may proceed to have the same done in the manner stated without further observations of the foregoing provisions of this section, and without executing any bond whatsoever, or advancing any incidental expenses. The city council where election has been made that the city perform the work, shall provide from the general funds of the city all necessary funds for the doing of the work. In case such election has been made, all other provisions of this act shall apply with equal force and effect, and wherever herein reference shall be made to the contractor, such reference shall apply to the city. If the city council shall have determined that serial bonds shall be issued as provided in part three, such bonds may be issued and received by the city to represent the assessments as therein provided, and the city may at any time thereafter sell such bonds, or any portion thereof, at not less than the market value thereof."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

In line 2 of the title of the printed bill strike out the word "nine".

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all of page 3 of the printed bill after line 20, and all of pages 4, 5, 6 and 7, and in lieu thereof insert the following:

"Sec. 3. Section nine of said act approved May 27, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. Application for license as real estate broker shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, which application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of the county in which such applicant resides or has his place of business, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation, and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. If the applicant shall have resided, or shall have engaged in business for less than one year in the county from which the application is made, the same shall also be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of each of the counties where he has formerly resided or engaged in business during said period of one year prior to the filing of said application, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. Where the applicant for a real estate broker's license maintains more than one place of business within the state he shall be required to apply for and procure a duplicate license for each branch office so maintained by him. Such duplicate license shall be issued without additional charge. Every such application shall state the name of the person, copartnership or corporation, and the location of the place or places of business for which such license is desired.

Application for license as real estate salesman shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, signed by the applicant, setting forth the period of time during which he has been engaged in the business, stating the name of his last employer and the name and place of business of the person, copartnership or corporation then employing him, or in whose employ he is to enter. The application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of his employer, if employed, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation, and recommending that the license be granted to the applicant.

The real estate commissioner may require such other proof as he may deem advisable of the honesty, truthfulness and good reputation of any applicant for a license, or of the officers of any corporation, or of the members of any copartnership making such application before authorizing the issuance of a license. In addition to proof of honesty, truthfulness and good reputation, the real estate commissioner may also require proof that the applicant has a fair knowledge of the English language, including reading, writing, spelling, elementary arithmetic, a fair understanding of the rudimentary principles of real estate conveyancing, the general purposes and general legal effect of deeds, mortgages, land contracts of sale, and leases, and a general and fair understanding of the obligations between principal and agent as well as of the provisions of the California real estate act.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to said act approved May 27, 1919, as amended, to be numbered nine a and to read as follows:

SEC. 9*a*. All applicants for broker's license shall, in addition to such recommendations, file with the said real estate commissioner a satisfactory bond to the people of the State of California, duly executed by a sufficient surety, or sureties, to be approved by said commissioner, in the amount of two thousand dollars conditioned for the faithful performance by such broker of any undertaking as a licensed real estate broker under this act. Any person injured by the failure of a real estate broker to perform his duties, or comply with the provisions of this act, shall have the right in his own name to commence such an action against said real estate broker and his sureties for the recovery of any damage sustained by the failure or omission of said real estate broker to perform his duties or either of them, or to comply with the provisions of this act or any of them. It shall be the duty of the real estate commissioner to see that such bond remains and is kept good.

SEC. 5. Section eleven a of said act approved May 27, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11*a*. Each individual, firm or corporation licensed as a broker under the provisions of this act shall erect and maintain a sign in a conspicuous place on the premises to indicate that he or it is a licensed real estate broker and the name of said individual, firm or corporation shall be clearly shown thereon. The size of such sign shall conform to regulations that may be adopted by the real estate commissioner.

SEC. 6. Section twelve of said act approved May 27, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 12. The real estate commissioner may upon his own motion, and shall upon the verified complaint in writing of any person, investigate the actions of any person, copartnership or corporation engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of a real estate broker, or a real estate salesman, within this state, and shall have the power to temporarily suspend or permanently revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this act, at any time where the holder thereof in performing, or attempting to perform any of the acts mentioned herein is guilty of—

- (1) Making any substantial misrepresentation, or
- (2) Making any false promises of a character likely to influence, persuade or induce, or

(3) A continued and flagrant course of misrepresentation or making of false promises through agents or salesmen, or

(4) Acting for more than one party in a transaction without the knowledge or consent of all parties thereto, or

(5) Any other conduct, whether of the same or a different character than hereinabove specified, which constitutes dishonest dealing.

Before denying, suspending or revoking any license the said commissioner shall notify, in writing, the applicant or holder of such license of the charges against him and afford an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel in reference thereto. The decision of the said commissioner in denying, suspending or revoking any license under this act shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of chapter one of title one of part three of the Code of Civil Procedure; and any party aggrieved by such decision of the commissioner may within ten days from the date of said decision appeal therefrom to the superior court of the State of California, in and for the county in which the person affected by such decision resides or has his place of business under the terms of this act, by serving upon the commissioner a notice of such appeal and a demand in writing for a certified transcript of all the papers on file in his office affecting or relating to such decision and all the evidence taken on the hearing and paying ten cents for each folio of the transcript and one dollar for the certification thereof. Thereupon the commissioner shall, within thirty days, make and certify such transcript, and the appellant shall, within five days after receiving the same, file the same and the notice of appeal with the clerk of said court. Upon the hearing of such appeal, the burden of proof shall lie upon the appellant, and the court shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary, concerning the action of the commissioner from which the appeal is taken, but shall be limited to a consideration and determination of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in making such decision. In suspending or revoking any license the decision of the commissioner shall not take effect until ten days after its date. In the event of said appeal from said decision to the superior court of the State of California, the decision of the commissioner shall remain in effect pending the determination of such appeal, unless the party appealing and aggrieved by such decision of the commissioner shall file with the judge of the superior court a bond in a sum to be fixed by said court, which bond shall be in favor of the people of the State of California and be conditioned upon the faithful performance of all the obligations of such appellant or aggrieved person as a real estate broker. Said bond shall be for the benefit of any person having real estate dealings with such appellant or aggrieved person, and any such person so dealing with the same shall have the right to commence a suit thereon in his own name against said broker and his sureties.

SEC. 7. Section nineteen of said act approved May 27, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 19. For a violation of any of the provisions of sections eleven, eleven a, fourteen and eighteen of this act the real estate commissioner may temporarily suspend or permanently revoke the license of such holder in accordance with the proceedings set forth in section twelve of this act.

Sec. 8. Section twenty a of said act approved May 27, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 20*a*. The state real estate commissioner, upon his own initiative may investigate, or upon written application of the owner of any agricultural lands being offered for sale, or proposed to be offered for sale, for colonization purposes or for farm acreage subdivision or for rural settlement, shall investigate said colonization or farm acreage subdivision or rural settlement, enterprise and shall make a public report thereon, and, in his discretion, shall issue a certificate of approval thereof. The application of the owner shall contain such information as shall be required by the commissioner; and, from time to time after the issuance of said certificate, the owner shall furnish to the commissioner any other information concerning the project which the commissioner may require. The certificate of approval may be qualified or unqualified and shall be revocable at any time and its terms may be changed from time to time. Among other things which said commissioner may deem appropriate the certificate shall state the name and location of the project; the names of the owner and sales agents; whether or not the project in whole or in part is irrigable or depends upon irrigation; the source or sources of water and the nature and condition of water rights; the total area of the project and the unit size of parcels for sale; the proposed average selling price per acre; the terms of sale; the amount of any outstanding liens or bonded debts which affect the project; the proven and the probable adaptabilities of the soil of the projects, and the character of the soils thereof; available transportation facilities, and roads and community improvements; drainage conditions and systems; the condition of title to the lands of the project; and the methods of sale being used or proposed to be used in effecting the sale thereof. The public report of said commissioner on any project shall contain as nearly as possible all the information required to be inserted in said certificate of approval. The real estate commissioner shall be empowered to prepare a questionnaire and to employ such expert and technical assistants as may be necessary to a proper examination of the projects submitted, the cost of such examinations to be borne by the applicants on the basis of actual cost to the department.

Sec. 9. Section twenty b of said act approved May 27, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 20*b*. Every officer, agent or employee of any company and every other person who knowingly authorizes, directs or aids in the publication, advertisement, distribution or circularization of any false written statement or representation concerning any land or subdivision thereof offered for sale, and every person who, with knowledge that any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus or letter concerning any said land or subdivision contains any written statement that is false or fraudulent, issues, circulates, publishes or distributes the same, or shall cause the same to be issued, circulated, published or distributed, or who, in any other respect, wilfully violates or fails to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or who in any other respect wilfully violates or fails, omits or neglects to obey, observe or comply with any order, permit, decision, demand or requirement of the commissioner in this act, is guilty of a public offense, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison or the county jail for a term not to exceed two years, or by a fine of not to exceed two thousand dollars. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in this state to prosecute all violations of the provisions of this section and of this act in the respective counties in which said violations occur, such prosecutions to be instituted, however, only upon the written request or demand of the real estate commissioner."

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 1 of the printed bill, after the period at the end of line 5, insert the following: "The governor shall appoint three competent registered pharmacists, who have been actually engaged in the practice of their profession for not less than five years immediately preceding their appointment, to serve as a board of pharmacy. The members of the board shall, within thirty days after their appointment, individually take and subscribe before the county clerk of the county in which they individually reside, an oath faithfully and impartially to discharge the duties prescribed by this act. They shall hold office for the term of four years and until their successors are appointed and have qualified. In case of a vacancy in the board of pharmacy, the governor shall fill the same by appointing a member to serve for the remainder of the term only. The office of the board shall be located in San Francisco. The board shall organize by electing a president, secretary and treasurer. The secretary may or may not be a member of the board as the board in its sound discretion may determine. The secretary and treasurer shall each give a satisfactory bond running to the board of pharmacy in a sum of not less than two thousand dollars, and such greater sum as the board may from time to time require for the faithful discharge of their respective duties.

SEC. 2. Section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Two members of the board shall constitute a quorum. They shall hold a meeting at least once in every four months.

Subdivision 1. The state board of pharmacy shall have power:

(a) To make such by-laws and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of this state, as may be necessary for the protection of the public, appertaining to the practice of pharmacy and the lawful performance of its duties.

(b) To regulate the practice of pharmacy.

(c) To regulate the sale of poisons.

(d) To regulate the quality of all pharmaceutical preparations and medicines dispensed or sold, in this state, using the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary, as the standard.

(e) To investigate all complaints as to the quality and strength of all pharmaceutical preparations and medicines, and to take such action as may be necessary to prevent the sale of such as do not conform to the standard and tests prescribed in the latest edition of the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary.

(f) To employ inspectors of pharmacy and to inspect during business hours all pharmacies, dispensaries, stores, or places, in which drugs, medicines and poisons are compounded, dispensed or retailed, and to cause the prosecution of all persons whenever there appears to the board to be reasonable ground for such action.

(g) To examine and register as pharmacists and assistant pharmacists all applicants whom it shall deem qualified to be such. All persons applying for registration, under this act, shall pay the following fees therefor to the secretary of the board of pharmacy: Every applicant for registration, other than that of an apprentice, shall pay a fee of ten dollars on filing his or her application, which shall be compensation to the board of pharmacy for investigation or examination of the applicant; and if the board finds that any applicant for registration on experience and credentials is entitled to be registered, then he or she shall pay an additional fee of fifteen dollars upon the issuance of certificate of such registration; and any licensee found by the board on examination to be entitled to a certificate shall pay the additional sum of five dollars upon the issuance of certificate; all applicants for examination as assistant, if found satisfactory by the board, shall be entitled to their certificate without further fee; and provided further, that an applicant for registration on experience and credentials may at his or her option be examined as a licensee without further fee or application.

(h) In the event any person having registered shall have lost his or her certificate, or the same has been destroyed, or if he or she desires the renewal of the same, a new certificate may be issued by said board upon the applicant paying therefor the sum of three dollars; provided, further, that where the original certificate is not lost or destroyed, then the certificate shall be surrendered before a renewal of same shall be issued; and provided, further, that the board shall have power to require satisfactory evidence from the applicant of the loss or destruction of the certificate; and provided, further, that where the applicant is delinquent for the annual dues required by this act then he or she shall be required to pay to said board sufficient fees to cover his delinquency in that behalf he or she shall be entitled to a reissue of the certificate in this subdivision provided for.

(i) To provide by proper rules and regulations for the revocation by said board of licenses issued under the provisions of this act, whenever the holder of such license shall be guilty of habitual intemperance or addicted to the use of narcotic drugs, or shall have been convicted of a felony.

Subdivision 2. It shall be the duty of the State board of pharmacy :

(a) To make arrangements, with analogous boards of the several states and territories whereby interchange for state and territorial licenses will be allowed in the State of California to such licentiate of said boards as desire to secure licenses to engage in the practice of pharmacy in this state and whereby licentiates of the board of examiners in pharmacy in the State of California will secure interchange for licenses issued by said board whenever such licentiates desire to secure licenses to engage in the practice of pharmacy in any such state or territory."

Amendment adopted.
